NEWSPAPER DIVISION

Today

Hoover to Workmen.
The Common Billion.
Be Polite to Ouafi.
Two Short Speeches.

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1928, by Star Co.

HERBERT HOOVER, beginning his campaign in the East, outlining his views on labor, tells the workers that their continued prosperity depends on this election.

What labor asks, Mr. Hoover plans to give, and he has a definite plan.

Today's newspapers tell the country of Governor Smith's definite plans for farmers.

For labor, Herbert Hoover proposes restricted immigration, expansion of foreign trade, increased national efficiency, organization of credit, free collective bargaining between capital and labor, restricted use of injunctions in labor disputes, public works to assure employment in times of idleness, scientific study of idleness problem.

Herbert Hoover reminded his hearers that when Republicans came back to power in 1921, there were from "5,000,000 to 6,000,000 unemployed in our streets, at the same time wages and salaries were falling."

He also mentioned the fact that within a year after the Republicans got in, 5,000,000 workers that had been idle were put to work.

Governor Smith, of course, will reply to all this.

The word "billion" once whispered low, in awe, becomes part of advertising. The Continental National Bank & Trust Company, of Chicago, advertises in big letters "What Chicago's billion dollar bank will mean to its customers."

One billion dollars is the amount that Bismarck made the French pay after the war of 1870, considering five thousand million francs as much as the French could pay.

France offered national securities to the French people, that German invaders might leave French soil, and Frenchmen subscribed the five billion francs, 14 times over.

We are getting used to the billion: with billion dollar banks, billion-dollar corporations, two or three of them at least, and a number of billionaires, although they modestly don't brag about it.

When will the TRILLION and the trillionaire appear?

Mr. Ouafi, French Arab who beat all runners of the world in the Olympic marathon, is here.

Nature, producing him, seems to have had a greyhound in mind. His legs are almost as thin as a greyhound's, and, quite tall, he weighs only 124 pounds.

Ouafi is a citizen of the French Republic, and, although many sporting Americans that see him run will not know it, his ancestors of ancient Arabia are ancestors to whom our civilization and its science owe a great deal.

Those old Arabs were learned in science, mathematics and many lines when our ancestors of England were hiding in swamps and our ancestors in Ireland were running over hills and bogs not much dressed, their great king putting aside his cloak of raw bull hide in the presence of a French visitor, revealing a king with nothing on him.

Many words that we use every day, sofa, alcohol, many terms in chemistry, come from the Arabic.

"Friends of the radio, this is Thomas A. Edison speaking."

Thus the great American inventor began a brief talk opening New York's Radio Exposition.

At the same opening Henry Ford, speaking for the first time on the radio, said of Edison: "He has done more through his inventions for humanity than any other human being. He is recognized as the father and founder of the present industrial age. All that we have done has been made possible by his inventions for the use of power."

The world will wait a long time before hearing two shorter or more interesting radio talks.

Raymond S. Blunt, of Chicago, is called the human time clock. He remembers where he was, what happened every hour, every minute of the last 10 years. In four months of this year, for instance, he spent 968 hours in sleep, 60 hours in church, 363 hours at meals, 48 hours on pleasure, etc.

That's interesting, but keeping track of time, hours and minutes is not as important as putting something into the hours and minutes. For instance, the minute in which Thomas A. Edison decided that two messages, as well as one, might be sent over the same wire at the same time, was more important to the world than all the well-regulated hours in the lives of 10,000 other men.

G.O.P. FEARS GOODWIN BOLT

SPORTING CLOSING STOCKS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

VOL. 25—No. 152 Published Daily by New England Newspaper Publishing Co., 5 Winthrop Square BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1928 Entered as second class mail matter at Boston, Mass., under the act of March 3, 1879 2 CENTS WITHIN 150 MILES OF BOSTON. ELSEWHERE 3 CENTS

THE Peach

ROMA HOPS, RETURNS

WEATHER—Rain; cooler; northeast to north gales.

SHOTS FIRED IN MILL STRIKE

Tail of Hurricane Sweeping on N. E.

POLICE SHOOT TO QUELL STRIKERS; 15 ARRESTED IN NEW BEDFORD CLASH

New Bedford, Sept. 19—For the first time since the textile strike started 24 weeks ago, police fired shots into the air today while dispersing a crowd of 1000 strikers and sympathizers led by so-called radicals. Fifteen arrests were made.

The police resorted to their revolvers after four officers were injured when struck over their heads by umbrellas wielded by the strikers.

The clash occurred when the radicals led a parade from the Pase Mill towards their headquarters on South Third st., in the South End of the city. The head of the line was within a few blocks of the radicals' headquarters when a squad of police appeared and ordered the crowd to disperse.

Their commands met with defiance and the officers then began to place leaders under arrest. Among them was Angelo Pinto, taken into custody for the 15th time, who had just returned to this city from Maine where he recuperated from rough handling of the police the last time he was arrested.

The crowd struggled with the officers, many of them striking at the police with umbrellas, until finally several shots in the air sent the demonstrators scurrying to safety.

ROMA IS NEAR CRASH ON FALSE START FOR ITALY

Old Orchard Beach, Sept. 19—The speedplane Roma nearly crashed into the ocean six miles off shore today when motor trouble developed at the start of her 4500 mile flight to Rome.

The plane took off from the beach at 1249 (D. S. T.) this afternoon and 21 minutes later was back on the sands after her crew of four had "dumped" 600 gallons of gasoline when the failing engine carried her close to the sea.

Pilot Roger Q. Williams at the controls sought a landing place on Cow Island and Pine Point Island off this shore when the motor began to backfire and finding none, ordered Piero Bonnello to open the dump-valve on the ship's main tanks.

The gasoline fell in a silver cascade as the Roma with but an altitude of a few hundred feet staggered shorewards and reached the beach where several hundred persons exactly 21 minutes previously had bade her God-speed at the start of the flight.

PLANE NEAR CRASH

First indication to those on shore that the Roma was encountering difficulties came when a series of backfire explosions mingled with the motor roar borne shoreward on the northeast breeze. Black smoke was seen to issue from the exhaust, the ship lost altitude and banked for a turn inland.

Only Williams' skillful handling of the controls saved the start of Pilot Piero Bonnello to open the dump-valve on the ship's main tanks.

Please Turn to Page 2, Column 1.

M'CORMACK HEARS GOOD NEWS

—Boston Evening American Staff Photo

Attorney John W. McCormack and Mrs. McCormack as the news came over the phone that he was the winner of the Democratic congressional nomination in the 12th District, where nomination is equivalent to election.

ATTITUDE OF GOODWIN TOWARD G. O. P. TICKET IS PUZZLE TO LEADERS

By BERNARD J. DOHERTY

A veiled threat to bolt the Republican party by Frank A. Goodwin unless reforms he stands for are put into execution, today caused consternation among G. O. P. leaders at Beacon Hill.

The tremendous showing of Goodwin against the well-oiled machinery of the party nominee, Lieut.-Gov. Frank G. Allen, coupled with a post-primary message issued today by the former registrar, in some quarters has produced a feeling akin almost to panic.

A responsible official on Beacon Hill today [illegible] a portion of Goodwin's message, [illegible] a speech, a speech of victory for the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, [illegible] that Democratic [illegible] former Mayor as street commissioner.

It was pointed out that should the breach fail to be healed, and the Goodwin wing fail to be recog-

Please Turn to Page 9 Column 1.

How State's Voters Cast Their Ballots

These are the results in the principal fights (1564 precincts out of 1604) waged in the primaries:

GOVERNOR (Rep.)
Frank G. Allen, 261,146.
Frank A. Goodwin, 164,538.

GOVERNOR (Dem.)
Gen. Charles H. Cole, 165,762.
John J. Cummings, 39,187.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR (Rep.)
William S. Youngman, 109,055.
John C. Hull, 89,529.
Robert M. Leach, 64,733.
John H. Sherburne, 61,866.
Pehr G. Holmes, 52,612.
Charles L. Burrill, 25,383.
George A. Bacon, 23,799.
Wycliffe G. Marshall, 4465.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR (Dem.)
John F. Malley, 114,382.
Charles S. Murphy, 72,896.

Please Turn to Page 9, Column 6.

Smith Is Seeking 82 Electoral Votes in Western Tour

Charles N. Wheeler, noted political analyst, in his review today of the presidential campaign, tells how Governor Smith seeks 82 votes in his invasion of the corn and wheat belt.

(SEE STORY ON PAGE 10)

M'CORMACK 'ELECTED' TO GALLIVAN'S SEAT

John W. McCormack, attorney and former State Senator, takes the place of the late "Jimmy" Gallivan in Congress.

Because the Democratic nomination in the Twelfth District is equivalent to election, Mr. McCormack may fairly be described as the only candidate actually "elected" in yesterday's primaries.

The Twelfth District contest was a "double," in that nominations were made for both a long and a short term, the latter covering the

Please Turn to Page 9, Column 5.

TO QUIZ SISTER OF BOY IN "DEATH FARM" CASE

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 19 (AP)—Jessie Clarke of Saskatoon, sister of Sanford Clarke, 13-year-old boy whose revelations to Los Angeles police led to murder complaints by Riverside county authorities against Gordon Stuart Northcott, has been located here by provincial police. She is to be questioned as to her knowledge of conditions at the "murder farm."

STORM HEADS FOR HUB; 400 DEAD IN FLORIDA

Washington, Sept. 19 (INS)—The storm's toll in Palm Beach County today was 400 dead, 15,000 homeless, 8000 without change of clothing and $30,000,000 property damage, according to a telegram to the Red Cross from H. W. Selby, chairman of the Palm Beach Chapter. The western half of the county faces "serious sanitary conditions," the message said.

Sweeping from the south with a trail of death and destruction in its wake, the Florida hurricane was headed for

Please Turn to Page 6, Column 1.

STOCKS HEAVY IN CLOSING PERIOD

Stocks in Wall St. were rather heavy in the closing period today. U. S. Steel sold down to 156 5-8 after selling at 158 3-8. Gen. American Tank was up $7.50 at $93.50. Case Threshing at 367 was off 9 Curtiss sagged 4 3-4 its day's best.

FLORIDA FRUIT CROP DAMAGED $4,000,000

Washington, Sept. 19. (I.N.S.)—Florida's citrus fruit crop suffered a loss of approximately $4,000,000 in the hurricane, the agriculture department estimated today. The crop was reduced by about 2,000,000 boxes, worth $2 a box on the trees.

TUFTS STUDENT GONE; HAD $100 IN POCKET

With $100 in his pocket, Ismet Kahalan, 22, of Fabyan st., Mattapan, third-year student at Tufts Medical school, has vanished, police were informed today by his parents.

The student was last seen at 1 p. m. yesterday at the school. He did not return home nor did he sleep in the dormitories.

Yesterday, Kahalan left his home with $100 to pay a tuition fee of that amount. He paid $100, however, and then left the bursar's office.

Later in the day he was seen by several students, but the last seen of him was at 4 p. m., when he was talking to a fellow student named Miller.

Kahalan is six feet tall, weighs 175 pounds, is of dark complexion and wore a dark soft hat and black shoes.

TIRES and Accessories

The varied selection of tires, accessories, good used cars and trucks advertised for sale by reliable dealers in the

Boston Evening American

will meet all requirements of prospective buyers of tires, accessories, used cars and trucks. You'll find real bargains in Today's Boston Evening American

Classified Columns
Largest Evening Circulation in New England

NEW ENGLAND COKE is the IDEAL FUEL

Order your supply NOW at the present price 12.50 PER TON

Neighborhood Offices

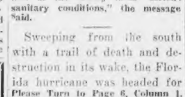
BROOKLINE 1361 Beacon St.
BROOKLINE VILLAGE 5 Harvard St.
DORCHESTER 857 Wash. St.
ROXBURY 11 Roxbury St.
CHELSEA 309 Broadway
JAMAICA PLAIN 675 Center St.
SO. BOSTON 399 Broadway
BOSTON 202 Hanover St.

NEW ENGLAND COKE
250 STUART ST.
Phone HUBbard 4670-8400

After all, there is only one BROCKTON FAIR
October 1·2·3·4·5·6
DAY and NIGHT

Advertising Solicitor

A genuine opportunity on New England's largest newspaper in a special type of work for an advertising solicitor with intensive selling experience. Applicants must have a record of results. Address, giving references, etc.
H-497
Boston Evening American

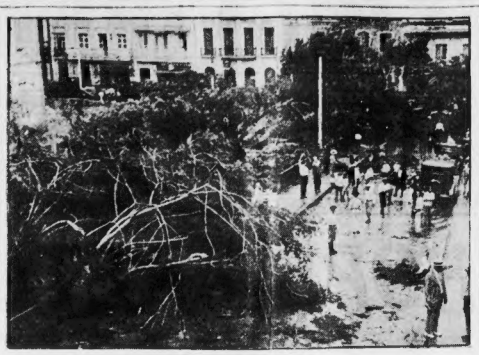


PORTLAND $2
By Observation Motor Coaches
Finest Coaches on the road
Leave Park Sq. Consol. Coach Terminal 7:45, 11:30 A. M.; 1:30, 5:15 P. M. (standard Time).
RAILROAD RESPONSIBILITY
Boston & Maine Transportation Co.

EVENING SCHOOL of LAW
NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY
STUDENTS NOW ENROLLING FOR FALL TERM
BOSTON Y. M. C. A., 312 HUNTINGTON AVE
Telephone Kenmore 5300

Ruins Strew Streets Of San Juan, Porto Rico, In Hurricane Wake

REMOVING DEBRIS AT CAPITAL
Thousands of homeless natives flock to San Juan in search of shelter and food after the terrific storm had swept the island and roared out to sea.



SAN JUAN'S MAIN PLAZA AFTER STORM
Giant trees were uprooted by the terrific blasts and hurled to the walks, where they now lie, as seen in the picture. Work of removal has begun.

—Fox News from Acme.

MATERIAL FROM WRECKED BUILDING
Hundreds of houses were unroofed, and many blown down altogether in the outlying native districts. Boards and tree branches clutter the streets.

ROMA HOPS OFF ON OCEAN FLIGHT, THEN RETURNS

Continued from First Page.

the flight from becoming its tragic finish, crew members declared.

After landing an inspection of the motor revealed that the air intake on the carburetor was broken and bent. The intake had been pronounced perfect on inspection prior to the takeoff and the fliers believed the wheel of the plane had picked up a stone and thrown it against the mechanism.

Another opinion was that the backfiring itself caused the intake to burst and that was the cause of the backfiring in the motor.

Sabelli ordered another 1050 gallons of gasoline to be made ready and mechanics went to work upon the motor in the hope that it could be prepared in time for another start today.

PLAN NEW ATTEMPT

The Roma made a perfect takeoff from the hard-packed sands after a half-mile run into a quartering wind. She took the air easily as the crowd cheered, made a quarter turn to the east and headed directly across the Atlantic on a course due to take her over Spain, to Rome and perhaps to Greece.

The fact that they might keep on to Greece was announced by Sabelli shortly before the start. He estimated that he had 800 gallons of fuel more than would be required to take them to Rome. If they were over Rome, flying strong with that fuel to burn, they would continue to Greece, he said.

Dr. Pisculli, medical observer of the flight, said: "We will try it again just as soon as possible."

KING ALFONSO OF SPAIN CALLS ON KING CHRISTIAN

Copenhagen, Sept. 19 (AP)—King Alfonso of Spain dropped in for a friendly call today on King Christian of Denmark at the Skaw, or Skagen Cape. He disembarked from the Spanish cruiser Principe Alfonso which was taking him from Sweden to Scotland.

Crown Prince Frederick and Prince Knud assisted their father in receiving the visiting monarch, Frederick driving the motor in which the two sovereigns proceeded to Klitgaarden. After a brief stay there Alfonso rejoined the cruiser which sailed for Scotland.

Quincy Girl Tells of Storm Horror

The spectacle of more than a score of nuns attached to the Notre Dame Convent, in Porto Rico, working knee deep in water to administer aid to the sufferers of that storm-swept island, was vividly described by Miss Estelle Rice, of 228 Norfolk st., Quincy.

Miss Rice is back at her Quincy home, today, after a 10-day cruise to Porto Rico on board the S.S. San Lorenzo, which was forced to remain inside of the Porto Rico harbor during the hurricane.

In relating her experience as an observer of the storm, Miss Rice described it as something that was beautiful to watch, and yet terribly devastating in its results.

RAIN TERRIFIC

"I never saw so much rain come down out of the heavens at one time. It seemed as though someone had opened a gigantic valve and that tons and tons of water had been let loose all at once. It rained so hard that it was practically impossible to see more than 20 feet away.

"I was asleep in my berth when the storm first broke. I was aroused by the falling of a giant skylight atop one of the dock buildings, which had been lifted from its position as though it were a cardboard box.

"I immediately dressed and tried to go out on deck but the wind had attained such a velocity that it was impossible to even open the door and get out on deck. Perhaps if it had opened I would have been swept overboard and into the water.

LASTED 22 HOURS

"We were forced to remain inside all through the storm which I think lasted about 22 hours. All during that time our boat was tied up to the dock and held secure with 22 heavy cable hausers, one of which snapped and swished through the air making a noise like that of an approaching fire truck.

"When the storm abated we were allowed to go up on the shore and into Porto Rico. I shall never forget the sight there.

"This first place we came upon was a group of wrecked houses. I was told it was the poorer section of the city and that the wrecked homes were made of light material and thatched roofs which of course made them easy prey for the terrible wind.

"While going through this section I found more than 20 nuns at the Notre Dame Convent going about the streets with water up to their knees giving aid to those who had been injured or had become ill.

"When I went up to the convent building I discovered that these nuns had already set up an emergency hospital to care for the sufferers and were also preparing food for those who had sought shelter during the gale.

"Even inside the building the water was more than a foot deep, and while some of the nuns were busy preparing the food and fixing up the beds in the emergency hospital others were armed with brooms and were sweeping the water out into the streets.

PRAISES NUNS

"I cannot praise too highly the work that these women accomplished in so short a time when I think of the conditions under which they labored.

"When I arrived in the business sections I found that even the larger and more substantial buildings had not escaped. Of course the damage was not so great but the Condada Vanderbilt hotel, the finest on the island, was without a window. Iron gratings on these windows were twisted as though they were made of chicken wire.

"A moving picture theater was totally destroyed and even while I was walking along the street I saw the French Radio tower fall to the ground.

"The damage on the waterfront will be extremely heavy. While I stood in my cabin looking through the window I could see great pieces of heavy corrugated iron, part of roofing, torn off and hurled through the air like so much wrapping paper.

"The American Red Cross has aided greatly in relieve the suffering, and when we left we understood that relief ships were on the way to give aid."

Miss Rice is a secretary employed in the office of C. D. Parker, Boston insurance brokers.

Game as in '61, Weary Vets Totter on Parade

Denver, Sept. 19 (AP)—The Northern Army of the Civil War formed ranks once again today as 1000 aged warriors, the remaining fraction of the army that was, prepared to march in the parade that opens the 1928 national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Many touching scenes have marked organization of the parade, when only a lone veteran or two, or perhaps none at all responded for the mustering of famous companies, battalions, brigades and regiments of the War of Secession.

After a day spent in careful inspection of the uniforms they wore from 1861 to 1865, the army's remnant awaited roll call and the order that will send them swinging, 90 steps to the minute, down the now short line of march past the reviewing stand of Dabridge L. Hawk, Sacramento, Cal., the commander-in-chief.

The annual march has developed into a contest against time for the old soldiers, all just under or over the four score mark in years. Pride in flaunting the years that have passed over them since they responded to President Lincoln's call to arms holds many a leg-weary veteran in line.

Pathetic incidents, increasing in number in recent years, crop out in the line of march as an overtaxed body rebels and a tottering, white haired veteran is led from the file to a place in the automobiles that follow the marchers. The incident is passed over quickly, however, with the file closing up and the march continued.

The first business session of the encampment had been called for this afternoon.

A medal, typifying the esteem of his comrades yesterday was presented to the retiring commander, Hawk.

WINIFRED ROCKEFELLER TO WED YALE INSTRUCTOR

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Avery Rockefeller of Greenwich, Ct., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Winifred Rockefeller to Mr. Brooks Emery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick James Emery of Salem, O.

Miss Rockefeller attended Westover School and is a member of the Junior League. Mr. Emery is an instructor in government and international relations at Yale University.

Must Be Tall to Teach in N. Y.

New York, Sept. 19—Little girls are now barred as public school teachers. Applicants must be at least five feet tall. Those under that height are presumed to lack commanding personality.

BYRD AND HIS PET DOG

—International Newsreel Photo

GOING TO POLE TOGETHER
Comdr. Byrd and his favorite husky Chanute, who will accompany him on his Antarctic expedition.

GANNA BACK 'TO STAY'; KISSES M'CORMICK

New York, Sept. 19 (INS)—Madame Ganna Walska, the opera singer, has returned to the United States after an absence of four years, announcing that she is "here to stay" and that she positively is not going to divorce her husband, Harold F. McCormick, the Chicago millionaire. Moreover, she plans a busy career, either on the operatic stage, in the movies or in the perfumery business.

"I haven't definitely made up my mind as yet just what I'll do," she said today. "All I know is that I am back in my adopted country for good. And I'm so happy to be back!"

Madame Walska was radiant in a red and orange striped sweater and a blue leather coat with white fox collar when she tripped down the gangplank of the liner Paris and into the waiting arms of McCormick. They kissed and seemed very affectionate toward each other.

Madame Walska was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Baroness Alexandris Fredericks.

Returning on the same liner was Miss Mabel Boll, the so-called "Queen of Diamonds," who went abroad hoping to return by airplane with Charles Levine. Their plane was damaged in an accident and the project fell through, much to the disappointment of Miss Boll.

DEADLOCK IN RAIL DISPUTE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Sept. 19 (AP)—Representatives of 55 western railroads and 70,000 trainmen and conductors now look to President Coolidge to expedite a settlement of wage differences between them.

The federal board of mediation, which has been attempting to reconcile opposing demands of the unions and railway officials for the past week, have announced that no adjustment of wages and the working rule has been reached.

If President Coolidge should intervene and appoint a fact-finding commission, under the railway labor act, the special board would have 30 days to investigate and report. If such a report were made, the unions would be compelled to wait another 30 days before acting. If the Presidents should decide to refrain from taking a hand, the unions might act at once.

Increased wage demands varying from 11 to 15 per cent were made by the unions, while the roads were willing to allow increases of 7½ per cent.

LOVE FOR FATHERLAND URGED BY HINDENBURG

Breslau, Germany, Sept. 19 (AP)—"Steel your bodies and never forget your love for any your duty to the fatherland," was the parting counsel which President von Hindenburg today gave to thousands of youngsters who had performed a musical drill and naive dance before him in the great exhibition hall of this city.

Roma Can Float For Hours If Gas Is Dumped

The Roma is a sesquiplane—half monoplane, half biplane—a huge upper wing with a very short lower wing.

The motor is a Pratt-Whitney "Hornet" of 350 horsepower.

The Roma has no pontoons for landing at sea, but if forced down might float for hours if her crew had time to dump the heavy fuel load before she struck the water.

She is equipped with radio broadcasting apparatus and will send messages at 45-minute intervals.

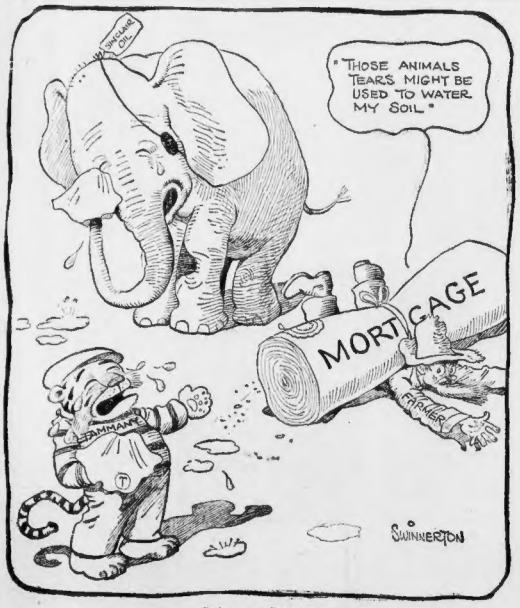
The course she plans to fly lies due east 3000 miles over water to Spain and 1500 miles over Europe to Rome.

WOMAN, 100, REGRETS BEING UNABLE TO VOTE

Lying in her sick bed in her home at 61 Green st., Lynn, Mrs. Harriet L. Hodges received many floral tributes and messages from friends in honor of her 100th anniversary. Her only sorrow, she says, was that sickness kept her away from the polls.

Mrs. Hodges was born in Pawtucket, and is the widow of William Hodges, whom she married in 1850. She has been a resident of Fall River and New Bedford, and moved to Lynn in 1921.

A Use for Tammany Tiger's Tears



Swinnerton Cartoon No. 21

The farmer can work in the heat and the rain
He can mortgage his last quarter section
And Congress regards him with haughty disdain
Except just before the election

But they both of them gaze at his troubles aghast
For it won't be long now till election.

And even the Tammany Tiger sheds tears
When he looks in the farmer's direction
For it's hungry for office and thirsty for beers,
And we're getting dorned close to election.

Neither Hoover nor Smith in the days of the past
For the farmer showed any affection

LYNN PISTOL PERMITS MUST BE O. K.'D BY MAYOR

Mayor Ralph S. Bauer of Lynn announced today that all new pistol carrying permits issued by Chief of Police Thomas M. Burkes must be countersigned by the mayor, with an increase in the fee from $1 to $5. The mayor's action is believed to result from the fact that a Chinese arrested in a Boston rail accident was found to have a pistol permit issued in Lynn. The first customer under the new scale of prices for a permit was Constable Eben Sears.

Lord Melchett Sails for U. S.

Southampton, Eng., Sept. 19 (AP)—Lord Melchett, the former Sir Alfred Mond, leader in Great Britain's "peace and industry" movement, sailed on the steamer Homeric today on a business trip to the United States and Canada. He will lecture at Harvard on industrial co-operation.

COM. HULTMAN PRAISES HUB FIRE DEPARTMENT

Co-operation in a fire department is as necessary as it an army in active service, Fire Commissioner C. C. Hultman told the annual convention of the Massachusetts State Firemen's Association in an address today.

Commissioner Hultman praised the membership of the Boston fire department, declaring the men showed little lack of co-operation, but, on the contrary, seemed to desire to give their best at all times.

BELIEVE MAN HELD IN SUBWAY WRECK INNOCENT

New York, Sept. 19—As a result of testimony that the probability that the switch whose operation caused the Times square subway wreck, August 24, was thrown by someone else, and not William S. Baldwin, now held under $10,000 on a homicide charge, court was adjourned here while two men in the signal tower on the fatal night are further questioned.

Gilbert C. Whitney, transit commission signal engineer, who made a thorough inspection two hours after the wreck, testified that it was extremely doubtful that Baldwin could have thrown the switch.

Other witnesses were Thomas Manley, a train clerk, and John Moore, a switchman in charge of "zep trains" moving over the line during the afternoon rush hours. Both testified that they saw the switch "moving back and forth" shortly before the accident.

NOVENA TO HONOR THE LITTLE FLOWER

The feast of the Little Flower, St. Therese of the Child Jesus for the Universal church will be celebrated Wednesday, October 3. To prepare for this feast, a Novena to the Little Flower of Jesus will begin in the Church of St. Ignatius, Chestnut Hill Tuesday, September 25, and end Wednesday, October 3. The Novena prayers will be said daily at the 7 o'clock mass in the morning.

The evening services at 8 o'clock will consist of the Novena prayers, sermon, a special blessing with the relic of the Little Flower and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The Rev. William M. Stinson, S. J., librarian of Boston College, will conduct the services of the Novena.

NEW HEAD OF HOOVER PROSPERITY LEAGUE

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP)—Republican headquarters today announced that J. Robert Brundage, vice-president of the White & Wyckoff Manufacturing Company and president of the New York Sales Managers Club, had accepted the post of treasurer of the Hoover-Curtis Salesmen's Prosperity League, left vacant by the death of Charles W. Hoyt of New York city. The league was organized last week and Mr. Hoyt died suddenly on Sunday.

Honorary vice-presidents in various states include Harry A. Way of the Porter Screen Company, Burlington, Vt., and T. A. Alexander, president Emery Waterhouse Company, Portland, Me.

UNCONSCIOUS MAN IS VICTIM OF POISON

An unconscious man about 50 years of age was found by Patrolman Mundy of the Brighton police station lying on the playground at Beacon st. and Chestnut Hill ave., with an empty iodine bottle at his side. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where he was still unconscious early today, suffering from iodine poisoning.

The man was described as being 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing 180 pounds and wearing a gray suit.

Richard Healy Dead

Worcester, Sept. 19 (AP)—Richard Healy, 85, a pioneer Worcester business man, and trustee of several banking institutions, is dead.

HARVARD SHIP HITS SUNKEN DERELICT

Providence, R. I., Sept. 19 (AP)—The schooner Ariel of the Austin Labrador expedition, returning from a scientific research cruise along the Labrador coast, was forced to seek protection behind Point Judith breakwater, following an accident to her propeller, sustained in a collision with a sunken derelict during a thick gale. She is on her way to New Rochelle, N. Y.

The Ariel left Labrador in August, after completing a research survey for the museum of comparative zoology of Harvard University. The expedition made a complete survey of bird life on the coast of Labrador.

HOLLYWOOD ESCAPADE GETS PRINCE GEORGE 30 DAYS

Gay Times With Film Beauties ∽ Worth Confinement ∽ Grins Unrepentant 'Windsor'

FIRST CIRCE TO TEMPT HIM

Lily Damita was the first of the Hollywood sirens to tempt Prince George of England into going AWOL for two days in the film colony, for which he is now paying by confinement to quarters for 30 days on H. M. S. Durban, sailing southward from Santa Barbara on a tour of the world.

BILLY TO BLAME, TOO

When the Prince danced with Billy Dove once, he vowed he was getting the greatest terpsichorean thrill of his life and any resolution to return to his ship went aglimmering. And there were a score more in Hollywood who were as fair as Billy.

—International Newsreel Photos.

ANOTHER AWOL ALIBI

June Collyer was the next to dance with "Mr. George Windsor," whereupon that gay young gentleman's memory of lack of official leave was completely swept away. The prince boldly posed for this photo on the first day of his escapade.

OUR MARY IN IT

It was Mary Pickford's invitation to dinner at her home that prompted "Mr. Windsor" to walk again surreptitiously down the gangplank. After the dinner there were more dances with Lily, Billy and June. And so the evening of the second day passed without a care on the young man's mind.

BUT NOT LEAST

The fair Lily phoned Gloria Swanson of her "triumph." Gloria invited the Prince to her home, and they danced out the second day.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1928

PARTY WORTH CONFINEMENT; PRINCE GRINS

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 18—Hollywood just has heard that Prince George, now at sea in his royal Britannic father's ship, the Durban, has been confined to quarters for 30 days as a result of two play-days in Hollywood last week.

Tidings o fthe prince's discipline stirred expressions of sympathy among his new found girl friends, June Collyer, Gloria Swanson, Billie Dove and others, who remember His Royal Highness as an A No. 1 dancer.

Lili Damita, who was the original siren whose invitation, tendered at Monterey dance some weeks ago brought the prince to Hollywood, is so sorry she has sent him a cablegram of sympathy addressed to the Durban, at sea.

"WORTH IT," HE SAYS

According to Lilili, the last message she got from Prince George Barbara, just about the time the prince's ship put out.

The message told of the confinement given the royal hookey player, but Prince George evidently did not take it too much to heart.

"The fun I had in Hollywood was worth it," he said.

When the princely youth arrived in Hollywood, supposedly incognito, last Friday, to become Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbank's guest at dinner Miss Damita's name was not on the original lists of guests. Friends of the prince, it is said, remedied the omission.

ALL NIGHT PARTY.

Miss Damita phoned Gloria Swanson, who invited the merry party to stop in at her home.

From Gloria's, it was on to the Plantation Cafe, Lili suggesting every now and then that His Royal Highness might like to dance with one of the other girls also.

When the Plantation proprietor, Fatty Arbuckle, finally decided he just had to close the doors for the night, or rather for the morning, the prince's party gathered up the cafe musicians and adjourned to Gloria Swanson's.

SPA GIRL TO MARRY

Pretty Ida May Turell, of Cambridge, Thompson's Spa girl, married Reginald E. Atkinson last night.

RUNAWAYS IN CRASH WITH AUTOS

Through Otis st., across Franklin and into Devonshire st., endangering the lives of scores of men and women in the heart of the downtown business district, a pair of runaway horses bolted today, dragging behind them a heavy express wagon.

Nor did their runaway careers end until they were thrown to the pavement after crashing into three automobiles parked along the Devonshire st. curb.

Frank Cesombi, driver of the wagon, which is the property of the Boston & Springfield Despatch Co., was in the freight office in Otis st. when the horses bolted.

As pedestrians scattered, the horses plunged through a break in Franklin st. traffic and entered one-way Devonshire st. at the wrong end, bowling a swiftly running line of one-way traffic.

Drivers of motor vehicles hastily swerved out of their path and the horses, slowing at the advancing machines, swung toward the curb. They first struck the car of George Beatty, Prospect st., Waltham.

From Beaty's car they careened against one owned by Arthur B. Chesley of 45 Milk st. and then struck a third. The impact of the third crash threw them to the pavement.

Devonshire st. traffic was tied up a half-hour while the fallen horses were released from their harness and brought to their feet.

ASSASSIN OF OBREGON IS DECLARED SANE

Mexico City, Sept. 19 (AP)—An announcement was made today that a committee of alienists appointed by the Mexican courts to examine Jose de Leon Toral, assassin of President-elect Obregon, has completed their report stating that Toral is not mentally deranged and has possession of his faculties.

DRINKING IN HIS WORDS

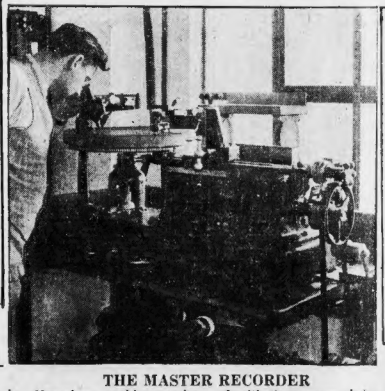
OLD WOMAN HEARS HOOVER

Showing Hoover speaking at Trenton, N. J., just before his return to Washington, and seated near him an old woman with mouth wide open listening intently and cheering his speech. —International Newsreel Photo.

HOW TALKIES ARE MADE

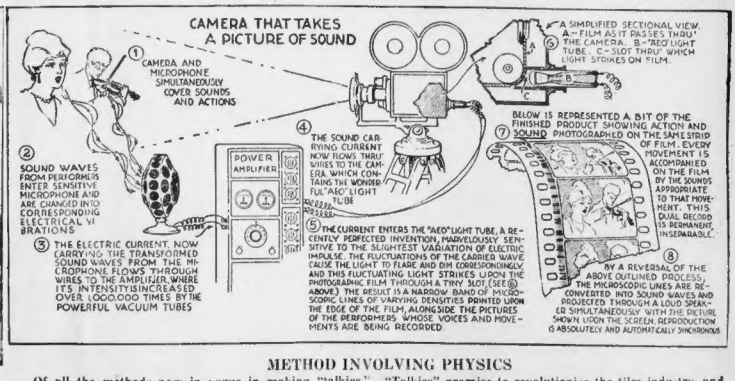
MANUFACTURING "TALKIES"

Talking films are made with a director as quiet as though he wore a Maxim silencer, the camera grinding in a sound-proof chamber and complex instruments of science picking up the voices of the actors and translating them into either light waves or disc records. —International Newsreel Photo



THE MASTER RECORDER

Marvelous machine synchronzed with the camera photographs the voice of the player at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. The voice passes through the magnetic recorder and cuts record on metal disc. From this others are made for use in the theaters.



CAMERA THAT TAKES A PICTURE OF SOUND
1 CAMERA AND MICROPHONE SIMULTANEOUSLY COVER SOUNDS AND ACTIONS
2 SOUND WAVES FROM PERFORMERS ENTER SENSITIVE MICROPHONE AND ARE CHANGED INTO CORRESPONDING ELECTRICAL VIBRATIONS
3 THE ELECTRIC CURRENT, NOW CARRYING THE TRANSFORMED SOUND WAVES FROM THE MICROPHONE, FLOWS THROUGH WIRES TO THE AMPLIFIER, WHERE ITS INTENSITY IS INCREASED OVER 1,000,000 TIMES BY THE POWERFUL VACUUM TUBES
POWER AMPLIFIER
4 THE SOUND CARRYING CURRENT NOW FLOWS THRU WIRES TO THE CAMERA, WHICH CONTAINS THE WONDER "FLAMING" LIGHT TUBE
5 THE CURRENT ENTERS THE "ARC" LIGHT TUBE, A RECENTLY PERFECTED INVENTION, MARVELOUSLY SENSITIVE TO THE SLIGHTEST VARIATION OF ELECTRIC IMPULSE. THE FLUCTUATIONS OF THE CARRIER WAVE CAUSE THE LIGHT TO FLARE AND DIM CORRESPONDINGLY, AND THIS FLUCTUATING LIGHT STRIKES UPON THE PHOTOGRAPHIC FILM THROUGH A TINY SLOT. (SEE 6 ABOVE.) THE RESULT IS A NARROW BAND OF MICROSCOPIC LINES OF VARYING DENSITIES PRINTED UPON THE EDGE OF THE FILM, ALONGSIDE THE PICTURES OF THE PERFORMERS WHOSE VOICES AND MOVEMENTS ARE BEING RECORDED
6 A SIMPLIFIED SECTIONAL VIEW. A—FILM AS IT PASSES THRU THE CAMERA. B—"ARC" LIGHT TUBE. C—SLOT THRU' WHICH LIGHT STRIKES ON FILM.
7 BELOW IS REPRESENTED A BIT OF THE FINISHED PRODUCT SHOWING ACTION AND SOUND PHOTOGRAPHED ON THE SAME STRIP OF FILM. EVERY MOVEMENT IS ACCOMPANIED ON THE FILM BY THE SOUNDS APPROPRIATE TO THAT MOVEMENT. THIS DUAL RECORD IS PERMANENT, INSEPARABLE.
8 BY A REVERSAL OF THE ABOVE OUTLINED PROCESS, THE MICROSCOPIC LINES ARE RECONVERTED INTO SOUND WAVES AND PROJECTED THROUGH A LOUD SPEAKER SIMULTANEOUSLY WITH THE PICTURE SHOWN UPON THE SCREEN. REPRODUCTION IS ABSOLUTELY AND AUTOMATICALLY SYNCHRONOUS

METHOD INVOLVING PHYSICS

Of all the methods now in vogue in making "talkies," perhaps the most amazing is the one by which the sound is actually photographed on the film. This involves a principle of physics which provides that sound waves may be converted into light rays. Light rays are transferred to the film and then reconverted into sound at the theater. "Talkies" promise to revolutionize the film industry, and they are expected to attract scores of actors and actresses from the stage who, hitherto, have scorned parts in the movies. At the same time scores of players who have been successful in the silent dramas are busy practicing for voice tests.

KIDNAPED BOY FREE; 'WANTS TO SEE MA'

Chicago, Sept. 3 (AP)—A little boy with a black eye wandered into a Joliet, Ill., filling station and the 13-day search for the kidnaped Billy Gafford was ended.

It was a very calm youngster who said to the station attendant, George Matz: "I want to go home. I've been kidnaped."

He was calm, particularly in view of the fact that his disappearance, the demand for $6,000 ransom for his return and a sequence of threatening letters to his parents had narrated with dread the Sicilian community of Chicago in which he lived.

To Sid, who is 10 years old, was unhurt except for the eye discoloration caused, he said, by a blow from one of the kidnapers' fists. He told a connected story of imprisonment on a farm and had a good word to say for the man and woman who were his jailers.

His principal point, which he repeatedly emphasized during the hours of questioning by sheriff Metcalf, was that he wanted to go home "and see my mama."

"They hit me over the head in the eye when they dragged me into their car," Billy said, reciting the details of the kidnaping September 5. "They kept telling me to shut up, and when I hollered, anyway, they hit me."

The boy said he was taken by his two abductors to a farm house. He didn't know exactly where it was.

The boy's rescue came after police had announced that their investigation was drawing a close not about the extortionists. Deputy Commissioner Stege declared last night that he believed the boy would be set free within a few hours.

Billy said that the same two men who had kidnaped him as he was starting home from school two weeks ago turned him loose last night. They put him in an automobile and drove for half an hour, he said. They stopped and one of the men gave me a $10 bill.

Drops Dead After He Casts Ballot in Sturbridge

Sturbridge, Sept. 19—Brainard White, 70 years old, for 38 years selectman and assessor here, dropped dead immediately after casting his ballot in town hall. He had just dropped a Republican ballot in the box when he collapsed.

69 MILES AN HOUR MADE BY ZEPPELIN

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND.

Friedrichshafen, Sept. 19—Germany added new laurels to her achievements in the air with the maiden flight of the new passenger and mail super-air liner, Count Zeppelin, the largest airship in the world. A three-hour and fifteen minutes flight demonstrated that its dirigibles of the great Zeppelin type, as well as in commercial airplanes, Germany holds the world's blue ribbon.

Commodore Eckener beamed when he stepped out of the control cabin as the gigantic airship landed light as a feather just after darkness fell last night.

"The ship has more than fulfilled expectations," he said. "In some 2500 flights I have made with airships I have not taken so quiet and vibrationless a ship into the air."

Commander C. E. Rosenfahl of our Los Angeles had the unusual distinction of being, not only the only foreigner, but also the only person not directly connected with the staff of the Zeppelin works on board the ship.

At what Dr. Eckener called low speed, with the motors giving 1300 revolutions, the Count Zeppelin made 69 miles per hour.

The Count Zeppelin will make a cruise over southern Germany late today and tonight, using only benzine for fuel, it was announced at the Zeppelin works.

Ambassador Puzzled by Rancher's Unique Riding Garb Gift

Mexico City, Sept. 19—Ambassador Morrow is in a quandary here trying to make up his mind whether to insult the good intentions of an American rancher or step out on the streets dolled up like an Indian war chief.

The ambassador has received a little gift from the rancher in the form of gorgeous riding togs, consisting of skin-tight pants, a bolero jacket with fancy embroidery, silver spurs and a saddle trimmed with silver.

BODIES IN AUTO SOLVE DISAPPEARANCE MYSTERY

Los Angeles, Sept. 19 (AP)—With discovery of two bodies in a wrecked automobile in a deep canyon south of Sendburg, Cal., the sheriff's office announced the belief that the mystery of the disappearance of Albert La Huis, wealthy Zeeland, Mich., retired banker, and his wife had been cleared up.

The wrecked auto was registered in the name of Mrs. Evelyn D. Walter of La Jolla, wife of F. J. Walter, oil promoter, in whose company Mr. and Mrs. La Huis last were seen.

VICTIMS SWEPT AWAY ON WILD INLAND SEA

By CARTER BROOKS JONES
International News Correspondent

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 13—It was a little truck farming town called Belle Glade—a village of 600, an oasis in the desert of the Everglades toward Palm Beach. Fifty miles to the west stretched prosperous farms, for the damp, black soil of the Everglades is fertile.

The hurricane struck Sunday night. It swept the village houses and the farm buildings out of its path.

West Palm Beach and the other coastal towns had suffered in like measure but an added horror was reserved for this truck farming region. In the wake of the mowing winds came walls of water, compounded of the lashed Atlantic tide and the driven water of Lake Okeechobee.

The dreary waters of the Everglades became a surging inland sea. The flood sucked hungrily at the houses of Belle Glade and the adjacent farms.

CHAOS WITH NIGHTFALL.

It added its choking horror to that other emissary of ruin, the wind. Water rose in the crumbling houses. Men clutched their women and children, only to have them torn away. Nightfall came—a black chaos.

Today Belle Glade was quiet, orderly. Soldiers stood guard. Red Cross men and volunteer workers from the American Legion busied themselves at assigned tasks without confusion. The sun struggled out of pale clouds.

Peace had replaced wild confusion; but it was the peace of desolation. The nearby farms looked like relics of some half-forgotten epoch. No one smiled, but no one wept or complained.

BODIES IN MARSHLANDS.

Two trucks struggled over the flooded highway from West Palm Beach. They turned through the muck and unloaded bread, milk, medicines.

Over in a corner of the ruined village other men were hammering and sawing. These were putting together crude little boxes. Other men were out in boats on the canal, with its unnatural expanse. Now and then they returned with limp forms, to be placed in the boxes, nailed down and lifted on a truck.

With the routine of loggers snaking out drift logs, the searchers hooked into their boats these dripping figures and brought them ashore. On and on came the bodies—ten, twenty, thirty.

How many more? No one could say. A truck loaded, started away. Another truck began unloading. Bread for the living, boxes for the dead.

Firemen Dare Death 37 Stories Above Street

New York, Sept. 19 (AP)—Thousands of office workers, hidden beneath umbrellas, hurried past the 45-story Transportation Building, Broadway and Barclay st. today, so intent on reaching their desks after battling wind and rain that they missed one of those exhibitions of daring courage for which the city's firemen are famed.

From the thirty-seventh floor of the gaunt skyscraper a scaffold, blown loose by the gale, was swinging back and forth, threatening with each blow to shatter itself against the wall and shower its timbers to the sidewalk. Two building employes tried to haul it into an office, but the job was too much for them. Somebody sent for hook and ladder number ten.

Whirling up in an elevator, three firemen peeled off their coats, climbed onto the window ledge and stepped upon the dizzily swaying platform. With their weight to steady it, comrades in the office drew the heavy planks indoors.

Calls Hurricane Worse Than Disaster of 1926

New York, Sept. 19 (AP)—The present disaster in Florida is as bad, if not worse, than the storm of 1926, according to a wire received today by the National Association of Credit men from its Miami manager, Frank G. Hathaway, who is making a credit survey of the stricken area.

Noble Back on Duty

Rome, Sept. 19 (AP)—Umberto Nobile, who was on leave from the army for the Polar expedition which ended so disastrously off Spitzbergen on May 25, was recalled to active service today.

OPEN COCOANUT GROVE, BIGGER THAN EVER

After weeks of extensive alterations, the new Cocoanut Grove on Piedmont st. will formally open tomorrow night.

The Grove now is much enlarged, affording greatly increased dance area. Many improvements have been made for the presentation of entertainment, as well as in the kitchen and serving quarters. Mickey Alpert will resume as master of ceremonies, presenting various professional entertainment.

Heading the list of professionals tomorrow will be Rita Bell, who has long been a popular favorite at the smart clubs. Another headliner will be Betsy Reese, who comes here after a 24 weeks' engagement at the Club Richman. Worth and Pendleton, ballroom and adaggio dancers, and Eddie Randall, of musical comedy fame, and two others, will also be present.

Mickey Alpert

Filene's Automatic Bargain BASEMENT

The irregulars and discontinued lines of these famous brands are sold exclusively in Filene's Basement in Boston

Because mostly sizes 8½ or 9—limited lots of sizes 9½ to 10—

READY THURSDAY WHEN THE DOORS OPEN at 9—thousands of pairs women's full fashioned FAMOUS BRAND SILK stockings original prices were $1.45 to $2.25 but all discontinued—some irregulars

FIRST QUALITY

Nearly all the Gotham Gold Stripe stockings are first quality—sizes 8½ or 9—some to 10—close out by makers at great price reductions.

65c

IRREGULARS

Consist of miss&eaves, shading, pulled places, and scarcely noticeable mends.

GOTHAM GOLD STRIPE REG. U.S. PAT. OFF. GARTERPROOF HOSIERY

Nearly all first quality on which first prices would be $1.75 to $2 gold stripe at knee prevents garter runs; 18 to 24 inches of silk regularly priced	our price THURSDAY

silk chiffon with 4-inch lisle top and feet	$1.75	65c
heavy silk—lisle top and feet (size 8½ or 9 only)	$1.85	65c
heavy silk—lisle top and feet (outsize)	$2	65c

Sizes 8½ or 9—some to 10 in lot

Onyx Pointex

irregulars of famous ONYX POINTEX hosiery; if first quality price would be $1.65 or $1.85 chiffon or medium weight with 4 to 5 inch cotton tops and feet (size 8½ to 9½ only) 65c other famous brands (names we can't mention), some irregulars—if first quality prices would be $1.45 to $2.25 medium or chiffon weight with 6 to 8½-inch cotton tops and feet, 65c medium weight, 4-inch cotton tops and feet, 65c ingrain chiffon with pointed heels, lisle-lined feet and welt (black only), 65c medium weight, with 8 to 10-inch cotton tops and feet, 65c

Sizes 8½ to 10 in one brand or another

COLORS

alesan	tansan
atmosphere	algeria
beige	cinnamon
black	evenglow
blue fox	misty grain	morn
gray	seasan
French nude	cannon gun metal	blush
merida	manon
rose taupe	kasha
sandal	beige
dark gray	medium
tawny	gray
honey	piping
beige	rock
nude	rose shadow	beige

Not all sizes in all colors

also lot of irregulars of famous "Bemberg" full fashioned stockings, sizes 8½ to 10, at 65c.

OUR PLAN

(Originated by Filene's)

First prices must be low or we lose through automatic reductions 25% after 17 selling days, 50% after 18 selling days, 75% after 24 selling days. Goods unsold after 30 selling days given away to charitable institutions.

Odd lots from five different makers

THURSDAY

big lot HANDBAGS

genuine leather, imitation leather, novelty grain effects, moire, imitation suedes, etc.

77c

Styles and colors galore including envelopes, pouches, top straps, back straps, O'Rossens, bull clasps, novelty ornament clasps, etc.

Novelty leather pouch bag 77c

HUNDREDS OF OTHER BARGAIN LOTS NOT ADVERTISED—NO MAIL ORDERS

OLD GOLD wins at the opera . . . . when charming Lucrezia Bori makes the Blindfold cigarette test

"When anything happens to my throat and I cannot sing, it seems to me as though the world stops!

"So you can imagine that I choose my cigarettes quite carefully and that I welcomed the opportunity to make this scientific test.

"It was most interesting, for one of the four cigarettes was so smooth and gentle . . . and yet of such fine flavor . . . that I chose it at once. It was an OLD GOLD."

Lucrezia Bori

Miss Bori was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, clearing her taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked . . . "Which one do you like best?"

As Miss Bori appears in the role of Melisande in Maeterlinck's beautiful opera—"Pelleas and Melisande."

Lucrezia Bori . . . The world's greatest lyric soprano . . . whose successes at the Metropolitan in "Pelleas and Melisande," "Paglicci," "Traviata," "Romeo and Juliet," and as Mimi in "La Boheme," have been internationally admired.

© P. Lorillard Co., Est. 1760

Made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant

The simple secret of OLD GOLD'S charm

Three types of leaves grow on the tobacco plant . . . coarse, heavy top-leaves, irritating to the throat . . . withered ground-leaves, without taste or aroma . . . and the heart-leaves, rich in cool and fragrant smoking qualities. These golden-ripe heart-leaves give OLD GOLDS their honey-like smoothness. That's why you can always pick them—even in the dark.

SMOOTHER AND BETTER—"NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD"

PROGRESSIVES LOSE CONTROL IN WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., Sept. 19.—The La Follette progressives, for eight years in control of the state Republican machinery, today found themselves ousted, and the conservatives back in the saddle.

The state central committee at its sessions here have a majority of conservatives in its ranks.

Despite this fact, however, the progressives gained a point of victory by seating Lieut.-Gov. Henry Huber of Stoughton, a progressive, to preside over the sessions. Another progressive, Speaker John W. Eker of the assembly, was named secretary.

The possibility that Walter J. Kohler, conservative candidate for governor, might obtain favorable action by the state platform convention appeared when his faction gained a majority of one on the resolutions committee.

Such action has not been assured, however, as the progressives indicated that they would attempt to have the minority report on the committee pushed through on the floor.

A car needs a home. Move you a garage for rent! Tell about it and give location in the Want Rent Ads. That's the way to fill it.

TRUST PLOT TO OUST PUBLIC-OWNED PLANTS

By M. L. RAMSAY

Washington, Sept. 19—A power trust plot to drive city-owned electric plants out of business by cutting off their supplies of current, or boosting the prices charged them at wholesale, was revealed before the Federal Trade Commission yesterday.

A written record of orders to apply this treatment to Sea Isle City, N. J., was given by C. H. Howell, Atlantic City Electric Company official and president of the New Jersey Electric association.

Howell wrote the letter telling of these orders. It was addressed to George N. Tidd of New York city, president of the American Gas & Electric Co. It referred to those municipal plants which buy current from private companies for distribution, at variable prices, instead of generating it.

He refused to admit the letter meant that prices paid by Sea Isle City for current were to be kept high.

"It could be interpreted to mean that," was as far as he would go, under sharp cross-examination by Judge Robert E. Healy, commission chief counsel. Howell's only explanation was that he had made, in the letter, "an awkward statement."

In the teeth of the commission's investigation, the New Jersey Utilities association appropriated $1000 last March to have utility propaganda booklets placed in the hands of every high school senior in the State, Howell's testimony disclosed.

Howell told utility corporation executives, in a blanket appeal for more funds, that the investigation made propaganda more than ever necessary.

Engagement of King Boris and Giovanna Again Rumored

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 19 (AP)—Rumors were revived here today that on Nov. 10, the 10th anniversary of the accession to the throne of King Boris, the youthful successor's engagement to Princess Giovanna of Italy will be formally announced.

Neither palace officials nor the foreign office will confirm or deny the reports. At the King's desire all discussion of the question of his marriage is strictly forbidden

Betrothal of the third daughter of the King of Italy to King Boris has been rumored frequently for two years.

CONSERVATIVES GET COMMITTEE CONTROL

Madison, Wis., Sept. 19—Control of the Republican State central committee by conservatives was assured as the result of district caucuses for the platform committee which gave followers of Walter J. Kohler, Republican nominee for governor, a majority. The conservatives, it develops, also, will control the resolutions committee.

COOLIDGES TO START HOME TONIGHT

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP)—Accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge and Atty.-Gen. Sargent, President Coolidge will leave Washington tonight for a two-day trip to his native state of Vermont, during which he will inspect the state's recovery from its flood of last year.

On his way to Vermont the chief executive will make an hour's stop at Northampton, Mass., tomorrow morning for a visit to Mrs. Lemuel Goodhue, Mrs. Coolidge's mother, at the mansion where she has been for since last winter.

Stops of only a few minutes will be made by the President at Ludlow, Bellows Falls, Windsor, White River Junction, Bethel and Montpelier Junction before arriving at Burlington, where he and Mrs. Coolidge will detrain again and proceed to place flowers on the tombs of Capt. Andrew Goodhue, Mrs. Coolidge's father. At Montpelier Junction Governor Weeks of Vermont will board the train.

Stops will be made at Middlebury and Rutland before reaching in the early evening at Ludlow, which is Atty.-Gen. Sargent's home, for a short motor drive to Plymouth, the President's birthplace, where he will spend Thursday night.

MANY CHANGES IN FACULTY AT WELLESLEY

Wellesley students return to find many changes in the personnel of the faculty and administrative staff according to the following announcement from the office of the college president.

Absent on Leave—Mary A. Griggs, associate professor of chemistry; Elizabeth Donnan, associate professor of economics; Laura Hubbard Loomis, associate professor of English literature; Edith C. Johnson, assistant professor of English composition; Louise B. Dillingham, assistant professor of French; Olga Lohmeyer, assistant professor of German; Louise Overacker, assistant professor of history; Mary Graham Stein, assistant professor of mathematics, and Howard Hinners, associate professor of music.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Appointments—Mary Eglantyne Jobb, formerly lecturer in English in the education department of the University of Birmingham, England, comes as lecturer in the department of English literature; Aurelio M. Espinosa, professor of Romance languages at Leland Stanford University, will act as visiting professor of Spanish.

Miss Marguerite DeWitt, author of several works on diction will lecture in the department of reading and speaking. Helen Marion Kaufmann, who was instructor of zoology at Wellesley in 1921-22, and was last year associate professor at Wheaton College, returns to Wellesley as visiting associate professor of zoology. Frank Lorimer, assistant professor of philosophy and psychology at Wells College, comes as lecturer in the department of economics and sociology.

TEACHERS RETURN

Other appointments are Marion MacLean, instructor of chemistry; Elizabeth L. Waterman, instructor in economics and sociology; Ella K. Whiting, instructor in English literature; Ruth S. Conant, instructor in English composition; Marie Mayhe Courtelyou and Marie-Antoinette Quarre, instructors in French; Walburg Lohmeyer, instructor in German; Marguerite Appleton, instructor in history; Elizabeth Beall, instructor in hygiene; Helen G. Russell, instructor in mathematics; Jean Hastings MacDonald, instructor in music; Gayle Gidney and Dorothy W. Weeks, instructors in physics; Eugenie Fano, instructor in Spanish and Lolita F. Curry, instructor in zoology.

Returning members of the faculty are Josephine H. Batchelder, associate professor of English composition; Henriette Andrieu, associate professor of French; Alfred A. Barr, associate professor of art; Dorothy W. Dennis, assistant professor of French; Eugenie Miller and Judith Blow Williams, associate professors of history; Edda Tille, assistant professor of German; Francoise Rist, instructor of French; Raymond Robinson, instructor in organ; Harriet C. Watkinson, Gladys McKeon and Mary L. Austin, instructors in zoology.

FAKE TAX COLLECTOR GETS $10.80 IN SWINDLE

Police in all sections of Boston were warned from headquarters today to be on the watch for a fake tax collector, believed to be operating in the South End.

The swindle became known when Felix Morewitz of 38A Dover st., appeared at City Hall with a receipted bill for $10.80, asking if the receipt was a genuine one. When informed that he had been duped, he reported the case to the East Dedham street police.

He described the man as about 40 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds and wearing a gray suit and soft hat of the same color.

FRESHMEN AT MT. HOLYOKE OPENING

South Hadley, Sept. 19—Three hundred and twelve freshmen, the advance guard of a student body of 1018, registered at Mt. Holyoke College and entered upon the activities of freshmen week. Today sophomores, juniors and seniors will begin to arrive and at the opening chapel service Friday morning the college will be filled to capacity, the purchase of a new small college house, to be known as Eastman House, having afforded 16 additional student accommodations.

Seriously Ill

International Newsreel Photo

LILY LANGTRY

Famous actress of many years ago, now Lady de Bathe, is ill in London hotel. Picture shows her as she was in her palmy days.

HOOVER TURNS ATTENTION TO TEXAS

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP)—Well satisfied with the receptions accorded him in the industrial East, Herbert Hoover today turned his attention to a study of recent developments in Texas.

An engagement with R. B. Creager, national committeeman for that state, was at the head of his list as the Republican presidential nominee returned to his desk at his personal headquarters.

There were few other appointments, however, for the strain of two days of vigorous campaigning through the industrial towns of northern New Jersey had made itself felt, during the first time the candidate was whirled through more than a score of towns, and delivered one prepared speech, another extemporaneous one and spoke briefly at almost half a dozen other times in Newark, Paterson, Jersey City, Trenton and elsewhere.

At Newark, Hoover warned how Republican leaders that the present campaign for the presidency must not be waged upon personalities, but upon issues.

In making his plea for elimination of personalities, Hoover said, "This is not and should not be a campaign of personalities. I am convinced that the good sense of the American people will cause them to form their own opinions on issues and records, rather than upon personalities."

PLEA FOR UNITY

In his plea for party unity, the nominee said in part:

"In our democracy, with our increasing numbers, there is no other method by which the will of the people may be expressed in government except through an organized and unified political party, and for that same reason there cannot be more than two chief political parties.

"In the past four years I have seen governments of Europe fail because of their inability to retain that unity."

In conclusion, Hoover said, the problems of tomorrow were problems of reconstruction. The nominee believed he would have discharged his responsibility "properly" if he should execute the program laid down by Calvin Coolidge.

EXHUME BODIES AS NURSE IS HELD IN POISON CASE

Union, Mo., Sept. 19—Exhumation of several bodies of persons who died under the care of Mrs. Bertha Gifford, a volunteer nurse and confessed poisoner, was begun in a cemetery near here, by Dr. James Stewart, Missouri health commissioner. Mrs. Gifford is in jail awaiting trial in connection with several of the 17 deaths of persons whom she nursed.

SEES STORES ON WHEELS COMING BACK

Stores on wheels are coming back, according to William J. Baxter, president of the Chain Store Research Bureau. He made the prediction today at the national business conference at the Babson Institute, Wellesley. The new traveling store will be an attractive modern motor vehicle, electrically refrigerated, if necessary, and above all fast and reliable.

Rents have become so high for desirable store sites, he said, that consumers find the motor store a solution to the high prices caused by today's real estate situation.

Howard Coonley, president Walworth Mfg. Co., Boston, and ex-president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, said that business today is a much more personal thing than it was a generation ago. It is no longer sufficient to give only a good product at the right price and within the required time limit, he stated, but there must also be a feeling of confidence in the business integrity of the people involved.

NEED CO-OPERATION

"Although the size of the individual corporations has increased," he said, "and the complexity of organization multiplied, yet there has come with this development a greater realization of the importance of co-operation between all elements entering into business activity.

"There must be a belief that every transaction, no matter how small, will be handled from a partnership point of view where the seller is not to be content to do justice to the buyer as he is to himself.

"Good will in merchandising is not a question of the attitude of a chief executive or a few of the officers in charge of a business.

CUP OF GOLD

"Although generating from the top, it must extend throughout an organization to achieve its real purpose. It is a thing tremendously to be desired and most difficult to accomplish. It is the cup of gold at the end of the business rainbow."

Prices now are not stable, F. Gardiner Perry, director of research, Babson Statistical Organization, declared. He said that despite intermediate ruffles, which have always occurred, the general level of prices will continue to work downward, the country being in the declining phase of a long-swing commodity price movement.

One result of declining commodity prices, he said, has been a return to so-called hand-to-mouth buying. The purchasing agent has now become one of the most important influences in determining the profits of a business, according to Mr. Perry.

at Gilchrist's

Washington at Winter The Friendly Store Liberty 9700

Accepted Paris Fashions at Savings

Kashmir Sport Dresses

Colored Borders

$10.75

Natural-colored Kashmir frocks with bright colored borders promise to be the rage this season. Several new tailored and sport styles have just arrived. Sizes 14 to 20.

Little Women's Frocks

In the New Blues

$16.50

A youthful frock of blue flat crepe has a novel collar and cuff set of white bengaline with bright colored appliques of suede-like material. Sizes 16½ to 26½. Little Women's Section.

Larger Women's Frocks

With Diagonal Lines

$19.75

Satin crepe makes effective use of the dull side for contrast in this larger woman's frock. The overskirt is draped on one side — the surplice line blouse is slenderizing. Sizes 44 to 52½.

Transparent* Velvet Frocks

For Afternoon Wear

$29.50

The Vionnet neckline, ending in a soft bow, and the irregular hipline are new fashion details which distinguish this black transparent velvet frock for women. Sizes 36 to 42.

Transparent Velvet usually has rayon pile.*

Wool Crepe Dresses

For the Schoolgirl

$5.95

Light-weight wool crepes in bright colors, made in youthful adaptations of grown-up styles, make excellent frocks for the schoolgirl. Tailored styles with pleated skirts, suede belts. Sizes 6 to 14.

Fur Trimmed Coats

"Stringbean" Broadcloth

$55

Broadcloth, lavishly trimmed with fur, is the choice of the fashionable woman. "Stringbean," a soft new shade of green, is trimmed with American Opossum collar and spiral cuffs.

Juniors' Travel Coats

Fur trimmed tweed mixtures

$25

Tweed mixtures in tan, brown and gray, trimmed with luxurious shawl collars of Beaver, Dyed Coney or Jackal, make stunning school or travel coats. Sizes 13, 15, 17.

Taupe Dyed Muskrat Coat

With Sporty Stand-up Collar

$195

Smartly tailored coat of taupe dyed muskrat is self-trimmed with youthful Johnny collar. Full-furred pelts and careful workmanship in every Gilchrist coat.

Misses' Jersey Frocks

For School or Sports

$10.75

The high-school or college miss chooses Jersey every time for style and value. The two-piece dresses with pleated ruffle are particularly becoming to youth. Sizes 13, 15, 17.

Brown Fox Scarfs

Smart With Black Costumes

$35

The smart fall costume of brown or black will choose a soft, fluffy scarf of fox for a flattering accessory. Carefully selected full skins are used in these scarfs.

Velvet Trimmed Frocks

Dressier Modes This Season

$16.50

Georgette, Canton Crepe, and Satin unes velvet in bands, tiers and ruffles, achieving the formal note of elegance that the style-conscious miss demands. In Black and colors. Sizes 14 to 20.

Tweed Ensemble Suits

Tailored or Semi-sport

$16.50

Tailored tweed dresses, in gray or tan, with three-quarter length coat to match. The long-sleeve dress, with diagonal tucking and pleated skirt, may be worn without coat.

Sure Relief

No more Gas

Sourness, Dizziness Heartburn or Distress after eating or drinking

Not a laxative but a tested sure relief for digestive disorders of the stomach and bowels. Perfectly harmless and pleasant to take.

Normalizes Digestion and Sweetens the Breath

6 BELL-ANS Hot water Sure Relief

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION

25¢ AND 75¢ PACKAGES EVERYWHERE

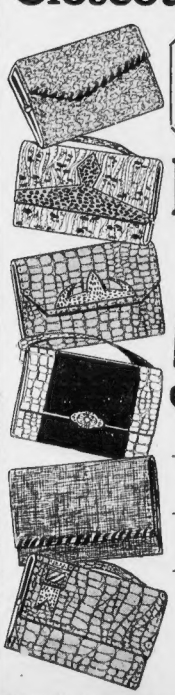
GILCHRIST'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

SELF ACTING REDUCTIONS

A leading luggage manufacturer—in overstocked condition—sells at big sacrifice.

THURSDAY HERE AT 9

Closeout Lots



SMARTEX HAND BAGS

Handbags 59c

Bottom Priced

—Lizard or alligator grained effects

—Plain, two tone and novelty tooled effects

—High grade moire linings

You'll find only the smartest of features—novel ornaments, hand sewing, fashionable colors—and at a price unquestionably low for such quality.

No Mail or Telephone Orders Filled

VICTIMS OF HURRICANE ARE RESCUED FROM DRIFTING HOUSE TOPS

BODIES LASHED TO TREES IN PATH OF RAGING WATERS

Continued from First Page.

Boston today, with rain and high winds in the van.

Storm warnings have been raised from Atlantic City to Eastport, Me., coastwise shipping was scurrying to cover as warnings of approaching gales were sent out, and flying operations at the Boston Airport were thought to be doubtful.

The full force of the storm is expected to strike this section tonight, with heavy rains and high winds approaching gale force, although no where near as strong as the hurricane that devastated Porto Rico and part of Florida.

The official forecast for Boston and vicinity was: Rain tonight and Thursday; continued cool; strong northwest winds with possibly gale force on the coast.

The storm at noon was centered between Raleigh, N. C., and Cape Hatteras, with a rainfall of 3.45 inches at Norfolk, Va., and an average of 2.64 inches as far north as Atlantic City.

Forecaster Loveland said there was a possibility the center of the storm might swing out to sea at Nantucket, in which event Boston would get only a fringe of the disturbance.

In the meantime operations at the Airport came to a standstill when the wind velocity increased to 25 miles and hour, and reports of high winds in other cities reached A. D. Ross, the official weather man there. It was reported that the wind was blowing 42 miles an hour at Nantucket.

Special precautions were being taken to secure planes on the ground against heavy winds.

Three ropes were being used on each wing and tail in place of the customary one rope on each, to hold the machines down and prevent them from being damaged.

The storm started sweeping up the coast long before dawn.

As the storm raced further up the coast New York city was awed by strong winds and a chilly rain. Long Island, lying exposed to the sweep of the gale, set itself to meet it.

Shipping along the northern coast was forced to tie up to avoid the storm. So the Kill von Kull, on Staten Island, the first marine casualty in this area was reported when the Standard oil tanker Christy Payne of Baltimore went aground. In New York city one man was hurt when the driving wind buried him through a plate glass window.

250 Florida Victims Are Buried; Death Toll 400

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 19 (AP)—Reports of loss of life and property damage mounted rapidly today as Red Cross workers from outlying sections of Palm Beach county related to headquarters here conditions in this winter resort section that was swept by the tropical hurricane Sunday night.

Reports of workers submitted to Howard Selby, chairman of the Palm Beach Red Cross committee, stated that approximately 400 lives had been lost in Palm Beach county alone. Mostly in the lowland sections in the vicinity of Lake Okeechobee. More than 250 bodies have been buried already.

Property damage was placed at $25,000,000 and the number of the homeless soared into the thousands. Conditions around the county were reported as "deplorable" by Red Cross officials who characterized the storm as the worst that has hit this section in years.

They said that damage to property was greater in proportion to the size of the cities than in the hurricane that swept Miami in 1926.

ALL HOUSES ARE WRECKED

Palm Beach and West Palm Beach were hard hit. Red Cross officials estimated that between 90 and 95 per cent of the buildings in the two cities were either damaged or destroyed. Streets were filled with debris and expensive palm trees in the town were strewn everywhere.

In the outlying backwoods section, in the vicinity of Lake Okeechobee around Okeechobee City, Bed Glade and Canal Point, reports indicated that conditions there were deplorable with bodies of the drowned floating around on the waters that flooded that section when the dykes of Lake Okeechobee broke last Sunday night.

Red Cross workers said the number of those drowned were residents of the villages and settlements that dot the shores of Lake Okeechobee.

Others were known to be dead in the Okeechobee City area, note in the city itself, but at least 11 in the lake shore section where virtually every house was reported razed.

These people were engulfed in most instances so quickly that they had no time to flee from the flimsy homes in which they had barricaded themselves as the best possible safety from the terrible winds.

TROOP SARE ON DUTY.

Bodies found in the lake regions were buried as soon as they were recovered and there was no way of checking the actual casualty list except through reports made to Red Cross headquarters.

Fifty bodies, mostly from around Belle Glade, were buried in West Palm Beach yesterday.

Ambulances and trucks rolled through water often over the running boards, bringing out the injured and dead and re-establishing the homeless.

From Okeechobee City came word that the Seaboard Airline Railway had brought a relief train, with physicians, nurses, food, embalmers, caskets, clothing and medical supplies. Boats were sent in carrying points to check on reports of disaster.

Many of the refugees, scores of whom were injured, were brought to West Palm Beach for medical treatment and food and shelter. The hospitals, hotels and churches were filled with destitute persons. More than 2500 refugees were cared for at the Red Cross headquarters up to early today and scores were being brought in hourly.

With facilities taxed to capacity plans were made to transfer 1000 refugees to Miama and Ft. Lauderdale.

Victims of Hurricane

West Palm Beach, Sept. 19—The list of identified known dead on the west coast and in the Okeechobee district included:

MRS. P. L. BURKE and three children, of Chosen.
W. H. SMITH, Chosen.
MRS. W. R. SMITH, Chosen.
MRS. JULIA BAGLEY and two children, Wanda, 3, and Gerald, 5, Chosen.
RAYMOND MARTIN, 13, Belle Glade.
MINNIE MARTIN, 8, Belle Glade.
MRS. MARBROUGH, 30, Bacon Point.
THELMA YARBROUGH, 11, and her eight-year-old brother, Bacon Point.
ELIZABETH MAE MOLENDON, 2, Bacon Point.
E. E. SCHLECHTER, Chosen.
IRMA SCHLECHTER, Chosen.
FLORA FARR, West Palm Beach.
MRS. JULIA WHITE, 56, Delray.
JOHN ANDERSON BLAYLOCK, 16, native of Cumberland County, Tennessee.
KILPATRICK, identification incomplete, elderly man, died West Palm Beach hospital.
Two unidentified white persons, Belle Glade.
Infant son, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelms, Kelsey City.
Six negroes at Pahokee.
Three negroes at Delray.
A negro boy at Deerfield.
The list of known missing included:
MRS. W. W. BRITTO, Pahokee.
MR. PAGLEY, husband of Mrs. Julia Bagley, Chosen.
I. W. LEATHERMAN, farmer, Chosen.
RALPH CHERRY and family, Torrey Island.
W. D. WILLIAMS, his wife and daughter, Chosen.
A MRS. DAWN, Chosen.
WALTER VAN EVCK, farmer and his wife, Chosen.
MRS. E. E. SCHLECHTER, Chosen.
ESTHER SCHLECHTER, eight, Chosen.
JOHN BUCHANAN, Chosen.
JAMES LONERSWE, Chosen.
WILLIAM SNOW, Chosen.

SLIGHT DAMAGE IN NASSAU BY STORM

The Tropical Radio Telegraph Company announced today it had received a full report from the superintendent or telegraphs at Nassau in the Bahamas to the effect that damage occasioned by the recent hurricane had been slight.

There was not one single casualty on the island, neither is there any sickness.

YACHT DRIVEN ASHORE ON NEW JERSEY COAST

New York, Sept. 19 (AP)—A 50-foot yacht was driven ashore today off Atlantic Highlands, N. J., in the storm, according to advices from the marine observer at Sandy Hook.

Mountainous seas, whipped by a 55-mile-an-hour wind, were pounding the Jersey coast.

TELL OF FLEEING FROM THE FURY OF BIG HURRICANE

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 19 (AP)—Graphic eyewitness stories of death and privation in the backwoods region around the great Lake Okeechobee in southern Florida were brought here today by injured and destitute persons from the region.

Thrilling stories of escapes were told by all refugees who were brought here by the Red Cross for medical treatment, lodging or food.

D. H. Walker, a farmer of South Bay who escaped with his wife and five children, said the dyke broke about 11 p. m. Sunday, sending a wall of water through South Bay Yellehlade and Pahokee, said when his home started to collapse he sought refuge in another house, only to leave it when it, too, was being blown away. He ran to a third house, where 12 other men had sought refuge in another house, only to leave it when it, too, was being blown away. When he started to collapse he crawled a quarter of a mile on his hands and knees to a tree, where he found a man and wife clinging to a top limb.

DRIFT ON ROOF TOPS.

W. H Combs, a Miami undertaker, returning from the lake and Everglade regions, told of seeing refugees huddled closely together in a school-house at Pahokee, where women and children have been in wet clothing for three days.

Combs' reports were supplemented by George R. Brewer, member of a relief party. Brewer said 40 per sons were unaccounted for at Belle glade, and at South Bay an undetermined number of men, women and children were isolated in a hotel without food.

At one place on the Miami canal, similar condition, he said, 23 people were afloat on a barge in rescued.

Death Tears Wife From Arms of Mate in Florida Storm

Miami, Fla., Sept. 19 (AP)—When the storm wrecked their home on Lake Okeechobee, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Britt, who lived on a farm at Bacon Point Fla., faced their fate together.

Arm in arm they held to a floating timber and floated from the home as it was torn down. A timber struck and separated them after they had floated less than 200 yards.

Britt, who is 62, said his wife went down. He maze his way to a truck, where he clung to the top until rescued.

J. W. Ives of Ives dairy, Miami, and 29 other residents of Little Kraemer Island, seven miles south-west of Pahokee, were saved after floating in Lake Okeechobee on a house top all night.

ALL SWEPT TO DEATH

Ives said that he and Mr. and Mrs. Hooker, their five-year-old daughter and a Mr. McLeod, and 25 others floated on the roof for more than five miles. When the roof drifted to the south shore of the lake they succeeded in getting on land.

Max Yarfbourgh, 12, of Bacon Point was the only survivor of a family of five.

His clothing caught in a timber of their partially wrecked home and he was held fast throughout the storm. He saw his mother, brother, sister and aunt go down in the churning mass of water.

When day came Monday he was rescued.

Troops Quell Food Riots In Gale-Swept Porto Rico

San Juan, Porto Rico, Sept. 19 (AP)—With reports of food rioting current, nine companies of the Porto Rican National Guard today were policing 23 towns of the island.

The guardsmen were called out by Governor Horace M. Towner after reports became prevalent that in several towns devastated by the tropical hurricane starving people had stormed and looted stores.

Instructions also were issued to 25 volunteer reserve officers to proceed throughout the island, delivering emergency supplies, informing the inhabitants of relief plans and surveying the needs.

Governor Towner in a radio message to the War Department last night said there was "no disorder anywhere" and there was "absolutely no necessity for martial law."

Henry M. Baker, national director of disaster relief for the American Red Cross, asserted that food riots were increasing.

Mayors of a dozen towns in appealing for aid, informed him that the people of their towns would mob them if they returned empty handed. They begged for something, either money or food, to take back with them, the mayors said, their people were in a desperate plight and were plunged in despair because of lack of relief.

Mr. Baker arrived with five assistants on the United States airstroyer Gilmer and they at once plunged into the work of organizing relief measures.

Tells of Watching Storm Puffs Ripping Off Roofs

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 19 (INS)—An eyewitness account of the destruction wrought here by the West Indian hurricane was given today by R. E. Cook, a broker, who watched the storm from a window of the Pennsylvania hotel.

"The wind had been blowing steadily since Sunday. About 5 o'clock puffs came that ushered in the center of the hurricane.

"These puffs are the destructive agents. The wind whistled shrilly, but the puffs uttered low, ominous roars. The whole joined into a wild crescendo, in which there seemed to be a barbaric harmony.

"As I watched, the wind caught hold of the roofing of the Lake Court Apartments as a housewife shakes out a sheet. Finally it lifted it up and flung it aside. The wind sounded now like the purr of a gigantic tarpaulin.

"Other roofs went sailing through the air. Debris of all sorts filled the air. The solid steel building in which we stood shook like a reed but held staunchly. It was perhaps half an hour before the center of the hurricane had passed.

"It was not intense all the time but came and went—In these tremendous puffs of wind that flung aside wood and brick as easily as a child topples his blocks."

New York, Sept. 19 (AP)—Murray Hulbert, grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, announced today that on behalf of the order he had sent $7500 for hurricane relief to the San Juan Porto Rico, lodge, and $2500 to the lodges of Florida for relief work in that state.

He appealed to all lodges and their individual members to co-operate with the Red Cross in its relief work.

BOSTON WHOLESALE MILLINERY CO.
3rd Floor Blake Building — 59 Temple Place, Elevator Service

Thursday at Nine

SENSATIONAL FELT HAT SALE
Manufacturer's Stock
NEW STYLES — NEW COLORS
Regular 2.50 Quality
$1

This Ideal Home Quality Outfit is now on display in our Main Floor suite of rooms.

"THE BLUE STORE"
FERDINAND'S
At Dudley St. Terminal

Open Monday and Saturday Evenings

Four Room Outfit

for only

This custom-made living room suite upholstered all over with mohair or tapestry. Handsomely carved frame, reversible spring cushions, and web construction throughout. There is a large size davenport, club chair and fireside wing chair. This suite may be purchased separately if desired.

$575

8-piece dining suite made of buried walnut veneers and gumwood. Mahogany drawer bottoms, dustproof construction. Buffet, table, 6 side chairs and arm chair. This suite may be purchased separately if desired.

a real Quality Outfit

Chamber suite of 3 pieces, made of walnut veneers and gumwood. Mahogany drawer bottoms, dustproof construction. Dresser, bed and men's chest with new triple shirt compartment. This suite may be purchased separately if desired.

5 pieces for your breakfast nook finished in choice of colorings and in the latest style. Can be bought separately if desired.

A Beautiful Quality Bed Room Suite

Constructed of fine walnut veneers and gumwood, mahogany drawer bottoms, dustproof construction. The regular Ferdinand quality. Choice of any three pieces $99

The Home-Maker's Half Hour

Every Tuesday morning at 10:30 tune in on WNAC and hear Jean Sargent's broadcast on the home.

Victor Ferdinand
President

A Wonderful Dining Room Value

Eight-piece dining room suite, buried walnut veneers, quartered oak interiors. Buffet with sliding silver tray and center drawer guides; extension table, with 24-inch automatic disappearing leaf, and five side chairs and host chair. Price only..... $195

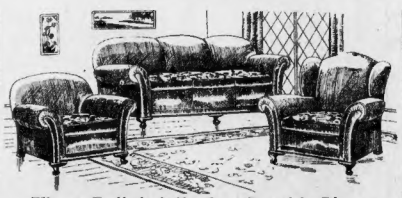
High Grade Bedding

Genuine Simmons Bed

Beautifully decorated metal beds. All sizes. Fall Opening Sale Price $15.75

Red Cross Layer Felt Mattress, rolled edge, hand made. Fall Opening Sale Price $17.50

Ferdinand's Special Felted Cotton Mattress, made expressly for us. Sale price $13.75



Three Delightfully Comfortable Pieces

What a pleasant suite for the living room—this comfortable large size sofa with the handsome high-back wing-chair and comfortable club chair. These beautiful pieces are upholstered in fine quality mohair with outside backs of velour to match. Web construction. The regular Ferdinand unlimited guarantee is included with this suite. Price only ..... Sale Price $229

New Fall Patterns

In Quality Seamless Axminster Rugs

Sizes	Priced at
8.3x10.6	$27.50
9x12	29.50
8.3x10.6	34.50
9x12	37.50
8.3x10.6	44.50
9x12	47.50

LIBERAL CREDIT TERMS

WASHINGTON WEDDING HOLDS INTEREST OF BOSTON SMART SET, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Popular Hub Clubman Takes Bride on Friday Next

A WEDDING TO BE CELEBRATED very quietly next Friday in Washington causes loss to the Federal City of an extremely charming feminine social ornament. Boston gains a radiantly attractive new addition to the smart younger married set. Robert Herrick, Jr., young clubman and scion of wealth allied with place, takes that day for his wife Mrs. Vinton Dahlgren Pierce, a stunning young widow belonging to Washington's upper crust. Then Mr. Herrick takes his bride abroad, and then he brings her back here and sets her up as chatelaine of his town and his country houses. As Mrs. Pierce she created a sensation during a recent North Shore visit. As Mrs. Herrick her reception from the elect cannot be other than most flattering.

HOWEVER SIMPLE THE WEDDING may be, Boston's well born and well known and Washington's creme de la creme all are interested. "Bob" Herrick's clubs, college, friends and family background identify him with the local aristocracy. And as for Mrs. Pierce, azure blood courses in her veins. She has a distinguished ancestry and a place in New York's and Washington's social spheres most enviable. Mrs. Vincent Astor is a cousin and John Churchill was an ancestor. Before her marriage to Mr. Pierce she was Miss Margaret Knickerbocker Clark, a daughter of Mrs. Churchill Clark of New York and Washington.

SHE HAS A SPARKLING beauty; a slender height to distinguish her, and a bewitching camaraderie, all attributes for personal success. Then she dances divinely, having studied with New York's best known maestri. And she sits a horse with the finish of the perfect equestrienne, whether it be along town bridle paths, cross-country after the speedy fox, or doing endless miles in the Western manner. She would have made an exquisite central figure in an elaborate church wedding, done to softly twinkling tapers and muted organ notes. As her choice goes to the simple home affair without attendants and sans ceremonial, ardent wedding fans are lost a golden opportunity for neck craning and ecstatic exclaiming.

Mrs. Eaton Cromwell Mrs. Thomas E. Proctor, 3d Eaton Cromwell

Boston Evening American Staff Photo

HOSTESSES AND GUESTS

The Philadelphia couple were recently guests of Mrs. Proctor at her North Shore home.

NUMEROUS AS THE SNOWFLAKES IN A WINTER'S STORM ARE THE AFFAIRS "IN AID OF" for the coming season. Distraught social secretaries and keepers of engagement books will have much ado to sort out the confusion of "mornings," "matinees" and "evenings" devoted to charity; also to keep their respective mesdames moving on schedule along the philanthropic path. A keen and unceasing watchfulness is necessary to avert the tragedy of madame setting out for a "musical morning" when no morning but an afternoon is scheduled, or of missing entirely a famous warbler or violinist through engagement book lapses.

INDUSTRIOUS SECRETARIES HAVE ALREADY PARTLY FILLED ENGAGEMENT BOOKS WITH benefits. Now they may add a trio of Saturday matinees, to benefit Talitha Cumi Home. December 6 is devoted to Angna Enters; January 5 to Povla Frijsh, and January 26 to Rosamond Johnson and Taylor Gordon. Attractions of the first order are these artists, and if the handsome ballroom of the Hotel Statler is not more than comfortably filled on those afternoons then is the benefit season likely doomed to failure and all be dust and ashes in the mouths of sponsors and committees. Miss Enters is a celebrated mime, Madame Frijsh sings delightfully and Miss Johnson and Mr. Gordon present negro spirituals. Their box office pull is well established.

AN INDUSTRIOUS COMMITTEE FOR THE MATINEES INCLUDES IN ITS LIST MRS. ALDEN A. THORNDIKE, Mrs. Henry Endicott, Miss Lilian G. Bates, Mrs. Edric Eldridge, Mrs. Horace S. Frazer, Miss Elizabeth Garritt, Mrs. William H. McElwain, Mrs. F. Russell Moseley, Mrs. William L. McKee, Mrs. Charles A. Proctor, Miss Cora Tuxbury and Mrs. Frank Owen White. And even now, as September moves through its days and December appears inordinately far in the future, the industrious committee is busy rounding up an audience for each matinee. Purses, no matter how deep and heavy, will be absolutely flat by spring and the conclusion of the benefit season.

THE LITTLE THEATER MOVEMENT grows with leaps and bounds. Newport already has its Casino Theater festivals, accepted by the social big wigs as a most likeable part of the summer social scheme. Now Bar Harbor, the Newport of the Maine coast, looks benignly on Leighton Rollins' effort to graft onto its fashionable life a professional theatrical season quite as brilliant as anything Newport Casino festivals have to offer. In fact, plans have progressed so far as to give the new theater a name and locate it just about half way between Bar Harbor on the one hand and Blue Hill on the other, and so accommodate all the summer people who congregate in that charmed region.

THE SURRY PLAYHOUSE HAS for sponsors and promoters all the socially consequential and artistically distinguished ones who summer on beautiful Mount Desert or find their ideal of life further afield in the Blue Hill region. Its company will be recruited from metropolitan stages. It has a promising future, and its season follows along after a spring at the Try-Out in Wellesley. In fact, the same company appearing at the Surry Playhouse precedes its Maine presentations with April, May and a part of June in Wellesley.

Betty Alden

ESSAYS POURING ON 'UNCLE TOM' EDITOR

Topsy "just growed."

So did the Boston Evening American's new educational contest on its second day.

Today several hundred more school children will be added to the list of those busy preparing essays on "Uncle Tom's Cabin," famous novel by Harriet Beecher Stowe.

$200 PRIZES

In addition to cash awards of $200 for the best essays, the Boston Evening American is offering as prizes 200 pairs of tickets for the sound-equipped screen version of the classic, now being shown with movietone at the Modern and Beacon theaters.

This is the third day of the contest and there are eight to go—go get busy, children.

Here are the rules:

No person connected with this newspaper, or with the Universal Pictures Corporation, or any theater showing the pictures, shall be eligible.

Essays must not exceed 100 words in length and must be written plainly on one side of the paper.

Neatness, composition and accuracy in spelling will be given credit.

Essay papers must carry full name and address of writer, age, name of school attended and the grade.

Contestants shall abide by decisions of the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" editor, whose decisions will be final.

Papers submitted must bear a postmark before midnight, September 25. Awards will be announced September 27 or shortly after. Essays will be received at any time previous to midnight, September 21.

The awards will be: first $50, second $25, third $15, fourth $10, next 50 at $2 each, next 100 will be 100 pairs of tickets to see "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Mail all essays to "Uncle Tom," Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston.

SPAIN CLAIMS ALTITUDE RECORD FOR MAJ. MOLAS

Madrid, Sept. 19 (AP)—Spain claims a new world altitude record as the result of a balloon ascension in which Major Benito Molas succumbed his life. Official readings of the barograph he carried showed that the balloon twice reached a height of 11,000 meters, which was claimed to be 400 meters in excess of the previous record.

An autopsy showed that Major Molas died from cerebral and pulmonary congestion, probably caused by improper functioning of the respiratory tube at the tremendous altitudes reached.

A car needs a home. Have you a garage for rent? Tell about it and give location in the Want Rent Ads. That's the way to fill it.

CHASE CARNES IN SYRACUSE

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 19 (INS)—Police and federal agents were combing hotel and rooming houses here today in an exhaustive search for Clinton R. Carnes, missing Atlanta, Ga., treasurer of the Baptist home mission board, who is believed to have gone into hiding after being recognized on the street by Charles W. Spencer, governmental naval engineer.

Carnes, who managed to elude police after a thrilling chase through the crowded downtown district, vanished after he scurried through a crowd of shoppers in a department store and fled into an alley through the rear door.

Boy Scouts Bag Three Man-Eating Lions

New York, Sept. 19 (INS)—The three 15-year-old Boy Scouts who were recently sent to Africa to join Martin Johnson, the explorer, on a five weeks' safari through the jungles, are here today, bronzed and happy, after their thrilling experiences.

David H. Martin, Jr., of Austin, Minn.; Douglas L. Oliver of Atlanta, Ga., and Robert Douglas of Greensboro, N. C., the youthful big game hunters, returned last night aboard the liner Paris. Each boy bagged a man-eating lion.

The scouts were guests of George Palmer Putnam, his son, David Binney Putnam, and David E. Lawman.

Oliver was the first to get his man-killer, having won the chance through tossing of a coin.

"It was our second day on the safari," he said. "We were looking for lions and came across nine before we saw an real good ones. We were out for pictures more than shooting. Then we saw a dandy one with a good mane. We singled it out and went after him.

Don't say "It can be done" until you've tried a Want Ad.

ARREST 7 IN GRAFT WAR

Philadelphia, Sept. 19 (AP)—With five city detectives, a policeman and a number of a "policy-keepers' protective association" under heavy bail on charges of conspiracy, extortion and bribery, District Attorney Motsean declared today that the "first line defenses of the police-bootleg graft alliance are crumbling.

Other developments growing out of the special grand jury's investigation of bootlegging, gang murders and underworld activities generally, included the suspension of two police captains, John J. Kerns and William Evans, by Superintendent of Police Mills, who asserted that they had failed to comply with Mayor Mackey's clean-up order.

Lesley's
LESS IN PRICE

610 "SIX-TEN" WASHINGTON ST.
NEXT NEW KEITH-ALBEE THEATRE

STARTING THURSDAY at 9!
ONCE AGAIN, I'm the boss! For the 4th time I have been permitted to conduct my great, sensational, price-cutting sale at Lesley's. And how I've cut prices and unmercifully marked high-grade expensive garments! My sale will be the talk of Boston and will scatter garments all over Massachusetts. I'm determined to do a tremendous business. Meet me Thursday morning — or Friday — or Saturday!
"Larry the Ad Man"

AD MAN'S SALE

Your Money Cheerfully Refunded Within 10 Days!

Be in Line! On Time! At Nine!

STARTING THURSDAY—Bargain Opportunities await you

I'll crowd the store with prudent, bargain-seeking women who will be held spellbound by the relentless, reckless, deep price slaughtering and absolute disregard of profits in my Sale! This will be the master-stroke of the year! The most unusual, extraordinary Sale we have ever held, after weeks and weeks of preparation. My motto is "Business—Not Profits." Come and see! I'll be at the store all day Tomorrow! Bargains of a lifetime THURSDAY! NO job lots—NO odds or ends—NO soiled or damaged goods!

Select From THOUSANDS of New Garments

FALL DRESSES
Here are Fabrics, Styles and Colors Found Only in $7.95 to $10.75 Dresses
SATINS — JERSEYS — VELVETS — NAVY GEORGETTES COMBINATIONS — NOVELTIES, ETC.
NEWEST Styles, Materials, Colors. LOW PRICED!
$5

SHOES
523 Pairs of $4 to $5 Women's Shoes
PUMPS — STRAPS TIES — OXFORDS
Parchments Blondes Patents etc., etc.
All Sizes
High Heels and Military Heels Included are Imported Sandals Crepe Sole Oxfords
$2

CHOICE! New FALL DRESSES
The pick of every advance Fashion—Notably Low Priced
682 BRAND NEW FROCKS $6.99

The Colors: New autumn shades, including Harvest Brown, Beige, Bottlewood, Genoa Red, Moderne Blue, Empire Green, Navy and Black.
The Fabrics: Satins —Cantons — Velvets —Tweeds — Velvet combined with Georgette or Canton in the modern manner.
EACH DRESS GUARANTEED A REGULAR $10.75 VALUE!

DRESSES
Not One of These Dresses Were Made to Sell for Less Than $16.50
Satin Crepes
Flat Crepes
Georgettes
Novelty Woolens
Silk Failles
$12.95
Sizes 14 to 46
NEW Shades
NEW Styles
NEW Effects
Crepe Romaines
Tweeds—Velvets Combinations

GIRLS' COATS

CHINCHILLA COATS
80% WOOL
Sizes 3 to 6
Navy, Green, Tan, Powder Blue, Etc.
$4.95

JERSEY DRESSES
Fine French Spun Jersey!

Full Pleated Skirts—Taped Seams—V, Round and Collar Necklines—Tucking — Long Sleeves — Vestee Fronts—Buckled Belts—Pleated — Silk Crepe Collars — Scalloped Edges — Detachable Vestees — Kerchief Pockets.
COLORS: — Wine, Navy, Tommy Red, Rose-Pink, Blue, Green.
$4.75
Sizes 14 to 50

GIRLS' DRESSES
JERSEY PURE WOOL DRESSES
All New Shades
Sizes 2 to 6 With Bloomers
Sizes 7 to 14 Without Bloomers
Regular $3.95 Value
LARRY'S Price
$2.95

SKIRTS
HERE'S Big, Smashing Values for YOU!
Newest Style
BUTTERFLY Pleated All Around SKIRTS
Plaids, Checks, Novelties
Smart NEW Colors—
Beautiful New Designs
$2.95 AND $3.95

2 DRESSES FOR THE PRICE OF.. $15
Women! Talk About Big Bargains! Double Values! Double Quantity! One at a Time Isn't Fast Enough for Me! So Come and Pick 'em 2 at a time! Starting Thursday for 3 Days!
FALL FROCKS
Any 2 Sizes — Any 2 Colors — Any 2 Styles

2 FOR $15
All Sizes
All Styles
All Shades
All Fabrics
SATINS—FLAT CREPES—VELVETS—CANTONS—JERSEYS—NOVELTIES—COMBINATIONS—GEORGETTES, etc.
Newest Styles! Newest Shades!

SILK HOSE
Regular $1.65 Value!
Full-Fashioned PURE SILK HOSE
All First Quality!
Buying opportunity of a lifetime!
$1.03
All Sizes

UNDERWEAR
SUPER-RAYON
42-gauge
BLOOMERS
STEP-INS SLIPS
VESTS
Reg. 98c Values
50c

FALL COATS
Dressy Styles
Rich Fur Trimmings
Luxurious Fabrics
New Style Features
STARTLINGLY LOW PRICED at .....
$22.95

OUT THEY GO—! DRESSES
Regardless of their former prices up to $14.95—I'm throwing out the balance of Smart Summer DRESSES
$2 and $5

DRESSES
Women's Dresses in every conceivable
NEW Styles
NEW Shades
NEW Fabrics
An Extraordinary Stock — Sizes to 52—NOW—
$5
UP TO $12.95

EVERYBODY TALKS LESLEY'S WOMEN'S APPAREL FOR LESS

We certainly are lucky let's make sure and go the American way

HOW wonderful to be going abroad now—it's the very best time of year for it! And everyone who knows recommends an American ship. Plenty of sailings, too: America, Sept. 28 and Nov. 21; Leviathan, Oct. 6 and 24, and Nov. 14; George Washington, Oct. 17 and Nov. 17. Let's see our steamship agent now, or 'phone to

United States Lines

OPERATING THE Leviathan, George Washington, America, Republic, Pres. Harding, and Pres. Roosevelt TO EUROPE

74 State St., Boston, Mass. Phone HUBbard 7274-5-6

GEN. COLE, FEARLESS FIGHTER, IS BOSTON BORN AND BRED

HAS LONG SERVICE RECORD

The Democrats have nominated, in the person of Brig.-Gen. Charles H. Cole, a man who has always been noted for his fearless independence. Like his Republican rival for the governorship of Massachusetts, he also enjoys the confidence of his friends that higher national honors will come to him.

General Cole is a Bostonian, born and bred. Since 1895, when as a member of the Young Men's Democratic club he took a vigorous part in ward politics, affairs of the state have occupied his attention.

Next to this has been his military affiliations. He first shouldered a gun in his high school days and the habit stuck by him until he attained his present rank as a brigadier. He brigade in the famous YD Division.

General Cole was born on Fourth st. in South Boston in 1872, the year that Grant was President. He first attended the Tuckerman school and later the Lincoln school.

PROUD MOMENT

The proudest moment of his life was not when he led his brigade to victory at Chateau Thierry, or the tumultous welcome accorded him on his return, but when, as cadet major, he proudly led a battalion in the English high school cadets.

His first job as a wage earner netted him $6 a week as an office boy with the Boston Mustard Co. He was with the company for 10 years and when he left was cashier.

When he was only 21 he had served his party as a member of the ward and city committee, giving active and unremitting effort whenever and wherever needed.

In 1903 he was appointed head of the police commission. After this term he went back into business, remaining in private life until 1912, when he was appointed fire commissioner by Mayor Fitzgerald. It was under his direction that the manuals now in use in the department were brought out.

FURTHER HONORED

He resigned after the agitation over his recommendation for increasing the firemen's pay and a few months later was appointed adjutant-general, chief of staff of the state militia by Governor Walsh.

In 1890 he passed through all the grades in the First Corps Cadets and reached the rank of colonel. When appointed adjutant-general he held the rank of major. From that time his activities as a soldier of Uncle Sam are matters of public record.

Gen. Cole, while believing that all laws must be enforced, does not approve of the Volstead law.

"Although I would not advocate a change of the 18th amendment, I believe the Volstead law should be repealed and each State allowed to make its own laws for the enforcement of the amendment," is his attitude he takes toward prohibition.

State's Nominees for Congress

1st District—Allen T. Treadway (R.).

2nd District—John D. O'Connor (D.).

3rd District—Joseph E. Casey (D.), and Frank H. Foss (R.).

4th District—Freeman M. Sallus (D.), and George R. Stobbs (R.).

5th District—Edith Nourse Rogers (R.).

6th District—A. Piatt Andrew (R.), and George J. Ferguson (D.).

8th District—Frederick W. Dallinger (R.), and James P. Brennan (D.).

10th District—Edward L. Donnell (R.), John J. Douglass (D.).

11th District—George Holden Tinkham (R.), Maurice J. Tobin (D.).

12th District—Herbert W. Barr (R.), John W. McCormack (D.).

13th District—Thomas D. Lavelle (D.), and Robert Luce, (R.).

14th District—Christopher M. Clifford (D.).

15th District—John F. Trainor (D.).

16th District—Willard E. Hayden (D.).

The Cup Test

The brightness and clearness of SALADA TEA in the cup is proof of its high quality

"SALADA" TEA

376

MELROSE WOMAN IS WINNER

G. O. P. CANDIDATE
Mrs. Mary L. N. Barrows, granddaughter of Mary A. Livermore, to run for representative.

HER CHUMS, TOO
John Oscar Barrows, 12, and Eleanor Andrews, 17, who lives in the Barrows home.
—Boston Evening American Staff Photos

MRS. BARROWS G. O. P. CHOICE FOR HOUSE

Mrs. Mary L. N. Barrows of 29 West Emerson st., Melrose, who won one of the two Republican nominations for the Legislature in the 27th Middlesex district, has been preparing for a career in politics since childhood, she revealed today.

Her grandmother, Mary A. Livermore, was one of the most noted suffragists of her day and when Mrs. Barrows was still a little girl she was initiated into the mysteries of politics.

Mrs. Barrows is the mother of two boys, Malcolm Dana Barrows, Jr., 17, a junior at Melrose high school, and John Oscar Barrows, 12, a pupil in the seventh grade of the Washington school in Melrose. When her also resides Eleanor Andrews, 17-year-old senior at Melrose high school.

Mrs. Barrows graduated from Wellesley College 20 years ago and is the second woman in her family to win political honors. Her classmate, Mrs. Ruth Pratt, was elected a member of the board of aldermen of New York City.

In addition to having the distinction of being the first women ever elected to the Legislature from her district, Mrs. Barrows is also the first woman ever elected an alderman in Melrose.

Her husband, Malcolm D. Barrows, Sr., is head of the English department of Boston English high school.

OLDEST SON 17
Malcolm Dana Barrows, Jr., is a junior in Melrose high school.

MULVEY'S VOTE BIG SURPRISE

While W. T. A. Fitzgerald was renominated by his fellow Democrats for register of deeds of Suffolk county, and Clerk John F. Cronin for the office of clerk of the supreme judicial court, the big upset in the county contests occurred when Senator James A. Mulvey of Roxbury displaced John R. Campbell as clerk of the superior criminal court of the county.

The complete vote of the county gave Register Fitzgerald a lead of 7980 votes over Representative Garrison Bradley of Roxbury; Clerk Cronin with the substantial margin of 6541 over Charles A. O'Connor, and shows Senator Mulvey nominated over Clerk Campbell by 672 votes.

TAGUE SHOWED POORLY

Young Mulvey, who comes from the Meeting House Hill section, was the surprise and sensation of the county contests. In the last days of the campaign, Martin Lomasney, West End leader, came out with an appeal for votes for Campbell, who has been connected with the office for many years and long served as right hand man to the late Clerk John P. Manning.

It was taken for granted that Lomasney's drive was directed against former Congressman Peter F. Tague, who, the count results, was no more a factor in the race than Francis J. Burke of Roxbury.

Burke polled 13,688 votes in the county, and Tague only 558 votes more. Campbell polled a total of 30,752, Mulvey with 31,394.

MULVEY A FORCE

Some of the younger Democrats were saying today that the result indicates that two years hence Register Fitzgerald may have a "real" fight on his hands. The Register, all smiles, suggested a willingness to "let 1930 take care of 1930."

Some of his friends felt two weeks ago that Clerk Cronin was threatened by Charles S. Connor's drive too seriously. The result shows that Cronin knew what he was about.

However Revere, Chelsea and Winthrop may go, it was agreed around town that the Democratic leaders will have to take notice of the political strength of Senator James A. Mulvey of Roxbury.

Boston's Vote for Gov. (Republican)

	Allen	Goodwin
Ward 1	441	874
Ward 2	253	153
Ward 3	435	344
Ward 4	2675	1051
Ward 5	2397	539
Ward 6	240	150
Ward 7	301	223
Ward 8	289	244
Ward 9	900	481
Ward 10	337	247
Ward 11	511	388
Ward 12	1999	1295
Ward 13	693	453
Ward 14	3458	1003
Ward 15	500	237
Ward 16	924	583
Ward 17	2146	1313
Ward 18	1819	1474
Ward 19	1675	715
Ward 20	3153	1271
Ward 21	2521	1311
Ward 22	701	989
Total	28506	15512

Boston's Vote for Register of Deeds

DEMOCRATIC

	Byrne	Fitzgerald
Ward 1	3022	5018
Ward 2	3019	4040
Ward 3	870	2221
Ward 4	349	140
Ward 5	286	644
Ward 6	2929	3253
Ward 7	2834	2788
Ward 8	3979	1522
Ward 9	3929	1577
Ward 10	3047	2675
Ward 11	2625	2951
Ward 12	731	771
Ward 13	2142	2576
Ward 14	664	1838
Ward 15	2944	3293
Ward 16	2431	3112
Ward 17	1280	2080
Ward 18	1211	1112
Ward 19	1378	1605
Ward 20	705	1240
Ward 21	354	1002
Ward 22	1783	2881
Total	39,937	46,937
Chelsea	900	1153
Winthrop	93	377
Revere	—	—
Total	40,930	48,773

ALLEN WOULD RUN STATE AS A BUSINESS

Ability to grasp the fundamentals of government, plus the knowledge gained from years of business experience, has brought Frank G. Allen to the forefront in state politics.

Nominated by his party for the highest honor in the gift of the commonwealth, friends of Mr. Allen are already predicting his election and claiming his fitness for higher honors in the nation.

Mr. Allen was born in Lynn and graduated from the Lynn high school. In 1892 he entered the leather business with the Boston firm of Black & Newhall and a year later became identified with the Lyman W. Smith Sons Co. When the Wilcox Bros. bought out the Smith company and changed the firm name to Winslow Brothers & Smith, Mr. Allen became president of the organization.

SERVED IN HOUSE

His first public office was that of assessor and he served as chairman of the board of assessors in Norwood for several years. Later he became a member of the board of selectmen of that town and in 1918 was elected to the House of Representatives, where he served for two years.

In 1920 he was elected to the State Senate from the Norfolk district, in 1921 he was elected president of that body. While a member of the house and senate he served as chairman of the taxation committee in both branches.

He also made a special study of the finances of the State and rendered valuable aid to both Governors Coolidge and Cox while a member of the General Court. In 1919 Mr. Allen served on the special commission on street railways, which was known as the Coolidge Street Railway Commission.

STATE BUSINESS FIRST

As Lieutenant-Governor, Mr. Allen endeavored at all times to make the State business his first interest. He has made a special study of the various institutions and their needs. He has enjoyed the confidence of Governor Fuller to an unusual degree and has probably been consulted by the chief executive more generally than any Lieutenant-Governor before.

He has been in thorough sympathy with the administration in its financial policy and has always been an advocate of the executive budget and the "pay-as-you-go policy" for the state.

The unusual popularity of Lieut.-Gov. Allen is due largely to his ardent love of fair play and "square deal" principles which he has consistently practiced throughout his career.

He has been extremely democratic in his conduct and relations with others, and in stating his position as a public official he said in a recent address, "I am a plain business man who has wandered into the path of politics, and I am trying to use business methods in carrying on the State's affairs."

For Lieutenant Governor (Dem.)

	Malley	Murphy
Ward 1	5670	1948
Ward 2	4100	2304
Ward 3	3550	547
Ward 4	784	305
Ward 5	508	242
Ward 6	3943	1854
Ward 7	3866	1817
Ward 8	3262	1649
Ward 9	1911	943
Ward 10	3494	1723
Ward 11	3018	1573
Ward 12	996	439
Ward 13	2429	1539
Ward 14	1182	476
Ward 15	3514	1942
Ward 16	3501	1719
Ward 17	2401	1123
Ward 18	1765	817
Ward 19	1863	881
Ward 20	1311	534
Ward 21	1022	319
Ward 22	3269	1309
Totals	56,412	25,881

Free 3 WAHL EVERSHARP PENCILS Ask any manager of A & P STORES FIRST NATIONAL STORES ECONOMY STORES

Candidates Named in Fight for House

Following is the list of successful candidates nominated by both parties for the House of Representatives according to latest returns:

18th Suffolk—Frederick W. Boynton (R.), Walter E. Wragg (R.)

22d Suffolk—Leo M. Birmingham (D.), Nelson J. Ingalls (R.).

13th Suffolk—John V. Mahoney (D.), Ignatius J. O'Connor (D.), Harry M. Murdough (R.)

2d Suffolk—John D. P. Higgins (D.), Felix A. Marcella (D.), Frank Squillacioti (R.), Michael Tedesco (R.).

2d Barnstable—Francis H. Perry (R.).

7th Suffolk—Eugene P. Durgin (D.), John J. Reardon (D.), Albert R. Benches (R.).

11th Norfolk—Horace W. Hosie (R.), William S. Cruickshank (D.)

9th Suffolk—William P. Hickey (D.), James J. Twohig (D.)

21st Suffolk—Martin Hays (R.), John F. Murphy (D.)

15th Suffolk—William C. Creed (D.), Lewis R. Sullivan (D.)

3d Worcester—Pierre Rasky (R.); William Casey (D.).

8th Worcester—John S. Derham (D.); Harold L. MacLaren (R.).

12th Suffolk—James T. Burke (D.); William F. Doolan (D.); Abraham R. Lesson (R.); Charles L. Page (R.).

19th Suffolk—William M. McMorrow (D.); Joseph C. White (D.); William G. Marple (R.); George Trenhorn (R.).

20th Suffolk—Walter A. Murphy (D.); Patrick E. Murray (D.); Harold R. Duffie (R.); George A. Gilman (R.).

5th Hampden—John W. Maxwell (D.); John B. Joy, Jr., (R.).

6th Hampden—Richard T. Fitzgerald (D.); Emma E. Brigham (R.).

7th Hampden—Hattie E. Harwood (D.), Taylo M. Peterson (R.).

10th Worcester—Daniel Crosley (D.), Ralph E. McGrath (D.); Fred L. Butler (R.); Edward H. Nutting (R.).

1st Barnstable—William A. Jones (R.).

9th Suffolk—John P. Connoly (D.), Richard D. Gleason (D.); Frank L. Bryant (R.); Rollins Burrell (R.).

17th Suffolk—Owen A. Gallagher (D.); Frank J. McFarland (D.); Harrison H. Atwood (R.); James H. Richardson (R.).

1th Hampden—Nicholas G. Nestor (R.); Edward M. Crosby (D.).

9th Hampden—Norman L. Snow (R.); Walter A. Swift (D.).

3d Hampden—John P. Gaffney (D.); Wilfred J. Chevalier (R.).

5th Worcester—O. Alton Pickering (R.).

17th Essex—Pius P. McPhee (D), Harold R. Webber (R.).

8th Middlesex—Joseph E. Haley (D.), John J. Sheehan, Jr. (D.), Harry L. Mams (R.), Thomas G. Portmore (R.).

2d Berkshire—George L. Duggan (D.), Elmer L. Mcfarlane (R.).

16th Hampden—Daniel J. Coakley (D.).

1st Franklin—Andrew C. Warner (R.).

2d Franklin—John Sauter (R.), James F. Lawler (D.)

12th Middlesex—Michael E. Markman (D.), George T. Ira (R.).

11th Suffolk—Thomas H. Carr (D.) Timothy J. McDonough (D.).

5th Bristol—Lewis S. Peckham (R.).

22d Middlesex—Mary L. Barrows (R.), Leonnel W. Standish (R.).

9th Suffolk—John Connolly (D.), Richard D. Gleason (D.), Frank E. Bryant (R.), Rollins Burrell (R.).

12th Suffolk—Owen A. Gallagher (D.), Frank J. McFarland (D.), Harrison H. Atwood (R.), James H. Richardson (R.).

4th Hampden—Nicholas G. V. Nestor (R.), Edward M. Cawley (D.) Wilfred J. Chevalier (R.).

8th Hampden—Charles B. Foley (D.), Richard H. Stacey (R.).

11th Hampden—Paul G. Martel (D. R.).

1st Plymouth—Amedeo V. Sgarzi, (D); Ira G. Ward, (R).

3d Plymouth—William H. Morris, (D); Edgar T. Brickett, (R).

16th Suffolk—Francis J. Hickey, (D), Joseph Finnegan, (D); Mansfeld Austin, (R), John A. Paulson, (R).

14th Suffolk—Patrick J. Bowes, (D), James L. Lafferty, (D), Isadore Fox, (R., Bernard, Ginsburg, (R).

8th Norfolk—Frank B. Coughlin, (D), Henry W. Caldwell, (R).

1st Essex—Joseph O'Donnell, (D), James eW. Clark, (R).

2d Essex—Cornelius P. Driscoll, (D.), Archibald M. Estabrook, (R.), A. H. MacGregor, (R.), Philip H. Stacey, (R.).

17th Middlesex—Harry D. Brown, (R.).

1st Suffolk—William H. Barker, (D.), William H. Hearn, (D.), James S. Coffey, (D.).

8th Suffolk—Francis D. Dailey, (D.), Anthony A. McNulty, (D.), Terrance Adams, (R.), Susan M. Fox, (R.).

2d Suffolk—Charles S. Sullivan, Jr., (D.), Luke D. Mullen, (D.).

15th Essex—Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., (R.), John C. Bacon, (R.), Joseph F. Lynch, (D.), James McPherson, (D.).

4th Middlesex—James P. Gallagher, (R.), Daniel O'Connell, (D.).

Nominated for State Senate

Cape and Plymouth—Donald W. Nicholson (R.).

5th Middlesex—Paul A. Mogan (D.).

8th Middlesex—Michael H. Hoar (D.).

1st Worcester—Thomas E. Dowd (D.).

3d Worcester—John H. Weaver (D.), and Thomas J. Worrell (R.).

4th Worcester—Elbert M. Crockett (R.).

Worcester and Hampden—Andrew J. Leach (D.).

Berkshire, Hampshire and Hampden—Henry W. Warner (D.).

Franklin and Hampshire—Lady R. Elder (R).

1st Hampden—John S. Kane (D), and C. Wesley Hale (R).

Berkshire, Hampden and Hampshire — Henry W. Warner (D), Frederick E. Judd (R).

4th Essex—Patrick J. Doran (D), J. Bradford Davis (R).

1st Middlesex—Edward J. Carey, (D), Arthur W. Hollis, (R).

Norfolk-Middlesex — Samuel H. Wragg (D).

Norfolk — Plymouth — John H. Moran (D); Henry F. Ripley, (R).

7th Suffolk District—Joseph J. Mulhern, (D).

DRIVER ARRESTED AFTER MALDEN WOMAN'S DEATH

Mrs. Bridget Henderson, 66, of 77 Highland ave., Malden, died in Malden Hospital as a result of injuries received in an auto accident in that city last Thursday. Police of Malden charge that John E. Horne of Lawrence drove the machine. He was arrested charged with manslaughter and released on bail of $1000.

Boston's Vote for Gov. (Democratic)

	Cole	Cummings
Ward 1	5611	999
Ward 2	6084	951
Ward 3	4627	755
Ward 4	1013	169
Ward 5	960	141
Ward 6	5623	845
Ward 7	5345	898
Ward 8	5585	780
Ward 9	2182	546
Ward 10	4930	925
Ward 11	5926	791
Ward 12	1311	552
Ward 13	4553	877
Ward 14	1492	343
Ward 15	5131	1142
Ward 16	6738	1075
Ward 17	3245	618
Ward 18	3529	373
Ward 19	2779	412
Ward 20	1735	237
Ward 21	1780	153
Ward 22	4277	703
Total	77,135	13,760

GIRL SERIOUSLY HURT BY MACHINE

Fitchburg, Sept. 19—Jeanette Lazotte, 14 years old, 212 Beech st., was struck and knocked down by an automobile driven by Joseph A. La Rocque of 11 Mairel st.

She has a broken right leg, a broken left collarbone and many bruises about the body and was taken to the Burbank Hospital, where her condition is serious.

DRIVE

THAT was the thing that stood out about Heyland; the way he worked, the way he played—with his untiring, irresistible drive . . .

Yet with Heyland ceaseless vigilance was the price of success. He realized that poisons clogging the intestines ruined dispositions and undermined health. And he had kept his body clean, his mind clear : : : without once resorting to ordinary laxatives; to slow acting health foods or cathartics that wracked the system . . .

Feen-a-mint is different!

It's just like a bit of delicious mint-flavored chewing gum. You don't swallow it hastily, like other laxatives—you chew it!

The chewing releases Feen-a-mint's wonderful cleansing principle so gradually, so naturally that it acts with unbelievable gentleness—yet sweeps out the clogging poisons from your whole system. In 3 to 4 hours (or by morning, if you take it at bedtime) it freshens you from top to toe! It won't torture you with griping pains. It won't disturb digestion or enslave you to laxative pills. Get Feen-a-mint at your druggist's today.

Feen-a-mint

Chew it like Gum

GOODWIN'S FRIENDS SAY HE HOLDS BALANCE OF POWER IN STATE

IN POSITION NOW WHERE HE CAN DICTATE TERMS TO G.O.P.

Continued from First Page.

such prominent war veterans as former Senator Eben S. Draper and Hon. John H. Sherburne.

CONGRATULATED ALLEN.

Goodwin, in his congratulatory message to Allen, said:

"Bill, you and I are as far apart as the poles in our conception of what is best for the people of Massachusetts, it is extremely gratifying that our contest was waged on issues and not on personalities."

On the heels of this message, Goodwin then issued a statement thanking the thousands of friends who worked and voted for him. Then he had this to say:

"The tremendous vote given me was not necessarily personal. It represented a widespread protest against abuses which must be remedied. I am going away for a rest of about 10 days and will return ready for the campaign."

HIS FRIENDS PUZZLED

Goodwin's friends and political analysts were puzzled today by the closing sentence:

"I am going away for a rest for about 10 days and will return ready for the campaign."

Those words had a sinister ring. These are the words which were interpreted as a threat to bolt the ticket. Goodwin when pressed declared emphatically that he would not run as an independent on a sticker campaign claiming that such a course would be absurd and out of the question.

This left only the further interpretation that any activity on his part in the campaign would be the throwing of his influence to one candidate or the other in the senatorial race.

HOLDS BALANCE OF POWER.

Thus in defeat the former registrar of motor vehicles loomed as a danger factor in the political arena of Massachusetts. His legion of friends claim he is the balance of power and holds the State situation in the hollow of his hand.

Unsupported by the Republican machine, he can not owe it to it for as anything, according to his adherents. Therefore the mystery was whether he will support Allen or Cole. The popular opinion seemed to be that Goodwin, who is a member of the Republican State committee, would not cast his lot with the Democrats.

HE IS NON-COMMITTAL.

The surprisingly heavy vote of more than 155,000 shows that he is a factor to be reckoned with.

His friends took pride in the total piled up for their candidate, which they claimed was a protest against the machine and a personal vote of confidence in Goodwin, who ran his campaign singled handed and converted the library of his house, 17 Wade st., Brighton, into a campaign headquarters.

His closing sally, as to his future course, was:

"You will have t doraw your own conclusions."

The huge vote given Goodwin astounded the Republican machine and made the G. O. P. forces apprehensive whether Goodwin would run independent, which would result in a huge split in the party.

The former registrar carried several communities, among them Haverhill, where he received 3789 votes to Allen's 2069.

BIGGEST PRIMARY EVER

As a result of the largest primary ever held in Massachusetts, the Democrats will go to the polls in November with U. S. Senator David I. Walsh a candidate to succeed himself and Gen. Charles H. Cole the party candidate for governor.

The Republicans, more than 200,000 of whom went to the polls, will meet Walsh and Cole with Benjamin Loring Young for United States Senator and Lieutenant-Governor Frank G. Allen as his party's choice for governor.

Former Speaker Young won the Senate nomination by 21,526 votes over former State Senator Eben S. Draper, who in turn has a lead of 18,157 over Butler Ames of Lowell.

The figures represent complete returns from 1524 of the State's 1564 election precincts, including Boston in full.

Young's vote was 158,253; Draper's 138,027; that of Ames, 89,870.

General Cole won the Democratic nomination for Governor from John J. Cummings of Boston by 168,762 votes to 39,182. Cole's lead is 124,580.

In the Republican camp the vote for the nomination for Governor was: Allen, 261,146; Frank A. Goodwin, 184,538. Allen's plurality, 76,608.

YOUNGMAN WINNER

Most interesting, if not the most important of all the contests, was that the Republican nomination to lieutenant-governor. There were eight entrants, representing every part of the state.

The nominee is State Treasurer William S. Youngman of Boston, who in time of a split in the party rise who in the event of his party's triumph as in line for further honors.

John F. Malley, as well known in Kildom throughout the nation as he is in politics at home, took the Democratic nomination for lieutenant-governor from Charles S. Murphy of Worcester. The vote was: Malley, 114,782; Murphy, 75,696.

John W. McCormack was a comfortable if not exactly easy winner of the nomination for Congress in the "Gallivan" district.

In the East Boston-Charlestown Congressional district, the Tenth, Representative Douglass was returned an easy winner over Patrick F. Moran.

Altogether more than 550,000 votes were cast throughout the state.

The state tickets completed, Chairman Francis Prescott of the Republican State Committee and Chairman Frank J. Donahue of the Democratic State Committee were shaping things today for the supreme effort of the first Tuesday in November.

The surprise of the day was the whopping big vote polled by Frank A. Goodwin of East Boston in his one-man effort to grasp the Republican nomination for governor from Lieutenant-Governor Frank G. Allen.

But with the state machine and every big and little local machine working tooth and nail to put him across, Mr. Fuller's lieutenant-governor was nominated by a comfortable majority.

There were other surprises in this Jumbo of Bay State primaries, 'and one of them was Eben S. Draper of Hopedale—one of The Drapers of Hopedale—whose lamented daddy not so many years ago was a two-fisted Republican Governor of Massachusetts.

Advertisement

FUR NEWS FOR WOMEN

A fur coat is an asset to every woman's appearance. If she is lucky, she picked a good coat. If not, she has paid dearly for something she did not receive. It is the most dangerous piece of wearing apparel to purchase. On account of its high cost, and on account of lack of knowledge regarding furs you are at the mercy of the seller. Your knowledge is limited, and the bargain in these days when a very cheap fur can easily be camouflaged to imitate a good, honest coat. A further pitfall ask to be on the alert every minute. Authentically Rabbits are sold under thirty-two titles and masquerade as Fox, Squirrel, Muskrat, Beaver, Mink, Sables and many varieties of Seal. A Hudson Seal Dyed Muskrat coat may legally be sold and advertised as a Hudson Seal Dyed Muskrat coat and still be manufactured from burned, dat, damaged, Canadian or Scotch skins. Thousands of these coats are sold to the poor and middle class each year. They are dear at any price.

3 Well-Known Fur Coats We Do Not Sell

Unfortunately we are not allowed to mention their names. The reason is we know only too well their poor wearing qualities, one season's wear, then disappointment, sadness, dissatisfaction, thoughts of deception, severe criticism, large repair bills and a hatred of your coat which must be put up with for several seasons. All such disappointment and deception may easily be avoided by placing your trust in us to give you what you pay for and back it up with our four-year unconditional guarantee. Our complete stock consists of fine Hudson Seals (Dyed Muskrat), Raccoon, Muskrat, Squirrel, Jap Mink, Mink, Caracul, Bolivian, Northern Seal (first quality only), Mendoza Beaver etc., etc., etc.

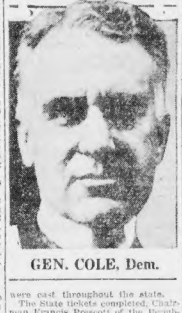
2 Kinds of Guarantees

One is honest and fully protects the innocent buyer against all kinds of deception. The other is a construction of English cleverly phrased to protect the seller and not the buyer. Prices are always low and terms very easy. Priced $79.50 as $1400.

Five ways to buy—Cash, charge, 50, 60 or 90 days, small weekly or monthly payments or your old fur coat taken as first payment. We allow you liberally on your old fur coat. Chas. P. Dolan & Son, Chas. P. Dolan, W. C. "Bill" Dolan, 55 Temple Place; 2d and 3d floors; 2 doors from Washington st.

For Governor

LT.-GOV. ALLEN, Rep.



GEN. COLE, Dem.

Youngman Is Victorious With an Appealing Record

The younger Mr. Draper did not win the nomination for United States Senator, but he polled an immense vote against B. Loring Young and finished so far ahead of Butler Ames of Lowell that that grandson of Ben Butler was almost lost to view.

Draper's vote was a pleasing revelation to the folks at G. O. P. headquarters, who had not realized that pulling power remains in the good name of Eben Draper.

Although there was no great amount of organization cheering for him when a cheer would have done him any good, the G. O. P. machine was also prepared today to take William S. Youngman to its bosom.

The new lieutenant-governorship under ordinary conditions is looked upon as a stepping stone to the governor—or at least to the nomination—but another Republican to make a note of.

While Youngman usually was named as likely to be close to Speaker Hull and Gen. John H. Sherburne at the finish, the organization dopesters seldom placed him better than second.

Another gogetter who would be decorated at once if the Republican organization had decorations to bestow is former State Senator John W. Haigis, of Greenfield.

Haigis is the organization man who knocked Fred J. Burrell out of the picture and took the State Treasurer nomination. Burrell, an advertising man living in Medford, resigned from the State Treasurership under fire, nine years ago, at state politics.

Alonzo Cook Sticks Fast in the G. O. P. Ointment

The only fly in the ointment of the G. O. P. machine, in fine, appears to be Alonzo B. Cook is still with us.

They used to blame the primary, and particularly the alphabetical arrangement of the ballot, for A.B.C., but today they are blaming the hunger for office of too many Republicans.

David I. Walsh and Charles H. Cole stand today in unquestioned control of the Democratic organization in Massachusetts.

State G. O. P. Head Thinks Young Can Defeat Walsh

Nomination of B. Loring Young, of Weston, for United States Senator, Prescott Keyes, means the retirement of Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat.

Chairman Donahue, of the rival organization, not only ridiculed the suggestion that Young is "big" enough to "take" Walsh, but declared the nomination of General Charles H. Cole, for Governor, not only strengthens Walsh initially, but improves Smith's chances in Massachusetts.

A Cold Prevented Is Better Than a Cold Cured

Prevent Fall and Early Winter Colds by Using

CHENEY'S Good Tonic

WINE OF COD LIVER OIL (Extractives) WITH MALT.

In Combination with Beef, Pepsone and Hypophosphites

An old-reliable tonic recommended in Anemia, Faulty Nutrition, Persistent Cough; in convalescence from Wasting Disease and as a Reconstructive.

LARGE BOTTLE 75c

By Mail 85c
SOLD AT ALL DRUGGISTS

G. S. CHENEY CO.
HERB SPECIALISTS
15 UNION STREET
BOSTON, MASS.

Youngman Thankful to Voters for Nomination

State Treasurer William S. Youngman issued the following statement today on his nomination for lieutenant-governor:

"I thank the Republican voters of Massachusetts most heartily for their support in this contest, as my four years as State Treasurer I have endeavored to give full service to all the people, and I deeply appreciate their recognition of my efforts."

ROXBURY MAN HELD ON ILLEGAL VOTING CHARGE

James J. Galvin of Huntington ave., Roxbury, pleaded not guilty in Roxbury Court today charged with voting under an assumed name. His case was continued until Sept. 28 and he was held in bail of $200.

It is alleged that Galvin appeared at Precinct 7 of Ward 19 yesterday and voted under the name of Thomas Kilduff, a registered voter, who is absent from the city.

MRS. ANDREWS, VICTOR, HAILS PARTY SPIRIT

Glowing with her overwhelming victory, Mrs. Esther C. M. Andrews, only woman member of the Executive Council, and first woman to be appointed to that position, left her home in Parkman st., Brookline, early today, smiling and happy, to attend a board meeting of the Women's Republican Club.

She polled 4499 votes over the nearest of her four opponents in the Third District councillor fight.

"My own town gave me 3399," she said, "while Mr. Ammidon received only 747."

"I am so pleased with the result of the nominations," she continued. "I am delighted with the showing of Lieut.-Gov. Allen, but what was most important was the demonstration of the Republicans and the wholehearted way in which they went to the primaries.

"I am happy that I was named again for the Governor's Council and that my district has sufficient confidence in me, as a woman, to occupy a place on a council that never before had a place filled by a woman.

"I want especially to express my thanks to the Boston electors for their courtesy and kindness. It has been wonderful and most generous to me on all issues. Through their columns I want to thank all my friends and supporters for continued confidence.

From early returns it was clearly shown that Mrs. Andrews would lead by a safe margin. The combined voting of wards 4, 9, 21 and 22 gave her a majority of 1225 votes over her nearest rival, Mr. Ammidon.

the urgent request of Governor Calvin Coolidge.

Watching the returns, early last night, Republican leaders, and particularly the potential candidates and their friends, were scared almost into fits by the continued threat of a Democratic upset. Mr. Haigis, who eliminates him, is a banker and newspaper publisher of Greenfield. His nomination will appeal to Central Massachusetts. It removes from the G. O. P. ticket the reproach of "too much Eastern Massachusetts."

The nomination of Attorney General Joseph E. Warner for a full term in that office was quite generally expected. Chester I. Barrows of Methuen, the defeated candidate, began his primary campaign with an effort to force Warner's leave of absence to take the chairmanship of the Democratic State Committee and consult with attorneys upon Governor Smith of New York, with references to the gambling institution known as the Albany Pool. Warner carried Barnes' own home town of Mansfield.

Mr. Warner, a resident of Taunton, succeeded to the attorney generalship when Arthur K. Reading, Boston, died. Some years ago he was the pet foe and political rival of Alvan Fuller. Some of the things Mr. Fuller said about him in those days are not unlikely to be revived for campaign purposes by his Democratic opponent, former Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Barry, Reds, by the way, is not at liberty to go to Albany and come this right against the Albany Pool. He is going on the stump in effort in may yet be heard from in state politics.

WALSH'S OPPONENT AND FAMILY

THEY'RE PROUD OF THEIR VICTORY

B. Loring Young, who was nominated by the Republicans as an opponent of Senator David I. Walsh, is shown with Mrs. Young and their children at their home at 50 Front st., Weston. Young defeated Eben S. Draper and Gen. Butler Ames in the primaries.

McCORMACK IS VICTOR IN 12TH DISTRICT

Continued from First Page.

approximately four months which will remain of the Gallivan term.

Mr. McCormack won from both and will go to Washington in November.

For the long term, which will begin in March next, the vote was as follows:

McCormack	11198
Sullivan	10117
Hennessey	8209
Dunn	3139
Lyons	2431
Curley	378
Fish	277
Carroll	236
Collins	222

Men who know politics and been agreed for several weeks past the fight was going to be a hard one. McCormack's contenders being School Commissioner Edward M. Sullivan and State Senator William J. Hennessey. From the beginning, General Jack Dunn was known as more than an outside chance. Daniel Lyons not quite that, "the echoes, he laughingly said, have been long in coming."

Originally, the question was "Sullivan or Hennessey?" Mr. Sullivan becoming a real contender at the start. His association with the School Committee to take from graduates of Teachers College "all supervisors to be appointed" right to positions in the public schools.

Commissioner Sullivan has made it possible for graduates of Emmanuel, Smith, Regis, Wellesley and other colleges to enter competitive examinations on equal terms with "Normal."

That right, and its result, made Mr. Sullivan a factor in the race for Congress. He may have taken some strength from Senator Hennessey. Mr. McCormack, the wily, attracted attention and won serious consideration two years ago by a splendid initial run against Congressman Gallivan. The feeling is quite general throughout the district that, given a second run, once in Washington, McCormack will pound into a worthy successor to an "old guard" legislator.

The contest for the "short" Gallivan term resulted in almost the same order. McCormack leading in 600 or more, Sullivan and Hennessey following after, Dunn and Lyons trailing, and the "field" nowhere.

Former Congressman William J. McNary will be on the ballot in November as the candidate of Independent citizens and McCormack has that ninth to make. His task of more than 4000 over Sullivan and Mayor Hennessey, however, is generally believed to indicate that McNary will have to meet an overwhelming majority. To this McNary does not agree.

REGISTRATION RESUMED, WITH MANY APPLICANTS

Registration of voters was resumed today at City Hall and will continue until October 17 at 10 p. m. Voters may register from now until October 3 between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. and from the third until the closing hour of the 17th the office will be open from 9 a. m. until 10 p. m.

Apparently inspired by the results of a great primary, many were on hand today to register.

HOW BAY STATE CAST VOTES IN PRIMARIES

Continued from First Page.

U. S. SENATOR (Rep)
B. Loring Young, 158,253.
Eben S. Draper, 138,027.
Butler Ames, 89,870.

U. S. SENATOR (Dem.)
David I. Walsh (unopposed).

TREASURER (Rep.) 1967 Precincts
John W. Haigis, 114,361.
Fred J. Merrill, 102,129.
Russell A. Wood, 36,262.
J. Ernest Kerr, 49,702.

TREASURER (Dem.) 1967 Precincts
James P. Bergin, 84,674.
Daniel Coughlin, 78,255.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL (Rep.)
1393 Precincts
Joseph E. Warner, 258,600.
Clarence A. Barnes, 97,637.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL (Dem.)
1393 Precincts
Edward P. Barry, 122, 113.
William R. Scharton, 52,182.
AUDITOR (Dem.) 1393 Precincts
Alonzo B. Cook, 159,569.
Roland H. Choate, 89,166.
Sarah B. Riordan, 37,265.
Roswell F. Phelps, 28,297.
Dwight L. Allison, 25,111.
Steven E. Frost, 20,511.

AUDITOR (Dem.) (1393 Precincts).
Francis J. O'Gorman, 79,578.
Steven E. Flaggell, 59,655.
Irving Lewis, 15,708.

SUPREME COURT CLERK (Dem.)
(Complete).
John J. Cronin, 16,159.
Charles S. O'Connor, 29,578.

SUPERIOR COURT CLERK (Dem.)
(Complete)
James A. Mulvey, 24,291.
Francis R. Campbell, 20,222.

REGISTER DEEDS (Dem.)
(Complete)
W. T. A. FitzGerald, 19,012.
Garrett Byrne, 11,622.

GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL (Rep.) 3rd
Dist.) (Complete).
Esther A. Andrews, 9426.
Ralph Stratton, 1927.

GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL (Dem., 8th
Dist. Complete).
James F. Powers, 29,511.
J. Frederick Curtin, 18,547.

CONGRESS, (Dem. Dist. Dem., Complete).
John W. McCormack, long term, 11,198; short term, 10,117.
Edward M. Sullivan, long term, 10,117; short term, 9916.

MOSES SAYS SMITH IS STRADDLING FARM ISSUE

New York, Sept. 19 (AP)—Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, Republican campaign manager for the Hoover campaign, said today Governor Smith was "straddling the body politic against the middle" on the question of farm relief.

The Democratic nominee, asserted the Senator in commenting on the Governor's Omaha speech, was trying to get both proponents and opponents of the equalization fee to vote for him.

"The simplicity of the ostrich would," said Senator Moses, "seem West by a million sheiks' special train to carry relief to the harassed farmers of that section. His remedy consists in a plea to give him a chance. His promise consists in a pledge to appoint a commission to tell him what to do."

MIND AND BODY TESTS FOR NEW EL WORKERS

In future, men seeking employment with the Boston Elevated must pass a thorough mental and physical examination before they can be entrusted with the lives of the traveling public.

Announcement of this decision was contained in a report made to Governor Fuller by Chairman Samuel L. Powers of the board of Elevated trustees. It results directly from the fatal Elevated crash at Beach st., a few months ago.

The new power to enforce disciplines and to establish the fitness of Elevated employes for the handling of trains and cars, gives the Elevated board of trustees "greater power than ever before," insofar as disciplining employes is concerned, according to the report.

It was the result of many conferences between the Carmen's Union and the board of trustees following the finding of a jury which already as a result of the examination of records of rapid transit motorman four operators, besides the operator of the wrecked Atlantic ave. train, have been discharged from the service.

General Manager Edward Dana is alive to have no submit the recommendations for appointment of motormen to the board of trustees, and his recommendations are to be accompanied in every pass by an attested and certified record and qualifications of the candidate for the job.

All rapid transit motormen will undergo a physical examination similar to that given engineers on big steam railroad systems once a year.

URGE WALES' BROTHER AS SOUTH AFRICAN KING

Pretoria, South Africa, Sept. 19 (INS)—A newspaper article was printed here today suggesting that the Duke of Gloucester, son of King George of England, be crowned "King of the Union of South Africa." The Duke and his brother, the Prince of Wales, are now visiting Africa.

Bald Eagle Will Be Byrd's Mascot on Antarctic Trip

Nashua, N. H., Sept. 19—An American bald eagle, which has made his home on an animal farm here for several years, was sent to Hampton Roads, Va., to be mascot on the Byrd Antarctic expedition.

In a crate decorated with an American flag, the eagle started on the journey by express. The bird will be a passenger on the expedition's ship Jason.

2 SENATE G.O.P. LEADERS LOSE

One of the greatest upheavals in the Republican primary insofar as the Legislature is concerned came in the defeat of the two G. O. P leaders in the Senate.

Senator Walter E. McLane of Fall River, with 15 years continuous service to his credit, lost to former Mayor James H. Kay of the same city, by 2900 votes.

In the Fourth Middlesex Senatorial District the present Senate floor leader, Alvin E. Bliss of Malden, was passed out by Representative Archie L. Goodwin of Melrose by 341 votes.

Horse Is Co'or Blind

New York, Sept. 19—Herman Meyerowitz says the horse thinks red is green and green is red. That's the excuse he gave in court for having a traffic signal. His sentence was suspended on condition that he blindfolded the horse.

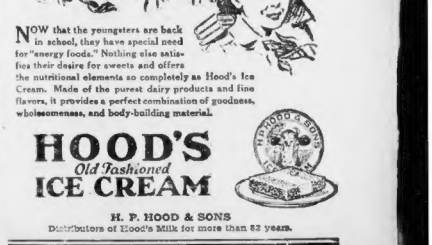
Autumn
FELTS
Chic as Can Be!
$2.95

A Special Price!

If you love a truly smart "tailored" hat, let your eye rest on these newly arrived felts for Fall! Brand new, fresh fashions! Lovely Autumn colorings! And imagine—only $2.95!

Small and Large Headsizes

Campell's
519 Washington St.
Open Daily — 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.



NOW that the youngsters are back in school, they have special need for "energy foods." Nothing else satisfies their desire for sweets and offers the nutritional elements so completely as Hood's Ice Cream. Made of the purest dairy products and fine flavors, it provides a perfect combination of goodness, wholesomeness, and body-building material.

HOOD'S
Old Fashioned ICE CREAM

H. P. HOOD & SONS
Distributors of Hood's Milk for more than 82 years.

HOOVER MEN SAY ONLY MIRACLE CAN GIVE AL CORN BELT STATES

ANALYST SEES BIG FIGHT

By CHARLES N. WHEELER
Noted Political Analyst

Chicago, Sept. 19—Eighty-two electoral votes are the big stake for which Governor Smith and his Tammany farmers are fighting in their whirlwind spell-binding invasion of the corn and wheat belt.

The next two weeks will determine whether the Broadway orators will abandon this section to the Republicans or decide to continue the fight for some, if not all, the states in this class.

In this respect Governor Smith's formal opening of the stump campaign in Omaha last night was in the nature of an experiment. Rushlob took the candidate onto the hill's mountain and pictured the dirt farmers waiting to receive him with open arms. Smith has been informed that his personality, his ready wit and his free-and-easy manderisms—the Al Smith of the Battery—will make as big a hit in the corn fields as on Lexington ave.

The experiment in the great open spaces has attracted more interest, perhaps, than has attended a national campaign in a great many years. More than half a hundred newspaper men are accompanying Smith, charged with the momentous task of informing a waiting world whether the Broadway barnstormers are selling their stuff to the blue denim voters, or whether their oratorical efforts are merely having a pleasant time without leaving a deep impression as to their statecraft equipment.

SMITH'S INVASION

Here we have an outsider of Manhattan Island, born, reared and nurtured his life long in its practical politics, journeying half way across the continent with a spectacular entourage to tell the farmers what's wrong with their crops and give them a few pointers on how to double the wheat and corn "kitty" without increasing the price of bread in New York city.

Although to the Republican ch'efs it is another Cervantes dream, well-informed Democratic strategists are firmly of the opinion that it is anything but Quixotic. With the exception of Kansas and Iowa, they are sincere in the belief that Governor Smith and the "Arkansas traveller" running mate have a fifty-fifty chances today in th's entire section.

Besides these two states, the commonwealths that are to be covered in the present tour, either directly or by remote control, are Oklahoma, Colorado, North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Nebraska was met last night.

These are the states in which the Democratic chiefs are placing their reliance on the assumption that the LaFollette vote of four years ago will swing almost solidly to Governor Smith, but not much because the recalcitrants are for Smith as because they are supposed to be "agin" the Coolidge-Hoover-Mellon directorate at Washington.

THE VOTE IN 1924

The following table shows the the total LaFollette-Davis vote as compared with the Coolidge vote:

States.	Coolidge Votes.	LaFollette Votes.	Total Coolidge
Neb. ..	100,701	137,289	243,990
Okla. ..	41,181	225,756	205,939
Col. ..	69,963	75,318	145,183
N. D. ..	74,402	115,444	189,750
S. D. ..	73,358	77,311	102,566
Minn. ..	399,192	450,915	790,108
Wis. ..	453,478	68,698	581,774
Total ..	1,212,275	1,150,731	2,359,310

It will be seen that Davis and LaFollette together got more votes than Coolidge in Nebraska, Oklahoma, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin, while Coolidge's total topped them both in Colorado and Minnesota.

The Democratic theory is that while Smith cannot hope to get all the LaFollette vote he may make up the loss in the accretion of Republican vote, even in sufficient numbers to offset the big Democratic women vote that is going to Hoover.

HOOVER LEADS

The Republican generals insist that nothing but a miracle could achieve this result, while the Jeffersonian strategists are saying that Governor Smith will pull several white rabbits out of the brown derby before the present fight is at an end.

In the nation-wide Hearst poll today Hoover is leading in Nebraska, Oklahoma, North Dakota and Minnesota. South Dakota, which has not yet been canvassed, is promised for Hoover by Senators Nye and Frazier.

Latest Figures in Hearst Straw Ballot

States.	HOOVER Men.	HOOVER Women.	HOOVER Total.	SMITH Men.	SMITH Women.	SMITH Total.	COOLIDGE 1924 Men.	COOLIDGE 1924 Women.	COOLIDGE 1924 Total.	DAVIS Men.	DAVIS Women.	DAVIS Total.
Alabama	394	214	1308	1742	391	2133	297	107	404	1764	504	2268
Arizona	591	491	1082	371	269	640	562	462	1024	265	158	423
California	13739	12579	25799	10735	7323	18058	13474	10250	23964	2687	1623	4310
Connecticut	3338	2336	5674	1798	1587	3385	4239	2652	6955	1239	684	1923
Delaware	1644	573	2217	821	225	1046	1559	438	2047	437	167	604
Florida	3113	1136	4249	2164	898	3062	1403	438	1841	2902	1043	3945
Georgia	6218	2032	8250	8208	2134	10242	2246	610	2856	6605	935	7540
Idaho	294	127	421	273	91	364	201	89	301	144	27	171
Illinois	15015	17614	35629	17917	13497	31414	20114	16446	36560	10016	9460	19476
Indiana	5750	5249	10999	6106	3475	9581	5617	4565	10182	3039	2152	5191
Iowa	322	198	520	189	80	269	270	167	437	126	76	212
Kansas	18	17	35	2	..	2	12	11	23	6	3	9
Kentucky	2275	2156	4431	1974	1863	3836	2606	1091	3697	1936	1857	3793
Maine	2525	1239	4764	1955	540	2495	4476	1323	5799	1112	244	1356
Maryland	9396	2694	12090	8090	1771	9771	7894	2158	10052	5564	1294	6858
Massachusetts	10629	3167	13796	12413	3578	15991	13836	3859	17695	5029	1937	6857
Michigan	19696	9092	28298	8740	6441	15181	21073	7851	28964	2922	1666	4588
Minnesota	2311	2358	7278	1898	2295	5184	5178	3266	8632	443	307	750
Mississippi	871	395	1266	2248	841	3089	234	58	292	2312	894	3206
Missouri	2978	3127	7105	5016	3281	8297	4563	3161	7664	2307	2256	5763
Montana	706	783	1483	383	459	842	737	756	1493	164	136	300
Nebraska	1461	1129	2590	1498	848	2346	1476	981	2457	1142	761	1902
Nevada	46	24	70	54	30	84	74	41	115	17	10	27
New Hampshire	3664	1604	5268	1951	615	2566	4933	1588	5621	959	257	1216
New Jersey	4399	2411	6810	5259	2172	7431	4876	2157	6533	2447	885	3332
New York	32949	26955	59895	23463	21921	60284	35447	25440	60887	21016	13128	34138
North Carolina	5182	2016	7192	4320	1442	5772	2594	854	3608	4984	1778	6762
Ohio	1870	353	2243	2212	345	2757	2256	445	2701	805	219	1024
Oklahoma	1614	461	2075	1029	231	1280	943	319	1262	1028	290	1318
Oregon	557	431	988	218	136	354	667	437	1104	121	65	186
Pennsylvania	9614	4637	14241	7057	3456	10563	11680	5442	17522	1558	474	2032
Rhode Island	4586	1042	5628	4644	1168	5752	5936	1401	7337	2395	624	3019
South Carolina	551	217	768	1823	701	2524	156	49	196	1935	765	2700
South Dakota	43	26	69	13	8	26	45	24	69	9	4	13
Tennessee	4757	996	5753	3453	756	4209	3522	623	4145	3836	838	4524
Texas	4798	2065	6863	5119	1526	6645	..	..	..	..	..	..
Vermont	2683	1116	3799	999	381	1380	3237	1226	4463	913	122	635
Virginia	1053	279	1332	1122	229	1351	646	108	754	1230	307	1537
Washington	2375	2037	4412	1401	771	2172	2625	1945	4570	418	274	692
West Virginia	295	64	359	215	52	267	177	40	217	192	51	243
Wyoming	953	84	1037	337	37	374	823	90	1013	190	20	210
Wisconsin	5472	4508	9980	6468	4244	10812	5656	4119	9775	984	585	1569
Totals	189385	121607	310992	183315	92652	276381	187939	294177	108516	97881	49181	147062
*Colorado			8373			19172
*New Mexico			407			246
*Utah			12857			8510
Grand totals			332529			295309

*No segregation of votes.

(La Follette in 1924 polled 2351 votes in the precincts thus far reported from Minnesota, 1762 votes in Pennsylvania, and 2842 votes in Wisconsin.)

WINNERS AND LOSERS HAVE THEIR SAY

Defeated for the U. S. Presidency by Calvin Coolidge in 1924, Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin is now supporting Governor Alfred E. Smith for the office. Here are his views on the campaign:

"The Democratic party has made a clean-cut appeal to the progressive voters of the country. Governor Smith has made a straight-from-the-shoulder campaign. He has met the issues squarely. He has not dodged a single question. He has not hidden behind platitudes. He has not evaded. He has not straddled. He has not equivocated. He has not compromised. He has not surrendered. He has not retreated. He has not run away. He has not run out. He has not run under the bed. He has not run up a tree. He has not run down a hole. He has not run around a corner. He has not run across the street. He has not run over anybody. He has not run for cover. He has not run for office. He has not run for anything else. He has not run at all. He has stood his ground and fought it out.

"Governor Smith has made a great campaign. He has made a great campaign because he has made a great fight. He has made a great fight because he has fought for great principles. He has fought for great principles because he has fought for the principles of the great majority of the people. He has fought for the principles of the great majority of the people because he has fought for the principles of the great majority of the people of the United States.

"Governor Smith has fought for the principles of the great majority of the people of the United States because he has fought for the principles of the great majority of the people of the United States. He has fought for the principles of the great majority of the people of the United States

STOLEN LOVE

by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

Author of "The SECRET STUDIO"

Will Any Man Love Girl With a Past?

CHAPTER 3.

AFTERWARDS, Joan thought it odd that Bill's proposal had not made him seem to look at her as he was, and still . . . and still . . .

Bill looked up at her, standing there by the window, with a kind of wonder in his face, as if he were looking at a princess. A jealousness out of a book.

"He liked me right away," she thought . . . And when Bill got to the second part he answered in a ogre-ish little group about Hilda Selbrack, who didn't like her any more, she didn't care—much. "I s'pose they're talking about me again. Making fun of my shoes or something. Well, I don't care—he never even saw them. He just—saw me!"

And the little fire that Bill's ore admiring glance had kindled in her heart, warmed her. Sent tingling little shivers racing down her back.

The girls turned speaking to her. Nobody had paid his attention to her since the day Hilda got mad as her. Hilda was the most popular girl in high school. All the good times centered around the Brockwick big respectable house on the hill. So long as Hilda championed her she was one of them, or as much as one of them as a chubby, old-fashioned little girl in sunny serge and cotton stockings can be one of a group of well dressed maidens.

Most of them really liked Joan—she was always outdoing over with fun and jokes, but as Dorothy Sadler said afterwards, "it's kind of a pity to send rid of her, unless you want Lute to be seen with a frump like that. It makes you feel kind of funny inside."

So Joan was dropped—unattached, and occasionally sneered at, with the amazing callousness and cruelty that only the young are capable of. At recess she stood all alone in her corner of the school yard, like a stunted yellow cricket, dreaming of Bill.

"Well, of course Joan was—cute," Dorothy Sadler said with a sigh, "but I don't see what Bill Selbrack can see in her to—to—to rave about!"—"

"Oh, but I did not want Bert Sadler to run on the way home? I know I want to tell you what Bill said!"—"

The girls—all excited, with the running of little puff sleeves, and the tossing of tiny, tinsel little shirrings—

Joan tried not to listen to them, but she could not help trying to learn what Bill had said. Two whole weeks had gone by since the good times and the happiness of that day. Two weeks in which Hilda's ridicule had made her as poor as a beggar. If she could be a beggar and be friends again. Hilda would wear pale green mail something like that dress she was raving about—with little puff sleeves . . .

Her . . . the cosmic barrel jangling. Recess was over at last. Joan got to her feet. She felt, when one of the girls turned to look at her, that she looked like a beggar. Reading and reading carefully drawing.

The old duck . . . couldn't stand that Joan . . . she hurried past Gowan's garage. It was six blocks out of her way, but she could walk downtown and pretend she had to buy something at the grocery.

Hurrying along the little board walk to the ferry and Capt. Horner was behind her. "Hello, Joanna! Hastings, what you doing down—"

The quick scarlet dyed her cheeks. "Oh, I'm going to the grocery." Her tongue tripped on the lie. She looked at him and made out of b—, round, gray-green eyes.

"Going to get your sweetheart—" "Oh, what?" Old Capt. Horner, who never bored when she was a little girl, said: "Aren't a little girl with a sweetie? The very idea. Well, well—"

"Of course, I'm not!" Joan gasped. She looked at him in horror. How could he say such a possibly found out?

"Well, you will be pretty soon. Getting prettier every day, Johnnie. Since we Glues'll have to be calling you Joan now, you're getting so old, or mebbe Miss Priscilla'll be her."

Joan turned, too, with blessed relief. Oh the ugly she was of—how he could mean anything—

"Goodby," she flung over her shoulder. "Goodby, Capt. Horner."

Now she was almost at the garage. Her steps got slower. Slower still. The boy was out in front, doing something to a truck. His strong, tan arms flashed in the sun. A little pulse began to beat in Joan's throat. Should she speak first, or wait? Now he was turning toward her. Panic gripped her. She turned to flee and he still—rooted to the spot—staring. But she wasn't she was wishing he'd along waiting for her passing by. She tried desperately to speak, to say "Hello" and "Oh, but she couldn't. Her tongue was too dry and stiff.

Joan was poised so far over the eyes she couldn't be sure that he saw her. Anyway he pretended not to. He turned away from her, and so she didn't look Joan's heart almost stopped beating. She was suddenly hit her feet carried her down along round the turn of the road up the steep road that twisted above the town.

After a while she found herself sitting on the grass on a hill, and something was hurting a rube, and a tingle of creeping cries.

She sat there a long time, on the

Please Turn to Page 13, Column 3.

The Boston Evening American is a paper pledged to preserve peace among the citizens of this nation and promote the peace of the world.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1928

SECOND SECTION

WIFE DESERTER SCORED BY JUDGE DUBUQUE

PLANNED TO WED; DIDN'T TELL GIRL

Dorothy Talbot, 21, of 25 Bainbridge st., Roxbury, appeared at the marriage license bureau in City Hall and cancelled an application applied for by an admirer who failed to appraise her of the fact.

Dorothy acted after her mother learned that Harold G. Hobart, 28, Warren st., Roxbury, had applied for the permit without Miss Talbot's knowledge or consent. He is also said by Mrs. Talbot to have omitted the social error of not asking her for the hand of her daughter.

"I don't want him at this house," Mrs. Talbot said. She declined to discuss her daughter's affairs with the couple.

Dorothy's plans for a quick elopement were frustrated by the refusal of Hobart to accompany her to the office of the city clerk, where the license was issued. He told an acquaintance that while the license was in his hand he did not intend to consummate the ceremony to take place at some time to come.

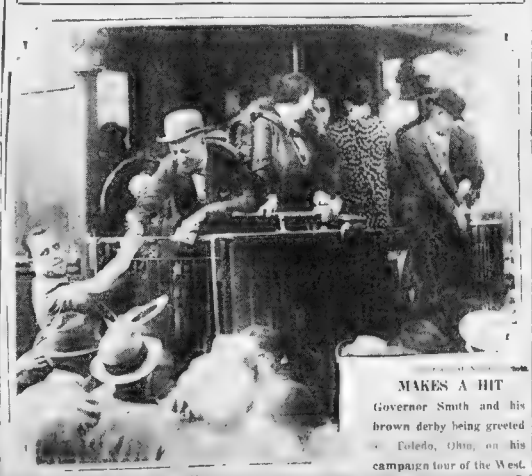
EX-HOTEL OWNER IS SUICIDE

Providence6, R. I., Sept. 19—Death by poison, self-administered, ended the career of Burton J. Baldwin, former tutor of Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and until recently owner of the Muenchinger-King hotel in Newport.

His body was discovered when a maid, Mary Cipponcalli, saw a ray of light under the door of his room and became suspicious. She summoned the owner of the hotel and after finding Baldwin lifeless on the bed the police.

Dr. William H. Nicoll, medical examiner, found a quantity of poison in Baldwin's room. The [illegible] of the stomach [illegible] to friends and [illegible] Baldwin [illegible] a letter [illegible]

AL'S DERBY 'THE DARBY' OUT WEST



MAKES A HIT

Governor Smith and his brown derby being greeted in Toledo, Ohio, on his campaign tour of the West.

BEGINS SERVING 2-YEAR SENTENCE TODAY

Mrs. [illegible] P. O'Brien, 42A Ferry st, [illegible] Boston, [illegible] State Farm today with a [illegible] Hon. Dubuque still ringing in his ears.

BELIEVES WIFE LURED AWAY

Relief [illegible] pretty Mrs. Edith [illegible] of [illegible] and her [illegible]

The Store for Men

Jordan Marsh Company

A Separate Store in a Separate Building

Store Hours 9 to 5.30

---it's a Young Man's

SHIRT

of fine cheviot!

A little heavier and warmer than the shirts they've been wearing—but crisp, new and appealing because of its Autumnal colorings and general utility—dull blues, greens and lavender.

$2.50

Other New Fall Shirts 1.95 to 12.00

—also most desirable for Autumn are the new

White Poplin Shirts with collars attached

$2.50

300 imported fancy lisle Half Hose, full fashioned and excellent value. Our usual prices, 1.50 and 2.00 85c

STREET FLOOR—THE STORE FOR MEN

For instant Telephone Order Service —call special Telephone HUBbard 2700 —for the college girl's room unusual values —the result of very special purchases wardrobe bags 2.75 each —to add [illegible] to the clothes in your closet! Stretch fabric in tailored taste for [illegible] "clothes" Many [illegible] wardrobe bags at 1.95 each stocking boxes 50c each

[illegible] stocking boxes at 65c each.

vanity boxes 3.65 each

[illegible] vanity boxes [illegible] with [illegible] shoe bags at 75c each.

waste baskets 1.15 each

[illegible] waste basket can aid [illegible] these small articles at this special price shoe bags 50c each

[illegible] shoe bags [illegible] with [illegible]

laundry bags 85c each

—a dress to [illegible] just [illegible] Art embroideries section fourth floor, main store — near women's waiting room

Jordan Marsh Company

The more fur the smarter the coat . . . . . says Paris!

coats for most part are the straightline silhouette with geometrical seamings, which add fashion interest . . . fur collars are large and luxurious looking . . . while cuffs feature such new treatments as diagonal bands, pointed cuffs . . . sometimes fur cuffs extend to the elbows.

$45.

fabrics:

broadcloths, suede cloths and broadtail weaves.

colors:

browns, tans, blues, wine shades, gray, black.

furs:

ringtail opossum, sus-liki, caracul, skunk, baby seal, South American kit fox, plain and pointed Manchurian dog.

women's inexpensive coats second floor—main store

Sizes 36 to 46 in all styles

Other coats in this section $29.50 to $45

Jordan Marsh Company

Store hours now 9 to 5:30

Mr. Kayo Wins Golf Tourney. He Should Go After Gene Tunney's Crown

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

'Red' Barrett Solves Tackle Problem at Harvard

RATED BEST LINEMAN ON SQUAD

Coach Horween Forgets Prat After Watching Worcester Acad. Product in Action

By TED LYNCH

JUDGE AND SERIES PLANNING BOARD

MAPPING OUT BIG SERIES CONTESTS

Seated, left to right, Col. Jacob Ruppert, Yanks; E. S. Barnard, A. L. head; Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis; John Heydler, N. L. head; Charles Stoneham, Giants. Standing, left to right, Ed Barrow, Yanks; Jim Tierney, Giants; Charles McManus, Yanks; S. Stebling, A's; Branch Rickey, Cards; W. L. Veeck, Cubs; Thomas Shibe, A's; Sam Muddy Watters, Pirates. They met to make plans for the coming World Series.

DONOHUE AFTER GUARD BERTH AT HEIGHTS

By JOHN GILLOOLY

Both Cards and Yanks Lead by Two Games

THE champion Yankees picked up a game on the Athletics yesterday and now have a two-game edge on the Connie Macks.

The Cards hung to their similar margin on the Giants by cleaning up their Philly series. And the Cubs kept in the race by beating the Braves

Following are the standings of the contending clubs:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	Won	Lost.	Pct.
New York	94	49	.657
Philadelphia	92	51	.644

NATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	Pct
St. Louis	88	55	.615
New York	86	57	.601
Chicago	85	59	.590

Showers Halt Reds and Braves

Rain made necessary the postponement of today's scheduled double-header between the Braves and Cincinnati Reds at the Wigwam and, as a result, the teams must engage in bargain bills daily for the remainder of the week to complete their season's schedule.

MOUNTS, SELECTIONS AND PRICES

OPINION OF LEADING HANDICAPPERS

At Aqueduct — At Lincoln Fields

At Aqueduct

At Lincoln Fields

PENN TO WORK UNDER BIG LIGHTS

Hulbert to Quit as A. A. U. Head

Rapids Mich., Sept. 19 (AP)

ARMY STARTS SECRET PRACTICE FOR B. U. FRAY

West Point, N. Y., Sept. 19—As Army's preliminary football training enters the final stages the Authorities Continue Miller Death Probe

Newtown N Y Sept 19 (AP)—

ANDY KAYO PUTS OUT RAY BABCOCK ON LINKS

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 19—Ray

Walter Johnson Building

BASEBALL

National League

American League

Indoor Sports -:- -:- -:- By TAD

BOYS I HAVE AN IDEA—WHY NOT PUT A LITTLE HUMOR INTO OUR NEWSPAPER ADS GIVING THE READER A LAUGH AS HE READS THE ADS ABOUT OUR CLOTHES
SAY! THAT'S A LIL
HO-HO THAT SURE IS A DARB
YES A LAUGH IN EACH AD
THAT'S OK. THERE IS A LAUGH IN EACH SUIT
MY WIFE SPRAINED HER SIDES LAUGHING AT THE LAST SUIT I GOT HERE
YES—THE GUY WHO BUYS OUGHTA GET A LAUGH AS WELL AS THOSE WHO LOOK AT HIM
HE'D THEM IN STITCHES
A LAUGH IN EVERY STITCH
SHE SAID SHE PREFERRED LIGHT READING SO—ME SENT HER A LAMP CATALOGUE AD
INDOOR SPORTS
LISTENING IN AS THE GENTS CLOTHIER DECIDES TO PUT HUMOR INTO HIS ADS AS WELL AS HIS READY MADE SUITS

No Games Today in Either League

League Leaders

For Other Sports See Page 19

Bouts Last Night

WHY be BALD
We Guarantee to GROW NEW HAIR
Our specialized treatments for DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR ITCHING SCALP are only $1.00
Examination—FREE
The MERTIN SYSTEM Inc.
Hair and Scalp Specialists
41 Winter St., Boston

FELT HATS CLEANED—BLOCKED
WHILE YOU WAIT
Men's 75c Women's $1
NEW BANDS—BINDINGS—LEATHERS
WM. R. HAND CO., Inc.
44 LA GRANGE ST.
45 WASHINGTON ST.

Holiday Was a Bust for Grid Star, Whose Jaw Was Broken by Skyrocket

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

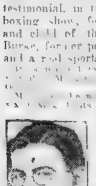
Argonne Club Plans Bouts for Burke Testimonial

HIGH GRADE FIGHTS ON PROGRAM

Show for Widow and Child of Late Mike Burke, a Real Sportsman

By JACK CONWAY

MATCHMAKER EDDIE MACK of the Argonne Club today agreed to give the full co-operation of his organization in staging a monster testimonial, in the form of a boxing show, for the widow and child of the late Mike Burke, former police inspector and a real sportsman.



Jack Conway

Good Fellows Get Together

THE JUDGE TELLS A GOOD ONE

Former world's champion, James J. Jeffries, on left; Walter Kelley, the Virginia Judge, in center, and Mayor Quinn get together for a fanning bee. Jeffries and kelley are appearing at Boston theaters this week.

Football Makes Hit at Brighton High

By DICK McSWEENEY

Brighton high, the school that produced Joe McKenney of Boston College fame, is infused with real football spirit. Out of a group of 350 boys attending school, 70 have gone out for the football team.

JIM MALONEY and Jack De Mave are busy at their training

MALONEY will enter the ring a favorite. The way he came up

JACK SHARKEY has returned from New York wher

Soccer War Rumor Denied

Baldwin-Lengien Marriage Rumor

Quincy Wanderers Seek Grid Games

Just when things began to look bright at B. C. high Capt. Rion ran regular right guard was injured and may be out for the rest of the season.

Rowan stepped on the wet turf at Franklin Field and dislocated his shoulder going after a loose ball.

Arne Borg Is Engaged to Marry

Budapest, Hungary, Sept. 19 (INS)

Honolulu Takes N. Y. in Golf, Via Radio

New York Sept. 19.—With the aid of GRID PRACTICE STARTS FOR MERRITT A. C.

Delaney-Tassi Bout Postponed

New York, Sept. 19 (AP)—The 15 round boxing bout scheduled for to Chance for Grid Action

Andover Gridsters Get Going Today

Andover, Sept. 19 [illegible] Phillips Academy football squad, will have all [illegible] this afternoon for the first [illegible] of the season. Coach Bill Ingram will have but [illegible] to depend on to start the [illegible] Capt. Burt Osborne, [illegible], who played tackle a [illegible] year, and Wilson Boston [illegible] end again, are the only [illegible] Andover Academy [illegible] Rochester, N. Y., and Jarman [illegible] of Greene, N. Y., and J. [illegible] Newton of Colorado Springs [illegible] their letters as substitutes in [illegible] Exeter game.

Tigers Start Season

Hub School Season to Open Oct. 4

Fred O'Brien, athletic manager of the Boston School Department, released the football schedule for the season today. The Boston high school football teams will play all their games at Braves Field.

The first game on the schedule finds Mechanic Arts playing Brighton on Thursday, October 4, and the season closes on Thanksgiving Day, November 29, with a doubleheader, Dorchester high playing Commerce, and English high meeting the Latin school team.

[illegible] attractions in Greater Boston. The schedule is as follows:

THURSDAY OCTOBER 4
Mechanic Arts vs. Brighton High.
FRIDAY OCTOBER 5
East Boston High vs. Dorchester High.
English High vs. South Boston High.
WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 10
Jamaica Plain vs. Charlestown High.
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11
East Boston High vs. Mechanic Arts.
Brighton High vs. South Boston High.
FRIDAY OCTOBER 12
Mechanic Arts vs. Dorchester High.
Trade School vs. English High (morning game).
WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 17
Mechanic Arts vs. Charlestown High.
THURSDAY OCTOBER 18
Dorchester vs. South Boston.
Brighton vs. Hyde Park High.
FRIDAY OCTOBER 19
Commerce High vs. Trade School.
East Boston High vs. Jamaica Plain High.
WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 24
Trade School vs. Dorchester High.
Mechanic Arts vs. Hyde Park High.
THURSDAY OCTOBER 25
East Boston High vs. Brighton High.
South Boston High vs. Jamaica Plain High.
FRIDAY OCTOBER 26
English High vs. Boston College High.
Latin School vs. Commerce High.
TUESDAY OCTOBER 30
Hyde Park High vs. Charlestown High.
WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 31
Trade School vs. Brighton High.
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1
English High vs. Dorchester High.
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2
Commerce High vs. Mechanic Arts High.
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6
Hyde Park High vs. South Boston High.
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 7
Brighton High vs. Dorchester High.
Latin School vs. Trade School.
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8
Latin School vs. Trade School.
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9
English High vs. Mechanic Arts.
MONDAY NOVEMBER 12
Hyde Park High vs. East Boston High.
Brighton High vs. Jamaica Plain High.
TUESDAY NOVEMBER 13
Charlestown High vs. South Boston High.
THURSDAY NOVEMBER 15
Latin School vs. Dorchester High.
MONDAY NOVEMBER 19
East Boston High vs. Charlestown High.
TUESDAY NOVEMBER 20
Trade School vs. South Boston High.
WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 21
Latin School vs. Mechanic Arts.
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 22
English High vs. Commerce High.
FRIDAY NOVEMBER 23
Hyde Park High vs. Jamaica Plain High.
MONDAY NOVEMBER 26
Charlestown vs. Brighton High.
TUESDAY NOVEMBER 27
Mechanic Arts vs. Trade School.
WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 28
East Boston vs. South Boston.
THURSDAY NOVEMBER 29
Dorchester High vs. Commerce High.
English High vs. Latin School (morning games).

Twixt Tee and Cup

By BILL GRIMES

The Charles River Country Club three-day straight medal play four-ball tournament opened this morning and before this event closes Friday afternoon most of the leading four-ball teams in this vicinity will have participated.

Contrary to the general opinion, this tournament is an 18-hole medal play event and not a three-day medal and match play.

Among the better known teams [illegible] will be the Hersey brothers, Wm. and Fran. Clut Rich and Wm Cobb, Frank Repp and Henry Marcy, Eddie Ansley and Buster Forte and Wa[illegible]n Hopkins and Frank Craven.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, the Eastern and Metropolitan champion, scored a 78 at the Ruckerbocker Country Club during her match with Miss Edith Rockwood in the fourth annual New Jersey Women's Golf Championship match for the Hudson Cup. Miss Orcutt won by a margin of 6 up and 5 to play. Miss Marjorie Lytle scoring three of the five points credited to West Chester.

[illegible] and the Women [illegible] tournaments [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] used to [illegible]

The Massachusetts team which will compete against Rhode Island and Connecticut at the Yale Country Club next Saturday will leave here on Friday. Regardless of the [illegible] of the team, the Bay State should have little trouble returning a winner.

SUZANNE WILL NEVER PLAY TENNIS AGAIN

London, Sept. 19 (INS)—Suzanne [illegible] Miss [illegible] Lenglen received [illegible] today.

[illegible] play tennis again either

BULLDOGS HIT BY INJURIES

New Haven, Sept. 19 — Head Coach Mal Stevens sent the Yale [illegible]

"Chick" Evans On Honeymoon

[illegible] Sept. 19 (AP)

one of the outstanding sports of the Metropolitan P. G. A. championship was the failure of Jimmy Ferrell, brother of the open champion, to qualify on his home course. Jimmy is not a tournament golfer by any means, but has rounded out a fine record in match play. He has played the game for the sport of it and has never had the chance to make the grade. Ferrell could have been another well known pro who did not get into match play, but Al lost out in the play off.

Mrs. G. F. Fiske and Miss Ruth [illegible] of the Wellesley [illegible] ch[illegible] each [illegible] for the first round [illegible] of the [illegible] Miss Fiske has [illegible] in the [illegible]

MOORE DENIES HOLMES EVER LICKED HIM

SHREVEPORT SPORTS GET PETE McCLANAHAN

What a Fourth

Jap Doyle, [illegible] Washington and Jefferson, is [illegible] key to be of much [illegible] team this year. He was [illegible] a skyrocket July 4 and his jaw was broken.

[illegible] Pasadena Wou[illegible]

MR. BOSTON By Jack Conway

"JOE MONTE has been marked Exhibit A in Johnny Buckley's new showing of pugilistic timber," said Mr. Boston today. "I happened to stroll into Buckley's office on Washington st. as he was making a rather cruel attack on a perfectly good typewriter.

"I am writing a few [illegible] about the Monte affair," said Buckley, "and I want to be fair about it. I [illegible] Monte [illegible] of New England [illegible] to show their stuff in New York. I [illegible] Jesse McMann, on the go at the [illegible]

"Monte has not fought any [illegible] Garden [illegible] Garden affair at most of the [illegible] New York. [illegible] Jack Delaney [illegible] Jimmy Maloney [illegible] James J. Jeffries [illegible] Monte [illegible] Jeffries [illegible] Monte [illegible] Jeffries [illegible] Monte [illegible]

EVERY day the American publishes two thrilling and interesting stories by authors of recognized standing. Here you can find the latest serial fiction published in generous installments each day.

Magazine Page

Why Jumping Beans Are So Named

"JUMPING BEANS" are one of the curiosities of Mexico. The "jumping" is caused by the spasmodic movements of the pupa of an insect contained in each bean, which causes the bean to hop and roll about.

Martha Lee Tells Secrets of Flavoring

"A

Martha Lee

FASHIONABLE COLOR in your Home-Easy with Tintex

. . . when smart women redecorate their homes for the Fall, they want them to reflect their own smartness—in short, to be colorful and fashionable. . . . it's so simple to have furnishings on the new fashionable colors if you use Tintex. Curtains that are faded . . . draperies of whose color you've tired . . . fall covers that look dull . . . all can be made like-new-again by Tintex to lend into a new harmonious color scheme.

. . . remember that you also can change dark colors into light shades by first using Tintex Color Remover. It takes the color out of any material—so you can easily redye it a new color with Tintex. And your dealer will show you the new Tintex Color Card . . . showing the season's fashionable colors on actual samples of silk.

THE TINTEX GROUP
Products for every Home-tinting and Dyeing Need

Tintex Gray Box—Tints and dyes all materials.
Tintex Blue Box—for lace-trimmed unbleachable silk, lace or mesh white.
Tintex Color Remover—Removes color from any material so it can be dyed a new color.
Tintex—A special blue for restoring whiteness to yellowed white and woolens.

at all drug, dept. stores and department stores . . . 15¢

Tintex
TINTS AND DYES ANYTHING ANY COLOR
Distributing Point PARK & TILFORD New York

4 Heaping Helpings in every tin of PRUDENCE
READY TO BROWN
CORNED BEEF HASH

At all chain grocers, and good grocers generally

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEEKMAN

DEAR MRS. BEEKMAN:

W— I [illegible] to me on [illegible] ring is supposed to go next?

2—Also what is the correct form for a ring, a recent graduate to have her name and a congratulation?

READER.

ON LEFT-hand the third finger or little finger. Usually the finger on which the ring is to be worn is determined before the design of the ring is chosen, so that the ring may be appropriate to the finger selected.

2—Use I should say engraved. There should be no abbreviations and no [illegible].

DEAR MRS. BEEKMAN:

When is it correct to send wedding announcements for a small wedding, previous to the wedding, or might one be allowable to send them immediately after the wedding day?

C. F.

WEDDING announcements are sent before the wedding, usually on the day the wedding is announced. Announcements should never be sent out before the engagement is announced. Sometimes they are sent out the same day that the announcement is published.

DEAR MRS. BEEKMAN:

[illegible] Mother [illegible] Please tell me [illegible]

YES [illegible] Mother's [illegible] personal notes to the relatives [illegible] cards when you send [illegible] a note of regret or thanks. Use [illegible] letter paper, of [illegible] quality as your mother [illegible] and send notes something like [illegible]

Dear Mary—

Bob and I are going to be married at the church on Wednesday, December 1st, at 4 o'clock, and we are both very anxious to have you come to the wedding. As you know we are planning a very simple wedding, having only a few of our closest friends and among those we count you. Do tell us that you will come.

Devotedly yours,

JANE.

Or you can have your mother write [illegible] "Mrs. Brown requests the pleasure of your company at the marriage of her daughter Jane and Robert Allen [illegible] to be married," and so [illegible]

[illegible] should, most [illegible] [illegible] mother [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

DON'T miss Dr. Crane's meaty articles on the editorial page. They are comments on up-to-date topics for PEOPLE WHO THINK.

Fiction Page

This Day in Our History

JAMES A. GARFIELD, twentieth President of the United States, died at Elberon, N. J., on September 19, 1881. He was born in the little frontier town of Orange, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, on November 19, 1831.

Dancing Daughters

by Winifred Van Duzer

Story of Modern Marriages and Husband Hunters

From the Screen Version by Josephine Lovett

CHAPTER 30

NOTHING, it seemed to Norman, could be more delightful than the first meeting of Ann and Diana. He had been looking forward to it with a mixture of eagerness and apprehension. Diana was so beautiful, so popular, so sophisticated, and Ann was so young and unsophisticated, so very much a child.

He knew Ann would like Diana, and Diana would like Ann, but he was not sure how they would get on together. Diana was the very opposite of everything that seemed to him important in life, and he had grown so used to Ann's point of view that he had come to think of it as the only right one. He was afraid that Diana would laugh at Ann's simplicity, and that Ann would be shocked by Diana's sophistication.

He was very much afraid that Diana would not like Ann, and he was very much afraid that Ann would like Diana. He was afraid of everything, in fact, and he was very glad that Diana had asked him to bring Ann to tea, for it gave him an excuse to see Ann at once, and he was very anxious to see her.

He found Ann sitting on a couch with Diana, and Diana was talking to her in a very friendly manner. Ann looked very pretty, and very much at her ease, and Norman was relieved to see that she was not overawed by her surroundings. Diana was dressed in a very smart tea gown, and Ann was wearing a simple little frock that Norman knew she had made herself. Diana was talking to her about her clothes, and Ann was listening with interest.

Norman sat down beside them, and Diana turned to him with a smile. "I was just telling Ann that I envy her her youth," she said. "I know what I'm going to do. I'm going to—for some use in the world I can contribute. Either I'm going to be put in a—Dad and Mother Dunn are—" [illegible] Diana was the leader of the [illegible] Ann and Mrs. Dunn made the burden of the [illegible] pretense at being a success to be [illegible]. Norman knew that [illegible]. And there it was to be seen, Ann and Diana seated on the [illegible]. A moment at the [illegible].

[illegible]

Diana had an interview with the hotel manager, and as a result the Eccles mixed him to be sure where [illegible] room, but [illegible] Diana and [illegible]. The manager was delighted to make [illegible] anything [illegible] pay [illegible] way the bill would be settled [illegible].

A few moments with the manager of the town's executive [illegible] Diana [illegible] people [illegible] [illegible] Ann's [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Dr. Reed Warns About Dread Diphtheria

By Charles A. L. Reed, M. D.,
Former President of the American Medical Association

YOU, your children, more especially, are constantly exposed to the possibility of a needless dread disease than that of diphtheria. The medical profession, especially as represented in public health administration, is constantly trying to protect and safeguard you against the danger of this menace.

A systematic campaign of this kind recently carried on in New York, with results so successful that the end of which is immediately in sight and near the vanishing point, can be duplicated in every city and town in the country.

The New York campaigners did not pretend to know that the same could be done, they merely set up a campaign of fact and action, but it was based on years of intensive campaigns against diphtheria—facts of interest to every one who is concerned in public health.

They found that private physicians in general practice and institutions dealing with children had not been informed as to the best methods of getting at the trouble. They found that the infection passed by a carrier to a child, who in turn passed it to others. The carrier was the key to the situation. He or she was the person who had had diphtheria and who was apparently well, but who still harbored the germs of the disease in the throat and nose. He or she was the person who had been exposed to diphtheria and who was apparently immune, but who still harbored the germs and was a menace to others.

Diphtheria is not well in hand at this time. It is not in the country. It is not because of difficulty of getting medical help. It is because of all ranges, from mild to fatal, which is the most difficult experience of the New York workers is that the most difficult people to get immunized are just those who suffer most from the disease, the pre-school children and the young mothers.

On the other hand those doses of ... produce immunity a higher percentage of ... children than of ... adults, and more of the ... are given to the children.

... diphtheria has been ... public health ... the ... has been ... during the same ... cases, of ... death. ... In ... parts, the ... rate was ... the ... times as ... and the ... rate ... times as ... In the ... the ... rate ... times as ... and the ... rate ... times as ...

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

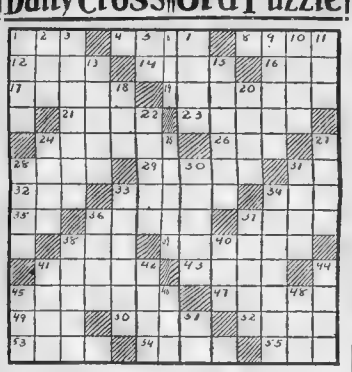
JUST AS NATURALLY

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX

... I met a ... girl and I am at a ... loss. I feel ... to ... but I don't ... how to ... Several people ... I would like to know ... M. H.

DEAR ... Pretend ... Keep out of her ... when ... Will ... better ... will ... Try to ... her at ... invitation ... DEARER.

Daily Crossword Puzzle



HORIZONTAL.

1—Riatus.
4—In what State did the Mormons settle, 1847-48?
8—Imitates.
12—Beams.
14—Native metals.
16—Exist.
17—Who wrote "The Green Hat"?
18—What is the capital of New Jersey?
21—Hoofs.
23—Entrances to mines.
24—Revokes.
26—Blackbird of the cuckoo family.
28—Who wrote "Beau Geste"?
29—Exultant.
31—Note of the scale.
32—Bronze.
33—Who wrote "Common Sense" and "The Right of Man"?
34—Domestic animal.
35—Part of "to be."
36—What enchantress changed the companions of Odysseus into swine?
37—What nationality was Prince Hamlet?
38—Who is Rider Haggard's most famous female character?
39—Whole.
41—Agitates.
43—Rent.
45—Complete the name of the English philosopher who wrote "Essays on Education"; Herbert——?
47—Run away with a lover.
49—Before.
50—Which is the shallowest of the Great Lakes?
52—Killed.
53—River in northern England.
54—Consumes.
55—Spanish article.

VERTICAL.

1—Who wrote the poem "Elegy In a Country Churchyard"?
2—River in Switzerland.
3—Who was the friend of Orestes and husband of Electra?
5—Toward.
6—Skill.
7—Who was the wife of Zeus?
9—Complete the name of this famous soprano opera-singer: Adeline——?
10—Who was the god of love?
11—Japanese coin.
13—On how many hills was Rome originally built?
15—Staid.
18—Born.
20—How many men comprise a baseball team?
22—Dash.
24—Who was the Greek God of war?
25—Thin piece.
27—Tardy.
28—Lament.
30—Concerning.
31—Road.
33—In whose administration was the Gadsden Purchase made?
34—What was the pseudonym of the man who wrote "Alice in Wonderland"?
36—Part of the face.
37—Graduated faces of timepieces.
38—Complete the name of this 17th century Dutch artist famous for genre pictures of genteel society Jan——?
40—Artificial elevation in golf.
41—Agile.
42—Withered
44—Seats in church
45—Place
46—Long narrow inlet.
48—Vegetable
51—Latin conjunction.

Herewith is solution to yesterday's puzzle.

D	A	Z	E	■	V	A	L	I	D	I
I	R	O	N	■	E	B	O	N	■	D
E	■	■	■	S	K	I	D	■	N	U
T	■	■	■	P	■	■	■	C	O	V
E	T	■	S	H	A	R	P	■	E	D
■	W	A	R	■	C	O	■	■	■	■
R	O	W	■	T	A	R	A	N	T	U
L	A	■	S	W	A	N	■	T	O	R
E	■	P	I	C	■	E	N	G	I	N
E	R	S	■	S	A	C	■	■	■	■
■	■	■	C	O	D	■	I	T	S	■
R	E	A	C	H	E	D	■	L	A	Y
E	R	■	I	N	■	F	A	I	R	■
U	I	G	■	R	A	P	T	■	■	■
A	S	S	T	O	K	E	■	E	R	I
E	■	R	E	'	S	■	P	I	T	T
E	S	■	F	O	E	E	D	■	■	■

Copyright, 1928, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

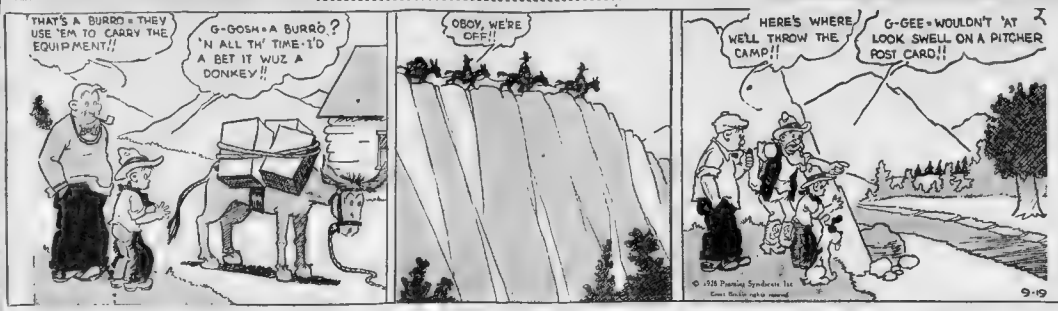
Jones—My wife has gone to the West ... Brown—... First—... 48 Clearing at, Boston.

R. K. SHELLABY.

TOMMY TUCKER

Off on the Trail Again

By Herman Thomas



THAT'S A BURRO - THEY USE 'EM TO CARRY THE EQUIPMENT!!
G-GOSH - A BURRO? 'N ALL TH' TIME I'D A BET IT WUZ A DONKEY!!
OBOY, WE'RE OFF!!
HERE'S WHERE WE'LL THROW THE CAMP!!
G-GEE - WOULDN'T 'AT LOOK SWELL ON A PITCHER POST CARD!!
9-19

GOOD TIME GUY

His Buying Orders

By Frank Smiley

WHAT I NEED IS A CONSCIENTIOUS BROKER WHO DOESN'T LIKE TO ARGUE / ALL I WANT HIM TO DO IS WHAT I TELL HIM, AND THEN GIVE AN IMITATION OF A CLAM /
TAKING ORDERS IS MY BUSINESS—NOT TALKING ABOUT THEM /
HERE'S A CHECK FOR $102,000—CERTIFIED / BUY ME 1,000 UNITED SHOELACES AT 102, AND SELL ON A TEN-POINT RISE / THEN BUY ME 1,000 CONCENTRATED CASTOR OIL AT 112, AND SELL ON A TWENTY-POINT RISE / THEN BUY ME 2,000 U.S. PARACHUTES AT 66 AND SELL ON A THIRTY-POINT RISE ---
BUT, MY DEAR YOUNG MAN---
NO BUTS---JUST BUYS / I'M FOLLOWING A SYSTEM ALL MY OWN / WHEN YOU SELL PARACHUTES AT 96, YOU SHOULD HAVE $192,000 OF MY MONEY. PLACE $7,000 TO MY CREDIT AND BUY 10,000 EASTERN MOTORS AT 16½. SELL THAT AT 2&½, AND THEN CLOSE MY ACCOUNT /
FRANK SMILEY DICK-TAETMOE
THERE GOES EVERYTHING /
NOT QUITE— GUY HELD OUT $20,000 FOR POCKET MONEY / HE'LL EITHER MAKE A FORTUNE OR GIVE BACK TO WALL STREET ALL THE PROFIT HE TOOK FROM IT / WATCH AND SEE /

POLLY AND HER PALS

Now Paw Is Sick

By Cliff Sterrett

NOW, PAW, NOT ANOTHER CHIRP OUTTA YOU! Y'AIN'T GOIN', AN THAT SETTLES IT!
WHY DON'T YOU LET PA GO ON THAT WEST INDIES TRIP? HE'S EARNED IT!
EARNED IT, ME EYE! HE'S GOIN' BACK TO HIS JOB AT TH' OFFICE! THAT'S WHERE HE'S GOIN!
9-19
BUT HE DOESN'T LOOK WELL, MA. HE NEEDS A CHANGE!
HE'S GONNA GET A CHANGE IF HE HANGS AROUND HERE! WE START HOUSE-CLEANIN' NEXT WEEK!
OH, OOOH, I'M SICK! OOOOH!

GOLDBERG'S CARTOONS

Sure, Something Happened

By Rube Goldberg

NOW, MR MAGNOLIA AND MR. KELLY, I WANT YOU TO SIT HERE QUIETLY AND WATCH THAT APPARATUS CLOSELY. DON'T MOVE - I WANT YOU TO SEE SOME OF THE WONDERS OF SCIENCE. DON'T MOVE
MAYBE THIS PROFESSOR ISN'T CRAZY AFTER ALL
HE STUFF LOOKS DEEP
COME ON, BOBO - I HAVE EVERYTHING IN MY GRIP NECESSARY FOR CONDUCTING MY BIG EXPERIMENT
PROFESSOR, I BEGIN TO SEE YOUR POINT - WITH THE MONEY I GOT FOR CAPTURING GREASEBALL MSGINNIS WE CAN DO THINGS IN A BIG WAY
YOU'RE A REAL GENIUS, PROFESSOR SWIVEL
BOBO, IT WAS FINE OF YOUR TWO FRIENDS TO COME IN THIS VEHICLE WHICH YOU CALL THE "DEMI TASSE"
TWO HOURS LATER
NOSEDIVE, NOTHING HAS HAPPENED YET

SKIPPY

It'll Sure Be a Help

By Percy Crosby

WHERE YA BEEN KEEPIN' YOURSELF ALL SUMMER?
OH, ON THE MERRY-GO-ROUNDS HERE AN' THERE.
HOW DID YA MAKE OUT?
OH, I THINK BY ANOTHER YEAR I'LL HAVE ENOUGH BRASS RINGS SO THAT THE OLD LADY CAN HANG HER CURTAINS.

Copyright, 1928, Percy L. Crosby, Central Press Assn., Inc.

BARNEY GOOGLE

Barney Comes To

By De Beck

THIS TRAIN IS GOING TOO FAST THE WHEELS MAKE SO MUCH RACKET IN MY HEAD
OH, HOW SAD THIS IS POOR, POOR MR GOOGLE. MY BEST FRIEND — IF ONLY THERE WAS SOMETHING I COULD DO — IT SEEMS SO USELESS TO SIT HERE, HOUR AFTER HOUR, YET WHAT ELSE IS THERE TO DO? I MUST KEEP MY VIGIL, DESPITE HIS BRAIN WILL CLEAR TODAY.
MR KLOTZ — YOU NEED SOME REST YOURSELF — MR GOOGLE WON'T LIKELY TO BE HIMSELF FOR SOME TIME AND THERE'S NOTHING YOU CAN DO FOR HIM — YOU GO TO BED NOW AND I'LL SEND FOR A TRAINED NURSE
OH DOCTOR, MR GOOGLE IS MY BEST FRIEND — I DON'T MIND LOSING MY SLEEP IF I CAN HELP HIM — HE MIGHT CALL ME
THIS IS MY POOR FRIEND, MISS ROSE. YOU'LL HAVE GOOD CARE OF HIM, WON'T YOU?
WHY OF COURSE, MR KLOTZ — IS THE PATIENT MARRIED?
NO! AND WHAT'S MORE-
9-19

© 1928, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

A Lady Boy

By Verd

HELLO, ANNIE AND BILLY! WHERE'S HOWARD THOMPSON?
HE'S STILL ON HIS VACATION. HE'LL BE BACK TOMORROW
SHUX, I WISH I WAS HIM.
BILLY, WHERE'S THAT LITTLE ALLAN BOY WHO LIVES NEXT DOOR TO YOU?
AW, HE'S SICK.
OH, MY! THAT'S TOO BAD - WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH HIM?
HE'S GOT TH' MEASLES AN' TH' MUMPS, TOO.
TH' LUCKY STIFF!!!
9-19

© 1928, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Something to Look Forward To

By George McManus

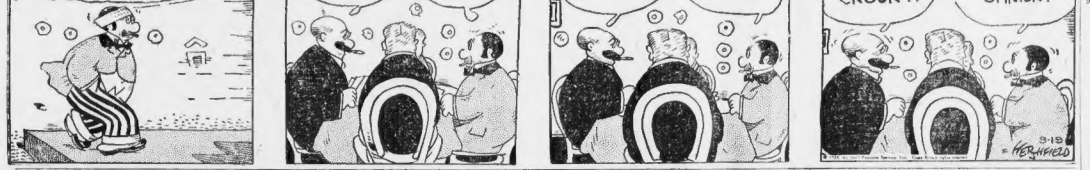
I'D JUST AS SOON HEAR MAGGIE SING.
DID YOU HEAR MR. CLEF'S LAST SELECTION?
I'M AFRAID NOT. I HEARD HIM SAY HE WAS GONNA PLAY AGIN.
DO YOU REALIZE THAT CELLO HE PLAYS HAS ONLY ONE STRING ON IT?
ONLY ONE, EH?
WELL, THE SOONER THAT BREAKS THE BETTER.
9-19

© 1928, by Int'l Feature Service, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

ABIE THE AGENT

Tact

By Hershfield



I DON'T KNOW WHY I ACCEPT INVITATIONS TO PLAY WITH THEM CROOKS!!
I'VE GOT THREE ACES
SHOW
I GOT A HEART FLUSH
SHOW
WHAT AM I HERE = A CROOK??
DON'T GET SO EXCITED = WHAT'S ONE MAN'S OPINION?
8-19
HERSHFIELD

© 1928, by Feature Service, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved.

COOK-COOS by Ted Cook

© 1928 LOS ANGELES EXAMINER

POUR LE SPORT

BUY your souvenir postcards direct from us and make a real saving. Perhaps you are going on a journey. No matter where you go, your friends will appreciate a thoughtful greeting. Cards like the above, in lots of 1000, only $14.88.

* * *

IS THIS A KNOCK OR IS IT A BOOST?

Okern County Republican

After studying conditions for several months, Mr. and Mrs. Hobson, morticians, decided that a location here was the most promising of any.

"I sincerely believe that my highest hopes and ambitions will be realized right here in this valley," says Mr. Hobson.

* * *

"Give me a sack of chestnuts," said the pessimist. "I think I'll go fishing."

* * *

A gal I'd strangle here
And now
Is the gal who always chirps
"And How!"

—MR. O'REILLY.

Conversation overheard on a bus—

"Listen, baby—will you please leave go of my hand?"

"You and me oughta know each other."

"I ain't Greta Garbo."

"Try to get along with me."

"Then find yourself another seat."

"You're one of these wisecracking mamas."

"I wouldn't know about that."

"I don't like your line, baby."

"I've seen better heads than yours on umbrellas."

* * *

The old saying, "Silence is Golden," takes on a new significance after hearing a few sound pictures.

* * *

Classified Ad—

GENTLEMAN wants to hear from girl or lady who is lonely. Box 40, Nyack, N. Y.

Oh, well—why not give him the benefit of the doubt.

* * *

And the easiest way to open a padlocked night club is to apply grease.

* * *

A WORLD CITIZEN

This is J. Horace McHatrack, public benefactor, who has quietly spent a fortune going from one first-class hotel to another, and occupying first one room and then another, just to plug up the radio outlets with chewing gum.

* * *

Advertisement—

Let Me Find Your Apartment for You

Without charge, we'll turn the town upside down to find what you want if you'll phone or write.

Miss Wanders or Miss Gillis.

* * *

It might be a good idea for persons who do much itinerant driving to clip the ad and slip it in the vest pocket.

* * *

Today's worst pun—

Hap O'Connor—Do you think I am crazy?

Moronia—No, you are not.

—B. B. B.

* * *

Classified Ad—

LADY, ONCE OF NOBLE HOME WANTS POSITION OF CHAPERON FOR AGED PEOPLE ADDRESS W. ULZHAFER, BOX 42, STA. F, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

* * *

Well, a lot of old people need chaperoning these days.

* * *

Adam Scotflaw's Journal

This evening my dame bleat to be fetched to see a show but instead I did put her to labour sewing buttons and mending of socks, whilst I read aloud from "Liberalism As An Attempt to Replace Feudal Civilization and Its Relation to Natural Rights, Democracy and Equalitarianism in Changing Economicks With Notes on Theologie and Its Universalitie of Moral Law and Determinism."

* * *

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

Here, you hold the baby for a while.

Once-Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

MAYBE you need to be stirred up a bit.

Perhaps you have been going along so smoothly for so long that you have ceased to make more than a perfunctory effort in your daily work.

A severe jolt would do you good.

It is easy to get in a rut; easier to stay there.

If you would go over yourself honestly and look in an unbiased way at your efforts each day you might realize that you are not doing your best.

For some time you may go your own gait, but sooner or later you are told about it and you don't like the telling.

Why not diagnose your own case, inject pep without being told, and whatever else you lack for best kind of performance?

Surely you know what you should do.

Are you doing it?

Is your conscience clear every night as to your day's work?

If it isn't, you are not up to required standard.

You are missing the good feeling of satisfaction you should experience.

Copyright, 1928, International Features Service, Inc.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

"IS there a life after forty?" That is the tormenting question which faces every modern woman, just as she might be relaxing comfortably and happily into the feather-bed existence of placid middle age.

* * *

Whether to "join the flappers and see the world"—or to stick to her own generation, and keep the house biscuits burning!

* * *

Whether to bob and henna her hair, have a face-lift and defy old Father Time—or to grow frankly and gracefully gray and accept her china with placid equanimity.

* * *

Whether to go in for "tennis dresses," knee exposure, and baby-colors, and run the risk of being "ridiculous." Or to cling to her corsets, insist upon a "respectable" length to her skirts—and run the risk of being called a flat-tire or an antique.

* * *

Whether to go with her daughter to the "gym" and run the chance of misplacing her vertebrae and straining her heart, with swimming and handball—or sit on the sidelines with the rocking chair brigade and run the risk of MISSING something.

* * *

Whether to wear shorts and "novelty" bathing suits and show the world that she still has a figure—or to slip quietly into modest black taffeta and glide unobtrusively into the water when nobody is looking.

* * *

Whether to keep up with her husband's stenographer, and flash in and out of the office in all her warpaint and her briefest creations, just to show them that she is still on the job and NOT on the shelf. Or to close her eyes comfortably and "let John have his little fling," while she devotes herself to the children, cards, clubs or the classics.

* * *

Whether to dance around with a boy half her age and run the risk of making a fool of herself—or to sit home and hang onto her dignity, while she wonders if her husband is out sowing his last handful of wild oats.

* * *

Whether to learn the new steps, try to smoke a cigarette with nonchalance, submit to the new impertinences of a "fresh" generation and be called a "gold old sport," or to heed the doctors, listen to her prewar conscience, and go to bed at a sensible hour, while OTHER women make wrecks of themselves.

* * *

Ah, yes! The Golden Forties were a lot easier to face, when a woman could "settle down" and be her AGE and enjoy youth's afterglow. But now that she has to decide whether to climb on the bandwagon with the "live ones," or to sit back in the grandstand and watch the parade go by, Middle Age has become the DARKEST AGE of woman!

* * *

There IS a life, after forty—a wonderful, beautiful, exhilarating life—but it doesn't begin until a woman has stopped struggling for imitation Youth, and FOUND herself!

Copyright, 1928, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WHYTE-FOX

Makes Soft, Velvety Skin— and free from Pimples, Sun Burns, Rash, Itch—just like Lucky Tiger gives normal scalps and luxuriant hair to millions of users—BARBERS AND DRUGGISTS

'BILL' HAINES PLAYS TUNNEY ROLE IN FILMS

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Copyright, 1928, by Universal Service

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19—"The Duke Steps Out," reputed to be the story of the highbrow Gene Tunney, has been purchased by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for William Haines. This will be Bill's first for M.-G.-M. under the new contract, "The Gob" having been shelved for the time being at least. James Cruze, who is directing Billy in "A Man's Man," will do the honors in the prizefight story.

If you haven't read "The Duke Steps Out," it may interest you to know it has been running serially in one of the magazines and it is a most amusing tale of a champion prizefighter who goes to college. He has all of Gene Tunney's pet characteristics, including a hankering for philosophy. Shakespeare and other highbrow subjects supposed to be beyond the ken of the usual pugilist.

So far no leading lady has been chosen for Haines, but it's assumed either Josephine Dunn or Anita Page will be selected. Both of these young women are blonde and make an excellent vis-a-vis for Billy.

* * *

I might have to call upon the army, navy or marines to get a leading man for Dolores Costello. They offered Rod La Rocque the job, they interviewed George O'Brien and Edmund Lowe, and they went after a dozen of our best known leading men only to find all of them had previous engagements.

You wouldn't think a pretty girl like Dolores Costello would have to look long for a leading man. But the truth of the matter is they have been shooting on the picture a week with no one to make love to Dolores. When tests of Grant Withers proved that he was just what they had been looking for, Darryl Zanuck not only signed him for the make appeal in "Madonna of Avenue A," but he put him under a long term contract. There are not going to be caught in this predicament again.

* * *

DOLORES COSTELLO is not the only star who is looking for a leading man. "Synthetic Sin," Colleen Moore's next picture, is all ready with the exception of some one to play opposite her. They have tried all the old telephone numbers and dragged all the promising leading men and up to last night there was nary a result.

I hear it whispered that Corinne Griffith's next director is to be none other than young Gregory La Cava. La Cava is the lad who catapulted so many of the earlier Richard Dix pictures and he is said to have quite a flavor for comedy.

* * *

WOULD you care to hear Farina speak or Mickey utter his challenge to the gang? Hal Roach hopes the public has such a yearning, for he is sending Robert McGowan, supervising director of the "Our Gang" comedies to New York to study Vitaphone. After McGowan assimilates the intricacies of talkies he will return to Hollywood and make comedies, starring these youngsters.

I should like to hear Farina speak. That is, if he talks more than he did the day I saw him last. He was obviously bored at the presence of a newspaper person and didn't care who knew it.

* * *

ROBERT CASTLE'S introduction to his American public (perhaps I should say his future public) will not be with Clara Bow after all. Castle will make his bow with Bebe Daniels in an original story having to do with newspapers and reporting, while Neil Hamilton, originally chosen as Bebe's leading man, will be switched to the Bow company.

They do these things in the movies so often it keeps one busy getting straight. Bebe is due home today, arriving on the good old-fashioned railroad. Perhaps one trip by aeroplane across the continent was enough to last the enterprising Bebe for a few months. By the bye, rumors of Bebe's engagement to Tommy Hitchcock, polo player, have been so vociferously denied one is inclined to think maybe there is some truth in them after all.

* * *

MANY waters have passed under the bridge since a young newspaper man in Chicago named Colvin Brown worried some of his friends by joining the motion pictures industry. In those days he was with Thomas Ince, a sort of right hand man. Now Colvin is executive vice-president of Pathe and a big boss and everything.

He is here in Hollywood to keep an eye on Pathe activities and to swap a few reminiscences with his old pals. I cannot see that he has changed much since the days when he and Terry Ramsaye were a part of the old American Film Co. Come to think of it, Colvin was with the Flying A before Tom Ince discovered him.

* * *

ANDREW J. CALLAHAN may be an actor with the Richard Dix company, but he is also an executive with technicolor. When the men who sent him to Gallup, New Mexico, to take charge of the color process in "Redskin" read in this column that Andrew had become an actor there was great consternation.

He had never confided in any of his friends that he had histrionic ambitions. He had a fine time explaining on account of the scarcity of actors in the desert that he did a favor for his friend, Victor Schertzinger, director of the picture, by consenting to play a small part.

* * *

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood collected at random: May McAvoy feeding a group of hungry guests at Lois Wilson's tea. A Rolls Royce in a parking station refusing to stop even for Ralph Forbes who claimed to know its mechanism. Townsend Netcher, son of the famous Chicago Molly Netcher of Boston store fame, dining with a group of friends at the Montmartre.

Gloria Swanson, dining with Edward Everett Horton and Bert Lytell at Lois Wilson's party. Fred Windemere entertaining four women on a yacht at Catalina. Belle Bennett among those present. Ramon Novarro relating his experience in San Diego to a group of friends who dropped into Ruth Chatterton's house for tea. That's all today. See you tomorrow.

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for published smart sayings. Address "Smart Sayings," Boston Evening American.

Ma—"Is the clock running, Willie?"

Willie—"No, ma, it's just standing still waggin' its tail."

VIRGINIA MARTIKKE.
85 Lamb. st., Mattapan.

MEDBURY SAYS—

By JOHN P. MEDBURY

A WOMAN is never so madly in love that she doesn't try to find out the cost of the engagement ring.

Null and Void

The kind-hearted mother who always gives the children chloroform before she whips them.

Stop, Look and Listen

The ambition of the average boy is to be able to swear like his father.

American Tragedies

A woman trying to have the last word with another woman.

You're Right

Half a loaf is better than no vacation at all.

A thing of beauty is annoyed by men.

Ideal Dumbbells

The producer who tried to clean up his show by inserting a couple of bathroom scenes.

Advice to the Love-Worn

A man may be intoxicated with love, but marriage will soon sober him up.

Financial Note

It's usually hush money that talks the loudest.

Vital Statistics

New York is now one murder ahead of Chicago.

Copyright, 1928, King Features Synd., Inc.

The true genius is a mind of large general powers, accidentally determined to some particular direction. —Johnson.

FOR FIFTY YEARS

Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the purest, sweetest and most satisfactory method of caring for the skin and hair.

Something Missing From Fifth Avenue: a Doorkeeper

By B. C. FORBES

New York, Sept. 19—Something is missing from Fifth ave. It isn't a Vanderbilt mansion. It isn't a proud old church. It isn't any landmark of brick or stone.

It is Daniel Rinn.

Who was Daniel Rinn?

A doorkeeper, one of the humble army of well-behaved servants who, when they are retired at the entrance of hotel or office, open doors and greet customers.

That is one answer.

B. C. Forbes

The other and fuller answer is that Daniel Rinn made of his humble job so fine and worthy and noble a thing that nobody can be found able to fill it, and the great financial institutions he served—one of the greatest in America—have paid him the tribute of keeping an "In Memoriam" booklet acknowledging and extolling his services. And I venture in New York's financial history. Mighty institutions and combinations have sometimes sanctioned such a testimonial to departed presidents or powerful directors, but to a doorkeeper, never.

In these words the Bankers' Trust Company—the second largest in the land—records the simple, but inspiring and impressive story of the doorkeeper of their Fifth ave. branch:

"It is with deep regret that we announce the death on April 19th of Rinn, who came to the Bankers' Trust Company 12 years ago as chief special officer, following his retirement after 20 years' service with the New York police department.

"By his kindliness, his courtesy, and his unfailing devotion to duty, he won the respect and friendship not only of his fellow workers within the organization, but also of hundreds of its customers. He brought to his task a sincerity and simple dignity which raised it to an importance greater than was indicated by its title or by many routine duties.

"In his death we feel a profound sense of loss. We extend this tribute to his memory in recognition of his splendid character and in appreciation of his many years of loyal service."

* * *

Everyone who passed frequently through these doors knew and liked Daniel Rinn. He had for all, the highest and humblest, an cheery, a beaming, so true-ringing a welcome, so sincere a wish and will serve, so radiant joy and warmed-in-the-heart of every one of the myriads who enjoyed his friendship or acquaintance. He became a veritable institution.

And Daniel Rinn was just an ex-policeman holding a job ranked among the humblest and least influential.

* * *

It is necessary to point the dual moral of this homely chapter from modern business life?

First, it makes clear that even the lowliest work can be so rendered as to yield genuine happiness to the worker and win the grateful admiration of others.

Second, it proves that all our modern gigantic organizations are not soulless and without sentiment, on that their hearts are not immersed in money-making to take grateful note of and make gracious acknowledgment of worthy service, even with a winning smile, a loyal will and a warm, cheerful heart.

(Copyright, 1928, by B. C. Forbes.)

Mill Men Feel Low Stocks Foreshadow Textile Spurt

In the general quickening of business prosperity with the approach of the autumn, what are the prospects for betterment in the depressed trades?

Herbert C. Hoover in his acceptance speech singled out coal and cotton textiles as sick industries.

The cotton textile trade has been in the under of a world-wide depression. Its leaders hope that low stocks of goods on hand may give an impetus to business revival. Moreover, talk of a style renaissance in cotton also offers a glimmer of hope.

* * *

In a message to this column it is Caldwell, president and treasurer of the Chadwick-Hoskins Co. of Charlotte, N. C., says:

"As you are aware, conditions in the cotton textile industry have been very unsatisfactory for the past year, and, though the depression continues, I think I may safely say that there has recently been some slight improvement. I look there is a fair chance that the industry may find itself on a much better basis by early October.

"Of course, this depends largely on the size of the new crop of cotton and the general market of prices. However, a fair-sized crop of cotton now seems assured and, barring any unforeseen damage of a serious nature to the crop during the current month, there ought to be not less than 14,000,000 bales and the consensus of opinion seems to be that it may be nearer 15,000,000 bales. In either case, the cotton grower should receive a fair price for his cotton, and the mills ought to be able to convert a crop of this size profitably. I especially feel this very strongly because it is apparent that stocks of goods in all lands are comparatively low and as soon as we can have a more definite line on the size of the new crop and feels that it can operate with reasonable profit, I believe the volume of buying will be considerably larger than usually much larger than at any time since August, 1927."

* * *

Another mill source from the new South—John A. Law, president and treasurer of Saxon Mills, Inc., of Spartanburg, S. C., in a statement prepared for this column, said:

"Although the extensive curtailment in the production of cotton goods would indicate that better times are just around the corner, after the size of the present cotton crop is settled, the cotton textile industry shows no definite signs of present of improvement.

"The demand toward renewed use of cotton goods for women's apparel is gratifying, but most substantial gains would be made in the general industrial use of cotton goods."

Asked how far he thought the trend of cotton mills from the south would go, Mr. Law added:

"The trend of the movement to the South is still going under way. There is no end in sight."

The high investment of a cotton mill in proportion to the ordinary value of land about which to produce and to handicaps profitable operation if the hours are restricted as under the existing laws of Massachusetts. New ideas of manufacturing machines must prevail if plants of possible cost are allowed to produce and sought hours per day. In saying this, I do not advocate operation of the night between midnight and daylight nor for too long hours in day time. Two nine-hour shifts between 8 a. m. and 12 p. m. with one hour for lunch and supper is my preference for hours of operation."

* * *

Though respecting Mr. Law's views as an insider, many do not share the opinion that the way out of the textile muddle is in lengthening hours of labor. The most prosperous American industries are those with the highest labor and wage standards—not those like textile and coal, with the poorest.

Tours far the South has developed mainly in the making of coarser cotton goods, but Mr. Law says:

"We see no reason why manufacturing of fine goods in the South does not offer the same advantage as coarse or print cloths, as the character of labor is steadily improving and becoming just as efficient."

* * *

On this same point, L. K. Salisbury, leading cotton man of Memphis, informs us:

"I do not think that the present strike in New Bedford, Mass., will have any immediate tendency to drive the fine goods trade South, but these labor troubles will eventually do so.

"As far as economy is concerned, I do not think that New England mills can compete with Southern mills under the present conditions, or any condition that is likely to obtain."

PAN-AMERICAN "BULLS" FULL OF CONFIDENCE

People who are bullish on Pan American do not expect the new financing reported under way to interfere much with the market for the stock. Since the funds to be received in the financing are for expansion of the Venezuela properties, it is said, that some interesting figures may be forthcoming in connection with the development work in that country. A fact which has not been forgotten is that the Standard Oil interests paid a substantially higher price for control than the present quotation for Pan American. The latter also controls almost ten per cent ownership of the valuable Lago company at a comparatively cheap price. It will be remembered that Lago stock holders were offered one share of Pan American for three shares of Lago, and now for the former Lago are but a dozen points or so apart.

NEW AMERICAN FELT PFD. GETS DIVIDEND

American Felt Co. declared regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share on new preferred stock, payable October 1 to stock of record September 20. This dividend is payable on the new preferred which was authorized to replace accruals as a stock dividend early this year in proportion of one and one-half shares of new preferred for each share of common. At that time also common shareholders received three shares of new common for each old share held. Old preferred stock had been redeemed at $125 per share on September 1, 1927.

WILLIAM WHITING IS TRUSTEE FOR SURETY

William Whiting, president of Whiting Paper Co. of Holyoke, has been elected trustee of American Surety Co. to succeed his father, William F. Whiting, who recently became Secretary of Department of Commerce, succeeding Herbert Hoover.

N. H. PUBLIC SERVICE BOND ISSUE PLANNED

Public Service Co. of New Hampshire has filed petition for authority to issue $950,000 first and refunding mortgage 4½ per cent E bonds at 90 per cent, or $855,000 net, to pay immediate expenditures of $800,000 for carrying on its business in New Hampshire.

Advice Is Free

Before you buy or sell stocks or bonds you should get unbiased expert advice. Send your investment inquiries with stamp to Frank H. Meloon, Financial Editor, Boston Evening American, No. 5 Winthrop sq., Boston. Replies can be made only by mail.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Sept. 19 Sept. 18

	High	Low	Latest	Close
Alaska P&L	32	31½	31½	31¼
Adv Rumely	39	39	39	39½
Ahumada L	4¼	4	4¼	4
Allied Chem	136	134¾	135¾	135¾
Al. C&Dye	196	195½	195½	196½
Amerada	74¾	74¼	74¾	74¾
Am Ag Chem	209	208	209	209½
Am Ag Ch pf	107	107	107	107
Am Bosch M	36	36	36	36
Am Can	104¾	104¼	104¾	107⅝
Am Car&Fdy	95	94½	95	95¾
Am Cyan B	31¼	31	31¼	31¼
Am Home Pr	25¾	25¼	25¾	25¾
Am Ice	44¼	44	44¼	44¼
Am Linseed	115	115	115	115
Am Metal	52¾	50½	52	50½
Am Pow & L	34	33¾	33¾	34
Am Republics	23¾	23⅜	23⅜	23⅜
Am Safety R	25	23⅝	24⅛	23
Am Smelting	252¾	251¾	252¾	253⅜
Am Steel Fdy	59¾	59	59¼	59¼
Am Sumatra	79	79	79	74¼
Am Tob & Tel	182½	182½	182½	182½
Am Woolen	19	18½	19	18⅝
Am Wool pf	47	45¾	47	45
Am Zinc	39¾	39¾	40	39
Am Zinc pf	95¾	94	94	94
Anaconda	49¾	49¼	49¾	49¾
Armour Ill A	20¾	20	20¾	21
Armour Ill B	19¾	19½	19½	19¾
Atlantic Gulf	45¾	45	45¾	46
Atch T & S F	193¾	192¾	193¾	193¾
Atl G & W Id pf	57	57	57	57
Atl Refining	75¾	74¾	75¾	74¾
Balt & Ohio	115	114¾	115	115¼
Barnsdall C A	33¾	32	33¾	33¾
Beacon Oil	18¾	18¾	18¾	18¾
Belding Hem	14	13	14	14
Beth Steel	65¼	65¼	65¾	65¾
Briggs Mfg	45¾	45¼	45¾	45¾
Bklyn Man Ry	73	72¾	73	73
Bklyn Un Gas	85¾	85¼	85¾	85¾
Bklyn Edison	165¾	165	165¾	165¾
Bon Ami	75	75	75	75
Bon Ami A	167	167	167	167
Bush Term	55	53	53	53
Butte Copper	9	8¾	9	8¾
Butte & Sup	21¾	20¾	21¾	20¾
Bucyrus E	36¾	36¼	36¾	37
Buey E cv pf	46¾	46¼	46¾	46¾
Byers	104¾	104¼	104¾	104¾
Calif Packg	80	79	79¾	80
Cal Arizona	112¼	111¼	111¾	111¾
Calumet & Ar	70¾	70¼	70¾	70¾
Can Dry G Ale	81	81	81	81
Case Threshg	108	107	107	107
Cer de Pasco	100½	100½	100½	100
Cert-Teed Prod	45¾	43¾	43¾	44¼
Chea Corp	64¾	63¾	64¼	64¾
Chi & R Id pf	67
Chi Or West	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾
Chi Pneu Tr	67¾	67¼	67¾	67¾
Chi M & St P	26¾	26¼	26¾	26¾
Chi M&St P pf	53	53	53	52
Chi R I & Pac	125¾	125¼	125¾	125¾
Chile Copper	54¾	54	54¾	55⅝
Chrysler	106½	105¼	106½	106¾
City Stores	8	8	8	8
Coca Cola	171	171	171	171½
Collins & Ax	61¾	61¾	61¾	61¾
Colo Fuel & I	50	49¾	50	50
Colum Carbon	99	99	99	99
Col Gas & E	129¾	129¼	129¾	129¾
Comm Solvents	27¾	27¼	27¾	27¾
Congoleum	27¾	26¾	27¼	26¾
Consol Cigar	91¾	91¼	91¾	91¾
Consol Dairy	25¾	25¼	25¾	25¾
Consol Oil	27¾	27¼	27¾	27¾
Containers A	25	25	25	25
Containers B	12¾	12¾	12¾	12¾
Cont Can	73¾	73¼	73¾	73¾
Cont Baby B	57¾	57¼	57¾	57¾
Cont Can pf	119¾	119¼	119¾	119¾
Cont Motors	17¾	17¾	18	17¾
Corn Prod	87	86¾	87¾	86¾
Coty	29¾	29¼	29¾	29¾
Crex Carpet pf	18	18	18	18
Curtiss Aero	160¾	158	158¾	159¾
Dodge Bros A	21¾	21¾	21¾	21¾
Dom Edison	216½	216½	216½	217½
Devoe & Ray	37¾	37¾	37¾	38¼
Dunhill	60¾	60¼	60¾	60¾
Dupont & R	393	393	393	393
Eaton Axle	39¾	39¼	39¾	39¾
Elec Bond & Sh	107¾	106¾	107¾	106
Elec P & L	37¾	37¾	37¾	37¾
Elec Pow & Lt	87¾	87¼	87¾	87¾
Eng Pub Serv	42¾	42¾	42¾	42¾
Erie R R	58	58	58	57¾
Erie 1st pf	47¾	47¾	47¾	47¾
Fed Mot Typ	19¾	19¼	19¾	19
Fisk Rubber	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾
Fleischmann	74¾	74¼	74¾	74¾
Fox Film	104¾	103¾	102¼	104
Freeport	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾
Gabriel Snub	27¾	27¼	27¾	27¾
Gardner	13¾	12¾	12¾	13
Gen Am Tank	53¾	53¼	53¾	53¾
Gen Asphalt	76	76	76	76¾
Gen Cigar	63¾	63	63	63¾
Gen Electric	162¾	161¾	162¾	162¾
Gen Motors	209	207	207¾	207¾
Gilbert R	110½	107¾	110	107¾
Gimbel Bros	47¾	47	47¾	47
Glidden	26	26	26	25¾
Gold Dust	107¾	107	107¾	107
Goodyear	87¾	87¼	87¾	87¾
Graham Paige	34¾	33¾	34¾	34¾
Granby	64½	64½	64½	64¾
Gt West Sug	64¾	64¼	64¾	64¾
Greene Can	122¾	122¾	122¾	121¾
Grand Union	36¾	36¾	36¾	36
Greenfield T	62¾	62¾	62¾	62¾
Hershey pf	78¾	78¾	78¾	78¾
Household Pr	85¾	83	85¾	83¾
Houston Oil	142	140	142	140
Howe Sound	63¾	62¾	62¾	63¾
Hudson Motor	82	80¾	82	81¾
Hupp Motor	23	23	23	23
Hudson Bay	73	73	73	73
Ill Central	134	134	134	134
Independ Oil	23¾	23¼	23¾	23¾
Indian Refg	33¾	33¼	33¾	33¾
Inspiration Co	29	29	29¾	29¾
Intern Cem	57¾	57¼	57¾	57¾
Intern Harv	125¾	125	125¾	125¾
Intern Nickel	125¾	125¼	125¾	125¾
Intern Paper	59¾	59¼	59¾	59¾
Intern T & T	87¾	87¼	87¾	87¾
Johns Man	147¾	146½	147¾	146¾
Kan City & So	63½	63	63¼	62¾
Kayser Jul	68	68	68	68¾
Kelly Alice	28	28	28	28¼
Kelvinator	125¾	124¾	125¾	125¾
Kennecott	47¾	47¼	47¾	47¾
Kraft Cheese	66¾	66¾	66¾	66¾
Kroger G & B	124¾	120¾	124¾	120¾
Lee Rubber	31¾	31¼	31¾	31¾
Lehigh Valley	100¾	100¾	100¾	100
Lehn & Fink	57¾	56¾	57¾	57¾
Kelsey Hayes	38¾	38¼	38¾	38¾
Kolster Radio	72¾	71¾	71¾	72
Liggett Ser B	92	92	92	92
Liquid Carb	82¾	82	82¾	80¾
Loews Inc	61¾	60¾	61¾	62
Lofts Inc	81¾	81¼	81¾	81¾
Loew's Wfco	81¾	81¼	81¾	81¾
Lowlland&Co	29¾	29¾	29¾	30
Mack Trucks	142¾	142¼	142¾	143¼
Mack Trucks	94¾	94	94¾	94¾
Madison Sq G	23	23	23	22¾
Mallinson	142¾	141¾	142¾	143¼
Magma Copp	61¾	61	61¾	60¾
Mallinson HR	26	24¾	26	24¾
Man E 810 pf	29	28¾	28¾	28¾
Marland Oil	4	3¾	4	4
McKeesport	71	71	71	71
Mathieson Al	141¾	141¼	141¾	141¾
May Dept Str	86¾	86¾	86¾	85
Maytag	23¾	23¼	23¾	24¾
Mengel Co	39¾	39	39	38¾
Mex Seabd Oil	20	20	20	20¾
Miami Copper	23	23	23	23
Mid Cont Pet	35¼	34¾	35¼	35¼
Middle Sts Oil	5¾	5¾	5¾	5¾
Mo Kan & T	42	41¾	42	41¾
Mo Pacific	74¼	73¾	73¾	73¾
Mo Pacific pf	121	120¾	120¾	120¾
Mohawk Corp	42¾	42¼	42¾	42¾
Montgy Ward	246	244	246	247¾

Sept. 19 Sept. 18

	High	Low	Latest	Close
Motor Wheel	46¾	46¼	46¾	46¾
Murray Body	72	70	72	70
Nash Motors	94¾	93¾	94¾	93
Nat Cash Reg	91¾	90¾	91¾	90¾
Nat Dairy Pr	102	102	102	102
Nat Distil	40¾	40¼	40¾	40
Nat Enam&Stg	45¾	45¼	45¾	45¾
Nat P&L	26¾	26¼	26¾	26¼
New Cen Coal	27¾	27¼	27¾	27¾
NY Air Brake	45¾	45¼	45¾	45
New Haven	65¾	65	65¾	65
NY Ont&W	28	27¾	28	28¾
Norfolk & W	182½	182½	182½	182½
North Am	74¾	74¼	74¾	74¾
Nor Pac	83¾	83¼	83¾	83¾
Otis Steel	21¾	20¾	21¾	20¾
Pac Gas & El	53¾	53¼	53¾	53¾
Packard Mot	26¾	25¾	26¾	25¾
Pan-Am Pet	45¾	45¼	45¾	45¾
Pan-Am Pet B	46¾	46¼	46¾	45¾
Panhdle P&R	15	15	15	15
Pac Fis Lasky	139	139	139	135¾
Pac Coast	39	29¼	39	28¼
Pac Oil	48¾	48¼	48¾	48¾
Park Utah	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾
Penick S	25	25	25	25
Patino Mines	26¾	25	26	26
Peerless Motor	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾
Penick & Ford	35	34¾	35	35¼
Penn RR	44¾	44¼	44¾	44¾
Phila & R Co	32¾	32	32¾	31¾
Phillip Morris	129¾	129¼	129¾	129¾
Phoenix Hosy	25¼	25¼	25¼	25¼
Pierce Arrow	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾
Penn Pwr&Lt	83¾	83¼	83¾	83¾
Pillsbury Fl	45¾	45¼	45¾	45¾
Port R Tob B	24	24	24	24½
Pressed Steel	24¾	24¼	24¾	24¾
Pub Serv NJ	66¾	66¼	66¾	66¾
Pullman Inc	86¾	85¾	86¾	86¾
Purity Bak	31¾	31¼	31¾	31¾
Radio Corp	210	206¾	210	207¾
Reed Roll Co	26	26	26	26¾
Remington R	28¾	27¾	28¾	28¾
Rep Motor	24¾	24	24¾	23¾
Rep Iron & S	85¾	84¾	85¾	84¾
Rep Iron & S pf	144	144	144	144
Richfield Oil	50¾	50	50¾	49¾
Rit Conl Coal	47¾	47¼	47¾	47¾
St L & S F	117	117	117	117
St L & S F pf	117	117	117	117
Savage Arms	42¾	42¼	42¾	42¾
Shattuck Arms	43¾	43¼	43¾	43¾
Shattuck F G	123¾	121	123¾	123¾
Simmons Bed	66¾	66¼	66¾	66¾
Simmons Co	67¾	67¼	67¾	67¾
Sinclair Oil	29¾	29¼	29¾	29
Sinclair Cons	23¾	23¼	23¾	23¾
So Dairy B	43¾	43¼	43¾	43¾
Southern Pac	125¾	125¼	125¾	125¾
So Pac Seag	43¾	42¾	43¾	42¾
Spicer Mfg	42¾	42¼	42¾	43
Stl Gas & El	73¾	72¾	73¾	73¾
Standard Oil	55¾	55¼	55¾	55¾
Std Oil N J	55¾	55¼	55¾	55¾
Std Oil N Y	35¾	35¼	35¾	36
Stewart-W Sp	105¾	105	105¾	105
Studebaker	31¾	31¼	31¾	31¾
Sun Oil	55	55	55	55
Superior Oil	6¾	6¾	6¾	6¾
Superior Stl	17¾	17¼	17¾	17¾
Tex Co	70¾	70¼	70¾	70¾
Tex Gulf Sul	73¾	73¼	73¾	73¾
Tex & P C&O	124¾	123¾	124¾	124¾
Tex Pac L Tr	24¾	23¾	24¾	24
Third Nat'l	54¾	54¼	54¾	54¾
Timken R B	129	128	129	128¾
Tobac Prod	106½	106¼	106½	106¼
Tob Prod A	119¾	119¼	119¾	119¾
Transcontl Oil	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾
Underwd E F	69½	69¼	69½	69¾
Union Bag	70¾	70¼	70¾	70¾
Union Pac	196½	196¼	196½	196¾
Union Tk	112	112	112	112
Un Chem Stk	49¾	49¼	49¾	49¾
Un Fruit	135¼	135¼	135¼	134¾
Univ L Tob	77¾	77¼	77¾	77¾
Un Pac pf	84¾	84¼	84¾	84¾
U S Leather	42¾	42¼	42¾	42¾
U S Rubber	39¾	39¼	39¾	39¾
U S Sm & Ref	54¾	53	54¾	53¾
U S Steel	167¾	167¼	167¾	167¾
U S Steel pf	142½	142½	142½	142½
Utilities P & L	40¾	40¼	40¾	40¾
Vadsco Sales	34¾	34¼	34¾	34¾
Vic Talk Mch	109¾	109	109¾	109¾
Wabash	20¾	19¾	20¾	19¾
Ward Bak B	19¾	19¼	19¾	19¾
Warner Pic A	169¾	167¾	169¾	167¾
Warner Quin	24¾	23¾	23¾	24¾
Wesson Oil	39¾	39¼	39¾	40
Western Md	67¾	67¼	67¾	67¾
Westghse El	116¾	116¼	116¾	116¾
White Motor	38¾	38¼	38¾	38¾
White Rock	31¾	31¼	31¾	31¾
Willys-Over	26	26	26	25¾
Wilson & Co	13¾	13¼	13¾	13¾
Wilson & Co A	36¾	36¼	36¾	36¾
Woolworth	193¾	192¾	193¾	193¾
Wright Aero	132	132	132	132¾
Wrigley Wm	75¾	75¼	75¾	75¾
Yellow Truck	41¾	40¾	41¾	41½

*Ex-dividend.

MARION STEAM SHOVEL DIVIDEND INCREASED

Marion Steam Shovel Co. declared quarterly dividend of 75 cents on its increased outstanding 450,000 shares, raising it on $3 annual basis. Regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 was declared on preferred. Both dividends are payable October 1 to stock of record September 29. August 15, a stock dividend of 100 per cent on the common was paid. The new dividend basis of $3 annually is equivalent to $6 on the old common stock prior to stock dividend.

Wall Street Gossip

CALL money renewed at 7 percent.

NEWTON Steel Co. declared quarterly dividend of 75 cents on the common, placing stock on $3 annual basis. Three months ago, annual rate was increased to $2.50 from $2.

GENERAL Motors Corp. has increased holdings of Yellow Truck & Coach Manufacturing by more than 100,000 shares of preferred stock, now owning 1,000,000 shares of outstanding $15,000,000.

AMERICAN Metals set a new high today.

CUTLER and Freeport each added over $5 a share in the first half hour.

NEWMONT'S unrealized profits on Kennecott Copper must run close to $20 a share on the 470,000 shares.

THERE has been buying of U. S. Industrial Alcohol on belief that this is going to be one of its best years. Earnings now run close to $11 on $13 a share on common.

GROUP working in U. S. Cast Iron Pipe advanced 4 points to 124 at the 200-level as a prelude to a dividend increase.

FRESH ammunition was found for rumors that American Can desired to secure the minority interest in Canco.

SOME say it is a thin market, particularly shorts who have had sharp stock pickings.

OUTPUT of steel in 1928 may establish a new record. Perhaps another evidence of "false prosperity," we heard about earlier in the year.

THEY call it quiet liquidation of certain stocks. But who ever knew a time when any great amount of noise was made by the big ones getting out.

1928 A YEAR OF INNOVATIONS IN FINANCE

By FRANK H. MELOON, Financial Editor

This year has seen many innovations in the financial world. The first was the action of General Motors in offering to buy, slightly above the then current market, any or all of the preferred stock of its new bus-making subsidiary. This was coincident with decision to omit dividend. Such more than fair treatment to stockholders surprised much of Wall Street.

* * *

Henry Ford had previously shone as one outstanding example of square dealing with stockholders of an acquired company. Now we have another case, Sebastian S. Kresge, president of Kresge Department Stores, Inc., in a letter to preferred stockholders informs them he will purchase all shares of preferred stock at $25 pro-rata basis, Dividends were passed July 1, 1927, and payments have not been resumed since. The preferred stock has sold as low as $45 a share since then and at $74 when this announcement came.

S. S. Kresge

Col. Chas Hayden

* * *

Mr. Kresge says: "In spite of the volume of business done in the New York store, the business has been operated at a loss. The management there advised me that it will undoubtedly be several years before profits will be sufficient to justify in good business practice, the resumption of dividends on the preferred stock."

* * *

Boston financiers offer another departure from the usual. Mesabi Iron Co. sold at $4 on the New York Curb when Col. Chas Hayden was made yesterday that directors had called for redemption on March of record September 27 right to subscribe to their pro rata share of 1,000,000 shares of common stock at $2 per share in ratio of one additional share for each four shares owned. The company has 4,000,000 shares of common stock of no par value authorized, of which 286,267 shares are outstanding, leaving 213,733 unissued.

* * *

Charles Hayden and D. C. Jackling have agreed without compensation of any kind to take all of the stock not subscribed on rights and paid for by the stockholders, Mesabi was largely floated in Boston.

* * *

President Lewis B. Peavey of the Babson Statistical Organization declares "the investor in this present period must make more intensive research than ever before. Neglected bond opportunities will thus be uncovered, and in the stock field research will still show certain groups, and individual issues in these groups, which will prove very profitable from the standpoint of growth and company expansion. A stock must, however, be selected with reference to the line of business, export orders, efficiency of operation, and marketing ability. Moreover, the man that will make the money in the next two or three years is the man who can keep his funds in liquid form, awaiting the time when they can be put to better-extended in this era is financial suicide."

* * *

Local holders of oil securities are wondering what some financial writers mean when they speak of "crude oil slower" prevailing gasoline prices. The fact is that prices for the standard gasolines in this territory have not been changed for many weeks, and a very big business, probably around a record, is being done at the filling stations.

* * *

Wayne Pump Company is negotiating for acquisition of two mid-Western manufacturers of gasoline filling stations' equipment to take care of record demand for this business. Wayne Company is largest manufacturer of self-measuring gasoline pumps and also makes kerosene dispensing tanks and air pressure pumps for the garages and filling stations.

* * *

At the annual meeting of Boston Railroad Holding Co., Frederic C. Dumaine was elected to the board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles F. Choate, Jr. Mr. Dumaine has been serving since last spring. Other directors were re-elected and the same officers were reappointed.

* * *

Dr. Osler started a good deal he probably did not intend to start when he asserted men should be reckoned in a man's qualifications for work after the fiftieth year. Now, in his day, when the Machine Age was less well advanced than at present, there may have been a better basis for the Osler idea.

* * *

When the contests for the presidential nominations were in full swing last June, the ages of the various candidates were discussed, but it is doubtful if they were any great factor in effecting the choices made. Herbert Hoover, aged 54, was, however, the youngest of all the Republican aspirants, and that by five years. He is two years younger than President Coolidge. Al Smith, aged 55, was one of the three youngest Democratic aspirants. The Senator Walsh who retired from the race is 63.

* * *

Of course office Mr. Hoover or Mr. Smith will be elected to head the greatest business of all. i. e., managing affairs of the American people. Both are considerably past the Osler age.

* * *

Former Secretary of State Hughes blasted hopes of his admirers when he declared he was "too old." But Mr. Hughes is being specially developed industrially and which will soon be presented on the New York Stock Exchange. Houston, just announced house-land, former delegate from Hawaii, declares a New Republic will be created in Connecticut, born in Honolulu, really well represents the islands at Washington.

* * *

Benjamin A. McArthur has been elected assistant trust officer of the National Shawmut Bank. He has been connected for a number of years with a large banking institution and has had wide experience in all phases of trust and agency accounts.

INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PRICES TAKE A JUMP

Prices of alcohol are up about 25 per cent from the first of the year. This, coupled with the fact that production costs have been reduced, is responsible for the outlook for the company is particularly favorable. There is continued talk of a merger with another important concern.

State Street Notes

BROOKLINE Trust Company declared regular quarterly dividend of $1 and extra dividend of $1 a share, payable October 1.

CONCORD, N. H., will receive bids until September 27 for $100,000 4½ per cent school bonds, dated September 1 and maturing 1929 to 1948.

DIRECTORS of Republic Fire Insurance Company voted to increase capital from $200,000 to $1,000,000. Stockholders of record September 15 will have the right to subscribe at $30 for one new share, for every three shares held.

CONSOLIDATED Dairy Products is expected to announce shortly acquisition of three additional ice cream companies.

RUMOR says United Cigar Stores Company, which owns 30 per cent block of Consolidated, has recently increased its holdings.

New York Curb

New York, Sept. 19—Prices in the curb market today were lower. Warrington Co. sold down ¾ at 59¾; Electric Investors was down ⅝ at 21⅛; Gold Seal Electric down ¼ at 3⅛ and Fox Theaters down ⅜ at 28⅜. Continental Oil was unchanged at 17⅛.

Buys Tubize Silk

Advices from Brussels say the Societe Generale Belgique and Mutuelle Solvay group has purchased 50 per cent, of the International Holding Co.'s interest in Tubize Artificial Silk Co.

BOSTON RADIO AMERICAN

FRED TOYE — VOICING THE GREAT AMERICAN DEMOCRACY OF THE AIR — EDITOR

Tonight's Local Radio Programs

461 M.—WNAC

6:00—Colonial Restaur

American Sports

No Rest for Yankees Says Hornsby

DEAR LOU—There's going to be very little rest for your ball club before you hop into the World Series. If you do that little thing. You certainly crowned the Philadelphia Athletics when you had a shot at them. But now that they are away from your gang they have their confidence back.

It will be a good thing for your club if you have to fight down to the last day and then go against the National League champions. You will be ready then. Huggins and the rest of you know now how tough it is to get out of a slump once you slip in.

That Yankee slump was one of the most famous in history. But the reaction should make your club better than ever once it really sets in. I know you're all hoping it doesn't hang off too long.

The boys are still having their merry war in the National League. The Cardinals seem to have the break in the schedule. They finish the season on the road, it is true, but they play all the second division clubs. The Giants meanwhile have the great advantage of being at home, but they are taking on the tough ball teams.

THE Cubs have enough pitching to come through, but they have been so bad on the road all year long that they can hardly change their natures at this late date. The club gets into a certain habit or frame of mind it's hard to shake it off.

What a merry time the boys are going to have picking the most suitable player in our league. The close race has stirred up more interest in that pitch than I ever have noticed. Five clubs have been fighting all year long and of course all five have gears and personal favorites. When you take pitchers like Benton, Grimes and Sherdel and a few men like Lindstrom and Bottomly and Traynor you have to do some picking. The old argument of course will come up about the pitchers who work every four or five days and the regulars who are in there each afternoon.

THERE'S no real basis for comparison. It seems to me that it would be a good idea to have one prize for the pitchers and one for the rest of the gang. Then there would be no hard feelings.

Seventh place clubs like ours haven't candidates for the top honor. Though many a kid played better ball through a year than the heroes who get the spotlight because their teams are up there.

Take Lance Richbourg of the Braves. This boy looked like a bust last season. He was just a fair hitter and a poor outfielder, but he has been a real star all the way through in that race. He is one of the best fielders and hitters in the league. And the fastest of them all on the bases.

On a better club another year he should be chasing that prize. I believe he will be on a better club, for the Braves will be glad by '29 if swapping and working can do it.

Yours truly,

Rogers Hornsby

Copyright, 1928, by the Christy Walsh Synd.

Tunney's Second Rule for Success

By GENE TUNNEY

Retired Undefeated World's Heavyweight Champion

IT is a popular misunderstanding that in the world of sport words are used loosely and profanity is the password to success.

The boxing game calls for a man at his best physically, mentally and morally. Profanity is always an evidence of poor breeding and gives clear proof that there is no vital contact between the brain and the tongue.

No high-grade boxer ever would think of throwing his punches wild, for it would give his opponent a very opportunity he was looking for.

Loose speech always is indicative of a disorganized mentality, and a rattling brain always is easily disturbed in the second circle, among the noise of an enthusiastic crowd.

Consequently, in my boxing I have always been careful of the use of my hands, endeavoring to make every punch count, with victory rather than punishment in view.

THE same principle is involved in the use of words. Whatever the boxing game has meant to others, it has been my determination never to slip down to the seeming or prevailing attitude of the profession, but to maintain my own standards, and, if possible, bring my work up instead of letting myself down to a popular conception of a boxer.

My aim has been to be as careful in my use of language as in the disposition of my physical powers, and I have not permitted myself to indulge in profanity of any kind, even in the most excited moments of the ring.

A man to be a success in any avocation of life must, first of all, keep on good terms with himself. This is an impossibility if a man permits his language to run wild.

AT a banquet given to Mr. George L. "Tex" Rickard, a clergyman said to me: "Mr. Tunney, the athlete would be indebted to you for creating a higher tone in boxing circles." Of course, it was a generous statement and deeply appreciated. If I have been able to create the atmosphere referred to by the reverend gentleman it is more gratifying to me than winning the championship of the world.

If I have any advice to give to young Americans it is this: Maintain the highest standards of speech. Words are vehicles of thoughts and if your words sound as if they came from the garbage wagon it is a poor commentary on your thinking power (Copyright, 1928, by King Features Syndicate).

Friday's Subject—"Applause."

G. E. Soccer Plays Fall River Tonight

The General Electric soccer eleven will face the Fall River second team, leaders of the Massachusetts State League, in a league contest on the General Electric Stadium tonight, the kickoff being scheduled for 8 p. m.

The game will be played under the flood lights and should provide a good attraction for the North Shore fans, as both elevens are undefeated.

The young Marksmen have registered 17 goals in their last two contests, and the Lynn eleven will have to be at their best to stave off defeat.

For Other Sports See Pages 12-13

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

EVENING COURSES
Industrial Electricity
Electricity for Power Plant Operators
Electric Wiring (Shop and Code)
Electrical Drafting Surveying
Structures and Building Construction
Industrial Chemistry
Essentials of Pharmacy
Mechanism and Machine Design
Sheet Metal Drafting Ship Design and Calculations
Steam Engines and Boilers
Heating and Ventilating
Architectural Working Drawings
Architectural Office Practice
Estimating
Plumbing Layout
Ornamental Iron Drafting
Preparatory for Lowell Institute School
Special Mathematics and Science
Metallography
Radio
Automobile Engines
Self-Starting and Lighting
Building open day and evening for information and registration
Catalogs on request. Also day trade and technical courses. Classes open October 1
FRANKLIN UNION
FRANKLIN'S GIFT TO BOSTON
Berkeley and Appleton Sts.
BOSTON

LINCOLN INSTITUTE
EXTENSION DEPARTMENT
(CO-EDUCATIONAL)
Practical and Cultural Courses
EVENING SESSIONS
Courses Offered
Public Speaking — Bookkeeping
Surveying — Business Law
Machine Drawing — Domestic Shoe Designing — Architecture
Applied Mathematics — Economics
Blue Print Reading — Elements of Electricity
Estimating — English
Architectural Drawing — French
Biology — Latin
Practical Physics
TERM OPENS OCTOBER 1
Information on Request
Call, Write or Phone
Kenmore 5800
BOSTON Y. M. C. A.
312 Huntington Ave.
BOSTON

Burroughs Adding Machine Company
SCHOOL FOR OPERATORS
A short course at Burroughs School prepares you for good positions, calculating, bank commercial bookkeeping, Moon-Hopkins billing and bookkeeping machines. Enroll now; day or evening. 136 Federal St. Liberty 6264.

A RECREATIONAL COURSE—shorthand, typewriting, etc., day course 4 months; book and stationery, $6. Call or write BRIGGINS COM. SCHOOL, 234 Boylston St.

PERSONALS

INFORMATION WANTED about Minnie A. Schreiber, resident in Roxbury about 12 yrs. ago. Reward. Write 6722, Evening American.

BEAUTY AIDS

PERMANENT WAVE $7
Up or Bob a curl. No kinks or unsightly waves. Frederick's steam ventilated hair ordering, perfect color guaranteed, $5. Frid. & Wilson Sts., Dorch. Opp. Lyric.

Permanent Wave $6
Marcel or Curl effect, given in the scalp. Guaranteed for 9 months.
8 WINTER ST. Lib. 8282

PERMANENT WAVE $6
With Shampoo and water wave. GUARANTEED. Personal attention. 8 Winter St., Room 805. CAPITOL 5451.

ELECTRIC NEEDLE SPECIALIST
HAIR removed. No Pain. No Scars. Physicians' references. Miss Molly Rasnett, 125 Tremont St., Rm. 503. Cap. 5848.

3-WEEK course, complete $50; 30 days $40; with white heart and feet; reward. Mrs. Montgomery, 7 Walnut Ave., Cambridge. Porter 2222.

GREEN pocketbook lost Sat., Sept. 15, containing valuable papers. Return to North Bridge Hill Ave. or Elevated, Park. 1802-W.

MUSE—Saxophone lost Sunday night. Warren St., Allston; finder please return Lulu I. Gerrish Carney, Allston. Reward.

DERMATOLOGY

HAVE YOU A BAD NOSE?
All Facial Irregularities, Wrinkles, Bags Under Eyes, Thin Lips, Ears, Jaw, Defective Nose, Superfluous Hair, Moles and all Blemishes Removed.
Dr. Reid's Face-Lifting operation makes you look many years younger. Consultation Free.
E. P. REID, M. D. 100 Boylston St.
Hours: 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Sats. 9 to 12 M.
Over 30 Years' Experience. Hancock 1580

MEDICAL

X-RAY
Examination, consultation and trial treatment absolutely free, to all who mention this paper. Third. The wonderful power of the X-ray and mercury quartz light treatment is proved by the fact that they are accomplishing wonders in cases of every description. No matter what your disease may be, remember Dr. D. J. Walsh, M. D., will make good the above offer.

CHRONIC APPENDICITIS
Mrs. M. A. Lavoie of 1100 Washington St., Boston, says: "I had chronic appendicitis for eleven years. I had pain in side around heart, headaches and general distress. I read of Dr. Walsh and the great good he was accomplishing with his electrical treatment, and I had him treat me. I am glad of this opportunity to tell those who suffer as I did what Dr. Walsh has done for me that they may profit by my experience."
D. J. WALSH, M. D.
18 Boylston St., Boston. Mass.
Office hours: Mon., Wed., Thurs. and Sat. 10 to 2 & 6-8 and 7 to 9; Tues. and Fri. 10 to 2, 6 to 8 P. M. Closed Sundays and Holidays.

SPECIAL NOTICES

REPOSSESSED FURS $25—$100
Beautiful fur coats to be sold for non-payment. Reg. 1927 Mrs. Hotaling, 2 Dalton St., cor. Blue Hill Ave., near entrance.

INSTRUCTION

Earn-Room, Board, Tools
And commission in "cooperative contracts" learning bookkeeping, 630 Wash. 2nd floor. Liberty 1580.

Hall Barber College
BARBERING—BOBBING
Expert instruction, modern school, success assured. Day-Eve. Classes. Vaughn's Barber School, 1035b Wash. St., Boston (near Dover St. El.). Branches all principal cities in New England.

LOANS. Immediate, any size, 536 Wash. St., Boston. Hill, Granite.

DANCING

SHUBERT SCHOOL
227 TREMONT ST. CAPITOL 2070
Next Door to Majestic Theatre
TANGO, ADAGIO, WALTZ AND APACHE
Modern Dancing Taught IN 5 LESSONS
TAP Dancing
Clog, Comedy, Profit. Pupils Placed in Show Business.

STAGE DANCING Tonite, Sun. 8:00.
PROF. RITTER 230 TREMONT ST. Studio 2, 2nd Floor. Hub. 0654
For Latest Ball Room Dancing See
PROF. WISEMAN 227 Tremont St. Capitol 4819
Exp. Waltz, Argentine, Tango, Apache

5 LESSONS $2
MODEL MISS FAWCETT—HUB 1911
MUSIC BOX SCHOOL—Modern Dancing
117 Huntington Ave. Back Bay 6153
$1.00—PRIVATE LESSONS—$1.00
SOCIALS FREE Back Bay 7236

5 PRIVATE LESSONS $2
5 FLORENCE KELLY
310 BOYLSTON ST. Back Bay 2393

LOOMIS 32 MASS. AVE. COMMONWEALTH 0121
TEN SHOW CLASS LESSONS, $5
Private, Modern or Stage. Any Time

LERNER DANCE STUDIOS
335 MASS. AVE., B. B. 0121
ALL STYLES. REDUCED RATES

SITUATIONS W'TD—FEMALE

WOMAN desires pos. housework; nothing I will give good care, and refs. Hills. 3875.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

BILLIARD parlor for sale; 8 tables, 2 pay tables, 40 lockers at 50c a week; lunch room and soda fountain; rent $100 month. BOSTON—Lodging house, 13 rms.; all mod.; or electricity; terms. 3228 Shawmut ave.

FULLY equipped therapeutic and vapor bath parlor, 9 yr. established trade; profitable 3-rm. apt. connected; owner retiring. California; price low, light, fixed. 2500.

MORTGAGES

MONEY for 1st, 2d and construction mtgs. F. H. Gray, 89 Park St. Hub. 0166.

MONEY TO LOAN AUTOMOBILE
CAR REMAINS IN YOUR POSSESSION
Quick, confidential service. We pay you more and charge less. Your car and your credit are automatically paid.
LOANS
GLOBE DISCOUNT and FINANCE CO.
447 Boylston St. Kenmore 0100

MOTOR LOANS
"YOU USE THE CAR"
Our plan with one-day confidential service, at low rates, enables you to borrow on automobile humane. We desire to make it easy for you to pay. Call, write or phone. Loans refinanced and made smaller. In case of sickness or loss of work payments on notes automatically paid.
Malone Finance Dept. Corp.
502 STATLER BLDG. LIBERTY 7393

MONEY TO EVERYBODY on Autos, Furniture and Notes.
Low rates. Easy terms.
TREMONT FINANCE CO.
32 Hanover St. Rm. 6013

DORCHESTER LOANS
Loans up to $300 to householders. Easy repayment terms. Call or write today. Beneficial Loan Society of Dorchester, 750 Dodge St., Fidelity Bldg., Dorch. Lic. No. 66 Columbia 3-5-7-9.

IF you cannot borrow what you want elsewhere, come to us. We lend
D. E. RANSOM, 1 Salem St., Boston
Est. 1885. Lic. No. 1. Richmond 7100

$50 to $5000 loaned on furniture, autos, pianos, notes or mortgages. Same under $300 licensed by State. No. 126. BOSTON FINANCE CO. 18 Tremont St.

QUICK LOANS
Up to $300 to householders. Easy installments. Call or write. Beneficial Loan Society, 73 Tremont St. Lic. No. 22. Hub 7930.

$300 only; on real estate; no delays; easy terms. Lic. 1. Porter 2642.

LOANS up to $300 to householders; easy repayment terms; only lawful interest charged. Lic. No. 21. Porter 2642. Cambridge Loan Co., 21 Porter Sq.

Somerville Loans Up to $300. Somerville Finance Co. Somerville Branch Park Square Building, Somerville. Lic. No. 20. Somerville 1200.

$50 to $300 to everybody. Legal rates; short time. Call, write or phone. Loans given on first. Hub Finance Co., Rm. 12?, 6?0 Washington St. Hub. 1?0?.

REFRIGERATORS

THE G. E. WHITMAN COMPANY
FLORISTS, GARDENERS, DECORATORS
Sudbury Street, Boston
Haymarket 1?00

JEWELRY—DIAMONDS

CASH for Diamonds, Watches, Gold or Silver. Bankrupt Stock. Liberal Loans. C. LUFTIG, 933 Washington St. Rm. 418. Beach.

TOURS AND TRAVEL

New York $5.00
Leave South Station daily (except Sundays, 4:42 p. m. E. S. T. Motor transfer between Pier 5, North River, and 34th St. and Madison Ave. Tickets at 417 Franklin St. and South or Back Bay Stations.
Tickets at 417 Franklin St. and South or Back Bay Stations.
PROVIDENCE LINE
THE NEW ENGLAND STEAMSHIP COMPANY
BAY STATE LINE NEW YORK $4.00
STATEROOMS $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00
Steel steamships Governor and Tremont leave Providence 6:00 P. M. (Standard Time) daily and Sundays. Tickets and Staterooms at South Station, Back Bay and Consolidated Ticket Offices, Boston.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

GIRL, liker wants a girl companion to go to the West Coast. Write P-27, Evening American.

HELP WANTED—MALE

MEN
Your Fortune Is in Your Hands—Train Them—Study Sign and Show Card Writing—Evening Classes
At the most modern school for sign writing in the East. All new equipment. Practical shop experience. Individual instruction. James H. Ballard, Director. Mr. Ballard and Mr. Caldwell, known as the most capable sign men in the country, have the New England today, comprise the faculty. Graduates guaranteed by the fact men paid $60 a week in this profession. Monday Night Class forming. Diploma awarded. School open for inspection Mon., Wed., Thurs. and Fri. afternoons, evenings of this week from 7 to 9 p. m. Evening classes commence September 24th. Register now. Write or call for catalogue today. KENmore 0315.
New England School of Sign Writing
100 Massachusetts Ave., Boston
Bertram C. Hargreaves, Director

Extension Representatives
A well established nationwide organization of business and professional men of high standing seeks an additional of full-time representatives to cover territory in the New England states. The work is unusually interesting and offers a real field of opportunity, while the compensation is in keeping with the high character of the position. Men who qualify for these positions must be of the highest type, possessing sound judgment, power of ready and fluent expression, ability in meeting the public and a community on an equal plane. Our executives know of this advertisement of this application, write us fully about yourself, stating age and previous experience, giving your address and telephone number. Communications will be treated with strictest confidence. Address Box P-585, Boston Advertiser.

FOREMAN for plating and polishing room; must be capable executive and have had experience on both nickel and chromium plating; excellent opportunity with growing organization. State age, exp. and salary expected. Box P-585, Sunday Advertiser.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

J. S. WATERMAN & SONS, INC.
Established 1849
UNDERTAKERS
Local and Suburban Service

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND BY POLICE
Male, mongrel dog; bunch of keys; pair black and white shell rimmed glasses; Ford steering wheel; 24808, reg. 1026603; child's step ladder; mongrel police dog. Miss Hogan, Hub. 3000.

DOG—Lost, small collie puppy, age 5 mos.; brown, with white breast and feet; reward. Mrs. Montgomery, 7 Walnut Ave., Cambridge. Porter 2222.

GREEN pocketbook lost Sat., Sept. 15, containing valuable papers. Return to North Bridge Hill Ave. or Elevated, Park. 1802-W.

MUSE—Saxophone lost Sunday night. Warren St., Allston; finder please return Lulu I. Gerrish Carney, Allston. Reward.

Extension Representatives
A well established nationwide organization of business and professional men of high standing seeks an additional of full-time representatives to cover territory in the New England states. The work is unusually interesting and offers a real field of opportunity, while the compensation is in keeping with the high character of the position. Men who qualify for these positions must be of the highest type, possessing sound judgment, power of ready and fluent expression, ability in meeting the public and a community on an equal plane. Our executives know of this advertisement of this application, write us fully about yourself, stating age and previous experience, giving your address and telephone number. Communications will be treated with strictest confidence. Address Box P-585, Boston Advertiser.

FOREMAN for plating and polishing room; must be capable executive and have had experience on both nickel and chromium plating; excellent opportunity with growing organization. State age, exp. and salary expected. Box P-585, Sunday Advertiser.

Real Estate

HOUSES FOR SALE

4 ROOM HOME
WEYMOUTH LANDING
$3500
$100 FIRST PAYMENT
Also 5-Room Home $3800
Mod. Imp. Very Easy Terms
$150 Down. All New Plastered Year Round Home.
Linn Realty Service, Inc.
251 Harvard St., Brookline, Mass. Asp. 1911
Kindly send details of your offer
NAME .....
STREET .....
CITY ..... STATE .....

BEST LOTS
At West Roxbury Oaks
High land, gravelly soil. Gas, water and electricity. Close to trolleys and buses. Hallsboro Park, Shadowbrook, Adlons, Caledonian Club. Wooded Park on Charles River.
Rapidly Improving neighborhood.
Prices $200 to $700 lot. Easy terms, discount for cash. Spring St. cars to Caledonian Ave.
Salesmen on land afternoons and evenings. Sunday inspection daily. Tel. Parkway 1500.
J. W. WILBUR CO., Inc.
89 State St. Hub. 6480

WELLESLEY
$5300 — $5800
New 6 room bungalows embodying beautiful lake and mountain outlook; in select, restricted district; 2 minutes to electric cars; 20 minutes to Boston. Attractive terms. Open daily.
This sun new 6 room home embodying beautiful lake and mountain outlook; in select, restricted district; 2 minutes to electric cars; 20 minutes to Boston. Attractive terms. Open daily. Take Wellesley Hills car from Park Square, Boston, to Wellesley Square, then 1 block to Cedar St. Sales Office 15 Cedar St., Wellesley Hills. Tel. Wellesley 1302, or Natick 1313.

2 FINE NEW HOMES
In West Roxbury section of Boston; 6 rooms, tiled bath, hot water heat; price reduced to $7000; all improvements; $600 to $1000 cash; easy terms. Also 7-room bungalow; ready to sell under 2 minutes to cars. Owner, 1 Bonita Avenue.

SAUGUS
Attractive 6-room cottage, sun parlor, glassed-in piazza, breakfast nook, tiled bath, garage; shade all kept in perfect condition; $9,000 ft. land, beautiful shrubs, fruit trees, lawn; 1 block to cars; 20 minutes to Boston; terms. Owner leaving town; must sell.

MUST SACRIFICE
CAMBRIDGE—Third St., $500 down buys 2 family house, 5-5 rooms apartments, tile bathrooms, monthly rentals $90; owner will take back $5000 first mortgage for balance; no payments. This is an investment first mortgage. Tr. Liberty 1857.

BRAINTREE
A BANK SACRIFICE
8-room bungalow; all improvements, fireplace, garage; central location; $4400, small amount down. Call Weymouth 1229-M.

COZY HOME $2650
$50 down, $29 monthly; open plumbing, electric lights, city water, good cellar; 5 min. near Boston Ave., Boston Improved.

READING SEE THIS
Situated to best part of town, strong home; 6 rooms, tiled bath, fireplace, 2-car sunning garage, extra lot; make offer for quick turnover. C. W. Lee, 181 Main St. Reading. 0369.

DEDHAM BARGAIN
Nice 2-family, 5-5 rooms, all impts., pleasant location; 147 Rivervale St.; also walk from Charles River car, along bridge to Dedham Sq. Owner 1?4?-M.

DORCHESTER—MODERN 3 DECKER
75 rooms (each); large lot; land for 2-3 car garage; 2 mins. trains, 4 mins. cars; immediate possession. Price $11,500. Blackstone 2?80-R—Columbia 1?15.

DORCHESTER—Near Columbia Rd., two 2-fam. houses, 6-6 rooms each; $14,000 each. Owner, 412 Sawyer St. Col. 3122.

DORCHESTER—Near Columbia Rd., 2-fam. fireproof; price $15,200; also 2-fam. well built house; price $14,500. Tel. Col. 3122.

QUINCY—$300 down, balance as rent; 6 rms., tiled bath, hot water heat; all conveniences; all modern. Granite 2312-W.

REVERE—6 rms., all modern; corner lot, 75,000 ft. land, orchard, work shop, garage; 2 min. to electric cars. 21 Ash View Ave. or, Proctor; Revere 2064.

BUSINESS PROP. FOR SALE
ROXBURY—Two stores and 3 apartments; excellent business location. Price $11,500 or will exchange for small house. Box P-587, Boston Advertiser. E. M. Morrison, Univ. 2092.

LOTS FOR SALE
RIO VISTA
On the Concord River, Billerica 3 miles from Lowell. Ideal for camping, fishing, hunting; spot among the shade trees. Choice lots, $100 and up; easy terms. Also cottages for sale. Special reduced prices this week. Rio Vista Co., Billerica, tel. Hollis 0?37.

$5 DOWN—Camp Lots—$5 DOWN
Near water; high and dry; high and sightly, in wonderful grove. Pretty cottages, $600 up. $5 monthly. Call H. 498. Boston Auction.

Crystal Lake Camp Sites, $59
$5 DOWN $5 MONTHLY
NO CHILLSWOOD. TEL. LOWELL 7192.

50 by 100 feet lot 12 sold at once. J-46, Evening American.

CAMP to rent; fireplace, well stocked; boat and motor; 2 miles Ayer; $100 season. 2 to 6. Boston Associates' agent 1?0?-M.

$500 FT. LOT IN EVERETT, the gov ne. sold at auction at 85 cents. 2-52, Boston Advertiser.

FARMS AND LAND FOR SALE

EQUIPPED FARMS, business chances; catalog free; Strout Agency, 512-B, barrister, South Bldg., Boston, Mass.

HOUSES FOR RENT

MALDEN—West End, modern 8-room house; fine, furnished or unfurnished; Mal. 3084.

CHELSEA—Modern 7-room house, $70. EM. HOUSE, IMPTS., $25. HAN. 3262.

OFFICES—STORES

ST. RODOLPH ST.—Large store to let, suited any purpose. Janitor on premises. Back Bay 1674.

DOCTOR'S—Prominent corner office, 60?13 Hub. rent. Phone Hubbard 1?15.

REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES

E. HOVEY—second mortgage money, 6% dur. 38 State St., Rm. 612. Hub. 8249
1ST MORTGAGE money waiting. Alex Mortgage Co., 18 Tremont Rm. 315. Hub. 7262

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

100 PIANOS, $25 up. $5 monthly. Brooks 119 Summer St., over Marston's.

ROOMS WITH BOARD

BRAINTREE—"Elmhurst," 254 Elm Rd., sunny chamber, first floor, suitable for business; large, airy rooms; fresh food; home cooking. Call Mrs. L. Chevalier, Braintree 0?1?-M.

CHILDREN to board, open reasonable; best of care; home. Melrose 2?3?.

CHILD—Refined, good care, beautiful surroundings. Co. Nursing 2?93.

WANTED—Child to board, good home in West Roxbury. Parkway 1?13-W.

WANTED—Boys to board, prize reason Wrentham or Norfolk 3?.

ROOMS WITHOUT BOARD

BRIGHTON—Well heated front and rooms, reasonable. Brighton 1?62-M.

HOUSE AVE. Nice, sunny, Y. M. C. A. distance for men, also garage. Hub. 2?29-M.

ROXBURY—Furnished single and double rooms, electric lights, hot water heat. 41 Kenwood Park, or Highland St. High 1?.

ROOMS FOR HOUSEKEEPING

CAMBRIDGE—2 furn. rooms, kit-kenette, all modern, near Bus line. Cal. Porter 1?.

CHARLESTOWN—Sunny 3 rooms, all conveniences, reasonable. Call 1?0 Bunker Hill St.

CHARLESTOWN—Near Sullivan Sq., 2 rooms, kitchenette, all conveniences. Sul. 1?.

COLUMBUS AVE.—2?20, sunny heated kitchenette, sink; reasonable. Back Bay 1?.

DORCHESTER—2 light housekeeping rooms, all conveniences; adults. 1 Talbot Ave.

DORCHESTER—Sunny 3 rooms, kitchenette, sink; gas, heated; reas. B. B. 1?.

ROXBURY—3 furnished rms., light kitchenette, sink; gas, heated; reasonable. 1?0 Dudley St.

SOMERVILLE—Sunny 3 rooms, kitchenette, sink; heat, 22 Regent St., High. 0?00.

SOMERVILLE—Ideal home keep. rms., $?; ref. req. 3?42 Somerville Ave.

SOMERVILLE—2 furnished light housekeeping rooms, all conveniences. 1?0 Cedar St.

WINTHROP—Two rooms, kitchen bedroom and bath, all conveniences, reasonable; business couple, pref. two lovers 2?43-W.

WINTHROP—Sunny 3 rooms, kitchenette, all conveniences; adults only. 1?0 Bowdoin St.

WORCESTER sq., 3?—Well furn. rm. and kitchenette; all conveniences; reasonable.

ROXBURY—Sunny 3 rooms, kitchenette, sink; gas, heated; reasonable. 1?0 Dudley St.

WORCESTER ST., 3?0—2 furn. rooms, kitchenette; all conveniences; reasonable.

WORCESTER ST., 3?0—Furn. suite and kitchenette; all conveniences.

WORCESTER ST., 3?0—Furn. suite and kitchenette; all conveniences.

FURNISHED APARTMENTS

$25—$45—Furn., Unfurn.
3-4-2-3 Rooms, Kitchenette, Bath
Steam heat, hot water, janitor service, 24-hr. service. 84 Bowen St., opp. subway entrance to Dorchester. Has a beauty parlor in the basement. Also 1 room suite for business woman. Dor. 1?00.

Kitchenette Apts., $25-$50
1-2-3 rms., furn., unfurn., hot water, janitor service, elevator. 49 Astor St. Ideal. Back Bay 0?96, open eves.

2-3-ROOM SUITES
KITCHENETTE AND BATH
FINE CONDITION
RENTS $40-$50
Apply Suite 1, 38 Westland Ave.

ELSTON—APARTMENTS
Attractive all modern 3 rooms, bath, refrig., range, hot water heated, janitor service. Rent $?0. Elston Apts., 1?0 Elston St. Beach 1?0?.

ROXBURY $30
5 sunshine corner rooms, tiled, electric refrig., steam heat, janitor. Call 2?42-M.

2 ULTRA MODERN SUITES
Reasonable. Reasonable.
PAUL REVERE APARTMENTS, Tel. Lib. 1?2?.

SOUTH END
Attractive 5 rooms, 2nd apart. 22 Village Sq., Boston, 2?3-J. Liberty 0062.

Beautiful 5-room apartment, all improvements. Inquire 319-321 Hubbard 0?55.

BROOKLINE—128 Summit Ave., 7-rm. apt., hot water heat, refrigerator, unusual finish and fixtures; heated garage if desired. Inquire on premises, 10 to 12 and 2 to 5.

BROOKLINE—1?76 Beacon St., attractive 5-room apartment, all improvements. Apply 9?37.

CAMBRIDGE—One house, 9?4 floor, 6 rooms, bath, all latest impts., $?5. Univ. 1?74-W.

CAMBRIDGE—Apt., Baldwin Sch., 1?8-W.

CHARLESTOWN—3 rms., bath, newly renovated, all impts., $?5. Sul. 3?9 Main.

DORCHESTER—Savin Hill station; upper 5 rooms, bath, all conveniences. Adults. Dorchester 1?52.

DORCHESTER—52 Alexander St., 6 rms., bath, all conveniences; rent $?5. Owner, 1?0 Devonshire St., Room 3?0. Hub. 1?0?.

DORCHESTER—4-5 rms., hot impts. rent $?5 to $?6. Tel. 3?81, 3 Harriet Park.

DORCHESTER—Sunny 5 rooms, all impts., $?5. Adults only. 1?0 Dudley St.

EVERETT—6 rms., all impts., $24. Apply 1?0 Harrison Ave. West 0?.

JAMAICA PLAIN—Centre of Square, new 4 rooms, rents $?1. Jamaica 1?09.

MALDEN—Modern upper 5 rooms, 2 to 3 family, Mr. Bennett, Malden 1?92.

MEDFORD—Modern apt., 6 rooms, bath, all conveniences; $?5. Mystic 1?0?-M.

MEDFORD—Modern upt., 6 rooms, bath, all conveniences; $?5. Mystic 1?0?-M.

NEPONSET—5 sunny rms., recreation hall, all conveniences; $?5. Dorchester 1?.

NEWTON—5 sunny rms., recreation hall, all conveniences; $?5. Dorchester 1?.

ROSLINDALE—Sunny 5 rooms, all impts., rent $?5 per month. N. S. 6?6-M. C. 1?20.

QUINCY—$40, new 4 rms. and bath; rent $?5 month. Granite 2?12-W.

ROXBURY—Apartment to let, 5 rooms, bath, all conveniences; $?5. Jamaica 2?72

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN BOSTON, SEPTEMBER 19, 1928

Suppose These Three Men Worked for You

Would You Discharge Them or Keep Them? That's the Campaign Question

THE question involved in this election is not one of bitter personalities, or political trickery.

It is not a question of wets and drys, of prohibition or nullification.

The campaign issue is clearly defined by W. R. Hearst in a recent article in the Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

"My final reason for believing that a false anti-prohibition issue will not be successful is because there are so many genuine and obvious issues before the public. I think the citizens of our country realize clearly that the real issue, the ever-dominant issue, is the question of their personal wealth and welfare, their material and spiritual benefit.

"Are the people prosperous and happy, or are they not? Has the Republican party exercised its stewardship faithfully and successfully in regard to the great problems which existed after the war, and which still exist in a most serious and even dangerous degree? Is the Republican party better equipped than the Democratic party to handle the important matters of national finances and foreign relations, so vital to the welfare of the nation and the individual citizen?

"The Democratic party got the nation into debt. Is the Republican party properly and promptly getting us out of debt?

"The Democratic party got the nation into foreign complications by violating the patriotic injunctions of Washington. Is the Republican party, with due dignity and definiteness, getting us out of foreign complications and keeping us out?

"Any number of tomtoms can be beaten on false issues until our ears are deafened with the noise of the campaign, but the actual and crucial questions before the country are national finances, international relations and public prosperity.

"If the Republican party has failed in these important matters, so intimately affecting the national and individual welfare, it should be put out of office and another party installed. If it has not failed, why should the American people experiment with another party, especially with the party which got the country into all its troubles? The Tammany Democrats who are so fond of referring to Mr. Smith as another Lincoln should remember that Lincoln said, 'Never swap horses while crossing a stream.'

"WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST."

There, in plain English, is the issue of this campaign. The picture on this page illustrates the issue.

If you had three such men as Hoover, Mellon and Coolidge working for you, whether they were labelled DEMOCRAT or REPUBLICAN, would you discharge them or would you KEEP THEM?

There is no doubt as to what you would do in your own private business. You'd KEEP them.

Mr. Mellon, financial genius, has just completed the payment of two of the four Liberty Loans amounting to more than eight thousand million dollars.

Continued prosperity, with reasonable economy, under such management as Mr. Mellon has given the treasury department, would, in a few years, pay off the remaining two Liberty Loans, amounting to EIGHT BILLIONS OF DOLLARS MORE.

Do you want to DISCONTINUE this kind of service?

Do you intend, in voting, to express disapproval of Mr. Coolidge, who has worked faithfully, enforcing wise economy?

Do you intend to vote against the policies and record of a man that had only to lift his hand to be nominated again, yet refused the nomination out of respect for the third term tradition, although, in his case, THERE WAS NO THIRD TERM INVOLVED.

What good reason has any citizen for voting against the record made by Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Mellon?

Mr. Hoover stands ready to step into Mr. Coolidge's place, to carry on the government as it has been carried on, adding to its other assets his own special knowledge of national requirements, his magnificent record of service in the war, and of efficiency in peace.

Would you vote to take Mellon out of the treasury and put in the WISKINKIE of Tammany Hall, the gentleman that does the Tammany Hall collecting, or a man of that type?

You know that on the Democratic side, unfortunately for the candidates, this is A TAMMANY HALL CAMPAIGN.

Tammany nominated the candidates. Tammany wrote the platform and then REWROTE it, after the convention had adopted it, along lines acceptable to the old order of Tammany saloonkeepers.

The leopard cannot change his spots, and THE TIGER CANNOT CHANGE HIS STRIPES, much as he might like to do so for the purposes of this campaign to make of the White House Tammany national headquarters.

The Democratic party in this campaign is THE TAMMANY TIGER PARTY.

That cannot be disguised.

Tammany rules its men, big and little. After long years of Tammany service they cannot shake off the Tammany tradition, or the Tammany yoke.

There is no prohibition question involved, no other question except the simple issue, as expressed by Mr. Hearst in the quotation you have read, and as shown in this picture.

Do you want to continue efficiency and prosperity?

Do you want to continue HIGH wages that have enabled this country to build and use, as Mr. Hoover points out, 14,000,000 AUTOMOBILES IN THE LAST SEVEN YEARS.

Or do you want to experiment with the Tammany Tiger in the government of the United States?

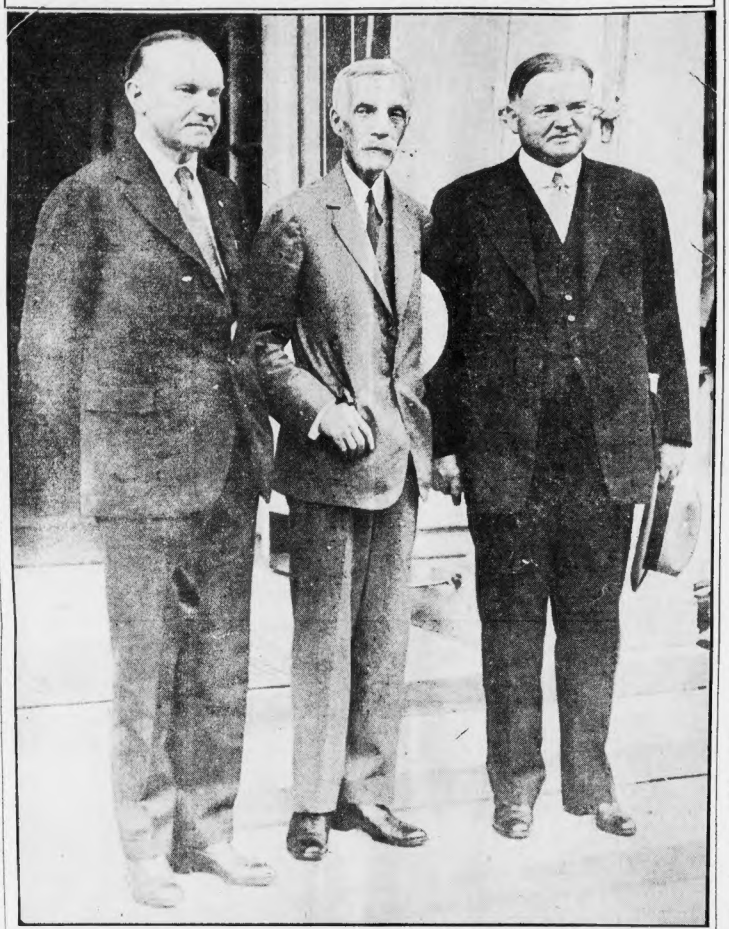
Do you want to put in charge of the national government, of the White House, of Supreme Court appointments, and OF THE TREASURY OF THE UNITED STATES the Tammany crowd, successors of Boss Tweed, Fernando Wood, Richard Croker and Charles Murphy?

DO YOU WANT PROSPERITY OR DO YOU WANT TAMMANY?

Are you willing to have Tammany Hall run the national government?

Will you vote to continue the service of men such as those whose pictures are printed herewith, or will you change and experiment with THE TAMMANY CROWD, successors of Boss Tweed and the gang? That's just the issue.

Three Good Workers—Coolidge, Mellon, Hoover



Copyright Harris & Ewing. From Times Wide World Photos

WHAT IS GREATNESS IN THIS WORLD?

By DR. FRANK CRANE

WHAT is it that gives any man the right to be called great, to occupy the spotlight of public attention, and to call us away from our counter and cabbage patch to note his doings or to get his news?

Is greatness one's right because he is tall? Hardly. Our butcher is tall and the doorman at the department store, and the bouncer at Casey's roadhouse. Alexander the Great was a small man, as indicated in the piece we used to recite at school, which began:

"How big was Alexander, Pa,
That people called him great,
Was he like old Goliath tall,
His spear a hundred weight?"

And as we recall Pa's answer was:

"Oh, no, my son, no taller Than Uncle James or I."

Also Napoleon was a short man, and Secretary Baker, and I'm not such a whopper myself.

Is a gentleman who sits on a throne great?

Well taking them as they run the Kings of history are disappointing. Many of them were runts, and a whole lot of them rascals, whose proper place, instead of palace was in jail.

What makes greatness then? We pursue the inquiry. It is not personal appearance, it is not position, it is not heredity. Is it brains? Not always.

Lots of great brains run to playing chess, or chasing the Greek enclitic, or explaining Socialism, or the Currency.

Is it character, or goodness, or piety, or benevolence, or martyrdom? Some who have excelled have been great, but vast numbers of them have been quite ordinary, not to say loresome.

And speaking of martyrs many of them got what was coming to them.

But—

Is not this the only practical test of a man's greatness—simply to ask: How many could fill his place?

If one President of the United States will not run for election again there are plenty of men to take his place. If any Senator should drop out there are many candidates, probably just as good as he, ready for the position. There are many men both competent and willing to sit on the Supreme Court bench should there be a vacancy.

I do not wish to speak lightly of those in authority, but I say that my acid test shows that they are not very great after all.

But who is there that could have taken the place of Louis Pasteur or Edison?

Therefore, if you would seek for greatness, real greatness, do something that is indispensable, that no one else can do.

In the case of most of us the woods are full of hungry eyes belonging to them who would like to take our place and who could do it.

(Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

The value of architecture depends on two distinct characters; the one, the impression it receives from human power; the other, the image it bears of the natural creation. —Ruskin.

Every person is responsible for all the good within the scope of his abilities, and for no more, and none can tell whose sphere is the largest. —Hamilton.

Neither a borrower nor a lender be
For loan oft loses both itself and friend,
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry. —Shakespeare.

SEEING AMERICA FIRST

By O. O. McINTYRE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19—San Francisco's Chinatown is a perfect pastel of the Orient imprisoned in a western frame—vivid with myriad hues of exotic colorings. New York's Chinatown is vastly interesting but in comparison seems incomplete. Here is the finished product.

Strips of San Francisco's Chinese quarter, they say, could be easily transplanted to Canton and Hongkong and be unnoticed. This afternoon I saw Chinese children marching home from school and they resembled for all the world those dainty roly-poly bisque Chinese dolls even to their bamboo and paper parasols.

The overtone of Chinese has been distinct since gold rush days when they washed, cooked and were playfully hung by the pioneers. They give the city much of its cosmopolitan flair. The spidery streets are aflame with nuances of color—gold leafed pagodas with "devil spike" points, lantern hung porticos and brilliant screens.

Grant ave., sweeping upward, is the main artery. Shops and bazaars are flung along it with dazzling windows revealing porcelains, bronzes, ivories and silks. Pajamas, house robes, kimonos and such are also dazzling and beguiling with their fantastic splashes of every shade.

Jewelers' shops are magnets of attraction. Here the humped over artisans with delicate sensitive fingers work on benches in windows in plain view of passersby, performing miracles of craftsmanship in gold filigree and in jade. Huge bifocal lenses indicate their dimming sight and eventual blindness.

There are no longer subterranean passages honeycombed with exotic opium scented parlors nor do white girls huckster their souls into slavery for poppy dream. Guides are plentiful but one may prowl in perfect safety. Many are San Francisco born and their English is without the slightest accent.

Chinatown telephone girls are Chinese—Dapper types with bobbed hair and a pleasant "All-lightee." On the sidewalks are peripatetic cobblers who drive pegs while you wait, apothecaries with roots and herbs, lily and bird vendors and fish stalls. And a toothless old fellow I followed around offering a huge sum—well, $2—to show me the neatest vanishing coin trick I ever saw. He only cackled.

WHILE the Chinese quarter is more fascinating to visiting firemen, the Mexican, Spanish, Latin and Japanese quarters have their appeal. In the Greek district Greek meets Greek and instead of opening a shoe shine parlor sit at marble topped tables, sip coffee and suck at narghile pipes. And there are also honeyed sweets for those craving the cuisine of Attica, who ever he was.

CHINATOWN has an Occidental briskness. I had scarcely registered until a Mr. Charlie Loo telephoned his welcome and invited me around to see "put not necessarily to buy." It is a Chinese custom not to press a sale but so generous and gracious is their hospitality you always buy. I fell for some sort of a puzzle gadget that kept me as wide eyed as a goldfish until what they laughingly call dawn. And then I flung it out an open window. It was just a Chinese trick and if someone will loan me the use of their hall I'll state publicly no one can work it.

ONE sees withered old sunken-eyed men with parchment-like faces and long grotesque finger nails as well as the snappy young sports with turned down hats, waspish coats, capsuled mustaches and properly looped four-in-hand ties. They shoot their cuffs, slick back their hair and indulge in popular slang of the day. The Chinese girls are just as modern. I called on a man today who has a slim, young Chinese secretary. He said the intricacies of her own chirography made stenography a cinch and she mastered the use of its pots and hooks in two weeks.

Copyright, 1928, by McNaught Synd., Inc.

What Do You Know?

BOSTON'S ORIGINAL KNOWLEDGE TEST

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Fill each blank:

1. Vasco da Gama found the first all-sea route from Portugal to ———.
2. When anything is described as Augean it means it is ———.
3. Litmus is a coloring matter used for testing for ———.
4. Oils are liquid ———.
5. Romans built ——— to bring water to Rome.

Do you know:

6. What name was given to the great paved highway from ancient Rome to Brindisi?
7. What novel by Charles Dickens deals with the French Revolution?
8. What city is the center of Swedish sports?
9. What instrument measures time only when the sun is shining?
10. What is an aquarium?

Match correctly:

11. Edinburgh
Most important city of Southern France.
12. Genoa
Center of Scottish culture.
13. Marseilles
Key to Mediterranean.
14. Gibraltar
Lace-making center.
15. Bruges

A rival of Venice in the Middle Ages.

See tomorrow's paper to verify your results. Answers to yesterday's test:

1. Arachne. 2. "Ivanhoe." 3. North. 4. Vessels with three banks of oars. 5. Spain. 6. Lord Byron. 7. Rhine. 8. Trumpets. 9. Apparel. 10 Wrath 11. Africa. 12. Between Lakes Michigan and Huron. 13. Virginia. 14. River of Scotland. 15. South America.

Copyright 1928, Boston American and Area Features Syndicate, Inc.